WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS, INC., a permanent organization which evolved from Whitewater Championships, Inc., officially opened its doors at the Wisp Resort, McHenry, during a ribbon-cutting ceremony Saturday morning. The purpose of the new organization is to pursue and attract amateur sporting events of all kinds at regional, national, and international levels for Western Maryland. Present for the ribbon-cutting were, pictured left to right above, Thomas B. Finan Jr., board of directors; Gary Yoder, representing the Maryland Department of Natural Resources; J. Glenn Beall Jr. and Garrett County Commissioner Ernie Gregg, board of directors; Helmut M. Heise, owner of Wisp Resort and president of Recreational Industries; District One Senator John Bambacus, president of WCI; Don Stork, executive director; John F. Culp, treasurer, WCI; and Fred Stemple, director of events for WCI.

Shot While Deer Hunting

A Kitzmiller man was injured November 28, the result of an apparent hunting accident, according to reports from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Walter Lee Paugh, 36, was deer hunting in a wooded area near Short Run Road, when he reportedly heard a shot and felt a sting in his left thigh. He allegedly saw no one when the 5 p.m. accident occurred.

Paugh transported himself to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he received treatment for his gunshot wound.

Corporal John Williams, Department of Natural Resources Police, is conducting an investigation.

New Organization Will Pursue Amateur Sports Championships

According to Senator John Bambacus, president of the organization, the organization's mission is to aggressively pursue amateur sporting events at regional, national and international levels to increase the economic and promotional impact from such events in Western Maryland. An outgrowth of the successful efforts of the Whitewater World Championships Committee, the new organization evolved from this ad hoc committee to provide a year-round focus of attention on amateur sporting events as a business proposition, Bambacus said. It will serve as an organized community outreach effort to attract events to the area directly contributing to the vital tourism industry. "The success of the 1989 World Whitewater Championships in Western Maryland and the significant benefits realized therefrom greatly encouraged the Board of Directors of the Whitewater Championships Committee to move forward and create this new organization as a permanent part of the civic landscape for the continued benefit of our area," Bambacus said. "The organization will provide a pre-existing framework for pulling together public, business, and sports communities to develop and support events in Western Maryland."

"This area with its vast natural resources provides a highly suitable environment conducive to adventure sports competition and related recreational activities," Bambacus added.

World Championships, Inc. (WCI) is presently planning to conduct an international whitewater event on the Savage River next year. The event entitled the "Maryland International Canoe/Kayak Classic II" will include the U.S. Whitewater National Championships and a Slalom World Cup series race featuring competitors

Opera Stars To Return For Choral Society Christmas Concert

Robert Mosley

Two internationally known performers will return to Garrett County next week to perform with the Garrett Choral Society in its annual Christmas concert, slated for December 15, 16, and 17 at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland.

Robert Mosley, baritone, and Thomas Young, tenor, will be among the soloists for the concert, which will consist of works by Bach and Handel, plus a variety of more contemporary Christmas pieces.

Mosley, who has appeared with the Garrett Choral Society on numerous occasions and also presented his own concert with the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival this past summer, is described by critics as one of the most gifted and experienced performers on the American stage today. He recently completed two seasons at the Metropolitan Opera in New York, playing the lead role of Porgy in the widely acclaimed production of "Porgy and Bess," conducted by Maestro James Levine.

He has sung with leading U.S. opera companies, including Seattle, San Francisco, Houston, Boston, and the New York City Opera. He has also been a soloist in Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and with the New York Philharmonic orchestras. He has completed many tours of the United States, Canada, and Europe. He recently appeared in roles such as "Dutchman," "Scarpia," and "Wotan."

Mosley is married to the former Rita Shroat, a native of Garrett County.

Thomas Young's career has also spanned a number of performing styles and mediums from opera to oratorio to Broadway and national and international tours. He made his New York City opera debut in dual roles created for him by the composer Anthony Davis. His operatic roles have included ones in "Porgy and Bess," "Faust," and "Ebony."

Young has made Baroque and other standard repertoire concert appearances in major art centers of more than 20 countries, and with such American symphonies as Fort Worth, Denver, Seattle, Oakland, and Los Angeles.

Both Mosley and Young were soloists last year in the Garrett Choral Society's presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

Kathryn Sincell, a native of Garrett County, will be the soprano soloist for the concert.

The director of the Garrett Choral Society is Nancy Learey.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at Englander's Pharmacy and by Choral Society members. Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under. The Friday and Saturday concerts will be at 8 p.m. and the Sunday concert will begin at 2 p.m.

Tichnell Case Heard Once More In Calvert Co.

The case of the man convicted of killing a Garrett County sheriff's deputy in 1979 was heard once again this week in Calvert County Circuit Court.

Richard Danny Tichnell was originally convicted of killing David Livengood and Sarge, his K-9 partner, in August, 1979. The case has continued since then through appeals, and Tichnell has been sentenced to death in the gas chamber a total of three times, once by a judge and twice by a jury.

Through another appeal, arguments were heard Tuesday in Calvert County before Prince George's County Circuit Court Judge Arthur M. Ahalt. The case was argued by Tichnell's attorney, Robert E. Morin, and Garrett County State's Attorney James L. Sherbin. The appeal questions whether the form given to the last group of jurors who sentenced Tichnell was constitutional.

The form is used to help jurors weigh the circumstances, which are categorized as aggravating or mitigating. An aggravating circumstance adds to the seriousness of a crime and could increase the penalty, while a mitigating circumstance takes away from the seriousness and could decrease the penalty.

Morin supported his claim by citing a recent Allegany County case in which he contends the sentencing form was unconstitutional. The actual ruling in the case, State of Maryland vs. Ralph Williams

Bambacus And Edwards Slate Public Meetings

Delegate George Edwards and Senator John Bambacus have scheduled several community meetings in Garrett County to get the public's input into the upcoming 1990 General Assembly session. Citizens are welcome to voice their concerns and suggest legislation, according to Mary Lou Stemple, administrative assistant for Delegate Edwards.

All three area meetings are planned for Saturday, December 16.

A meeting will be held at Southern High School at 10 a.m. in Room 112.

Later that day, at Northern High School, the politicians will hold a 1 p.m. meeting in the NHS library.

The Lonaconing City Hall will be the site of the third meeting, which is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. that same day.

Citizens are urged to attend meetings in their areas to discuss issues and concerns that are important to them.

TONI NEEDS SPECIAL GIFT — Santa Claus took time out from his busy schedule to pose with Toni Marie Ogden, a local child who is battling a variety of health problems that has caused great financial hardship for her parents. Toni suffers from apnea and gastroesophageal reflux, which causes her to have episodes of being unable to breathe. She also has Sandifer's syndrome, a condition which causes her to constantly hold her head to one side, plus she has an orthopedic problem with her hips that requires a split. She requires daily physical therapy, medication, and special equipment, such as a home monitor for her breathing, special car seat and stroller. Her parents have appealed to Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion, Oakland, for assistance and so far the Post has raised over $700 for her care. Ron Friend, commander of Post 71 (alias Santa), said that $1,700 is still needed and invites other service organizations, churches, businesses, and individuals to make a donation. Persons may send contributions to Proctor Kildow Post 71, Memorial Drive, Oakland.

Aurora, W. Va., Man Held On $33,100 Bond

An Aurora, W. Va., man is being held in the Garrett County Jail in lieu of over $33,000 bond after being arrested on seven separate warrants this week, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Larry Gay Wilson, 27, has been arrested this week on five warrants and two additional bench warrants, with charges ranging from assault with intent to murder to driving while intoxicated (DWI).

Wilson was arrested on Sunday and charged with three counts of assault with intent to murder, three counts of carrying a deadly weapon, three counts of assault, and one count of DWI. He was also arrested on two bench warrants charging him with failure to appear in District Court to answer separate weapon and DWI charges. Deputy D.M. Stoner served the warrants for Wilson's arrest.

On Monday, Wilson was arrested on two additional warrants charging him with disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace. Deputy C.C. Feller made the arrest.

Wilson is currently being held for $33,100 bond.

Snow Storm Causes Collisions On Route 48, Pedestrian Injured

A blinding snow storm on Big Savage Mountain Sunday evening caused numerous chain-reaction vehicle pile-ups and resulted in the closing of one section of U.S. Route 48. One pedestrian was also injured as he got out of his vehicle following an accident.

According to Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, a five-mile eastbound section of Route 48 was closed from 5:30 to 7:45 p.m. A spokesman said, "It actually closed itself because there was zero visibility up there."

All car and light truck traffic was reportedly detoured to alternate U.S. Route 40 from Finzel to the Route 36 exit east of Frostburg, where it was permitted to re-enter the freeway. Heavy trucks were forced to pull off the road until the highway was re-opened.

Police reported that Duk K. Choi, 49, Fairfax, Va., was struck by an unknown vehicle as he exited his car following a four-car accident. The driver of the vehicle then fled the scene.

Choi was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, by Frostburg Ambulance Service, where a spokesman reported that he was admitted, but has been transferred to another hospital. The spokesman could not confirm which hospital was involved.

According to police reports, Choi was driving a 1985 Chevrolet Astro which struck a 1977 Plymouth Volare driven by Clarence L. Thompson, 32, Fairmont, W. Va.

Thompson's vehicle then struck two other vehicles, a 1982 Chevrolet Celebrity driven by Eric D. Patterson, 27, Mount Airy; and a 1987 Ford Ranger operated by James R. Wilson Sr., 44, Baltimore.

Treated and released from Sacred Heart Hospital following the accident were a passenger

A SPECIAL HOLIDAY CONCERT by the West Virginia University String Quartet will be presented in the rotunda of the Garrett County Courthouse next Thursday, Dec. 14, from 5 to 7 p.m. The quartet, led by cellist Carol Wasson, pictured above, will present classical and traditional Christmas music in a concert that is free of charge to the public. The event is being sponsored by the Oakland law firm of Burnett, Eiswert, and Jones, P.A. in celebration of the holiday season plus the recent completion of the courthouse renovation project. Mrs. Wasson, a teacher of cello and piano at WVU, was a member of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra for 14 years before moving to West Virginia. She holds degrees from the University of Rochester and WVU. During the summer of 1982, she was the principal cellist and cello teacher for the Rome Festival Orchestra in Rome, Italy. She has frequently soloed with various orchestras. The other members of the quartet are Mark Williams, first violin; Hazel Hist, second violin; and Arline Bennett, viola.

"TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY," by Marty Parks, is the name of a Christmas cantata that will be performed by the Grantsville Area Community Choir this Sunday, Dec. 10, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Grantsville. Featured in the performance will be solos by Vivian Diehl, Gloria Bender, Karin Miller, Sue Beachy, and Gerald Beachy. A duet will be presented by Sharon Kamp and Carson Yoder. Clifford Bender will be narrator. The choir is under the direction of Gloria Martin and the pianist is Rae Ann Frazee, assisted by Elianne Fife. The choir is composed of members of various churches in the Grantsville

Drunk, Drugged Driving Awareness Week Proclaimed

Maryland State Police and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration have announced Drunk and Drugged

Driving Awareness Week in Maryland December 10 through 16.

The annual observance, which is timed to coincide with the holiday season, is designed to heighten public awareness about the dangers of drunk and drugged driving. During the last ten years, approximately 250,000 Americans have died in NATIONAL DRUNK AND DRUGGED Driver Awareness Week has been proclaimed by the Garrett County Commissioners as December 10 through 16. Several reasons were listed for the proclamation, including the fact that motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for ages 1 to 47 and the leading cause of death for every age from 5 to 32 in the United States — more than 46,000 deaths in 1988. In addition, speed or alcohol/drug related driver-at-fault factors are reported in over one-third of the total number of fatal crashes reported by police, and in over 42 percent of the fatal accidents where alcohol was identified, speed was also recorded as a driver factor. During this week, organizations are encouraged to develop special programs to focus public attention on the importance of speed compliance in saving lives. Pictured above, seated, left to right, are Commissioners Ernie Gregg, Elwood Groves, and John Braskey. Standing, same order, are Harland Tichnell, chief deputy for the Garrett County Sheriff's Department; First Sgt. H.W. Graham of the Maryland State Police at McHenry; Garrett County Sheriff M. Van Evans; Oakland City Police Chief John K. Sines; and Terry Spear, Governor's Highway Safety Committee coordinator.

"That's about 500 a week, (70 every day), or one every 20 minutes," said William W. Blandford of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly radio public service broadcast, Blandford said the toll of drunk driving crashes has touched many others. "Approximately 500,000 people are injured each year," Blandford stated. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates that two of every five Americans will be involved in an alcohol related, police reported traffic crash in their lifetime. Last year in Maryland, 264 people were killed in alcohol related collisions. Nearly 2,700 people were injured in collisions involving alcohol.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration credits a change in attitudes toward the drunk driver with a reduction in the number of intoxicated drivers killed in traffic crashes.

"We have shown a 22 percent reduction in the number of alcohol fatalities during the last eight years," Blandford stated. National statistics also show an eight-year decline in the proportion of teen drivers who were found to be legally drunk, down from 28 percent in 1982 to 18 percent in 1988.

Maryland State Police will strictly enforce drunk driving laws during the holiday season. The Twelve Dogs of Christmas will patrol the highways with 21 drug dog teams as part of Operation S.N.I.F., Special Narcotics Interdiction Focus. Additionally, every trooper will have access to portable breath testing equipment for use on traffic stops where impaired driving is suspected.

Beginning January 1, 1990, a new law takes effect allowing police officers to immediately confiscate the license of a driver who either refuses to submit to a test or who submits and shows a blood alcohol content of .10 or more. A person whose license is confiscated will be given a temporary license by the police officer, which is valid for a period of 45 days. The violator will have 10 days from the date the license was confiscated to request an administrative hearing on the license suspension.

The Maryland State Police Radio Program is a weekly public service radio broadcast carried on approximately 50 radio stations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. The program is supported by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the Maryland Department of Transportation.

Scouts Collect Seven Tons Of Food For Needy

Over 800 Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts from Potomac Council collected nearly 14,000 pounds of food for the needy in the annual "Scouting for Food" Good Turn project.

The food was collected from residents of Garrett, Allegany, Hampshire, Mineral, Grant and Hardy counties and taken to the Western Maryland Food Bank or local food banks and pantries.

Oakland Pack and Troop 31 Scouts participated in the effort, as did the Elk Garden Elementary School PTA.

Potomac Council is one council of over 400 nationwide that participated for the second straight year in this event. The 1988 total was 60 million pounds with the 1989 objective of 100 million. Results nationally are still being tallied and will be announced by the end of the year.

Potomac Council is a participating agency in the County United Way.

GCC Helping To Provide Toys For Needy Children

Garrett Community College has joined the tri-state effort to provide Christmas toys for needy children in the area. "Toys for Happiness" boxes have been placed at locations throughout the community where citizens may leave a toy of at least $5 in value that will then be given to a child for Christmas.

A special promotion has been planned at Brenda's Body Shop, Oakland, where anyone bringing a toy will be given a pass for a free class. Other locations for dropping off toys are Proudfoot's and Englander's pharmacies in Oakland, Ben Franklin Store in Grantsville, and Garrett Community College in McHenry. At the college, boxes will be placed in the Business Office, the library, and the Continuing Education Center.

Applications for families needing toys will be available at all of the drop-off locations. Deadline for applications and for toys has been extended to December 15. Any service organization donating toys will be recognized when the college organizers of the campaign appear on the Cumberland television channel later in December.

Anyone desiring further information about "Toys for Happiness" in Garrett County should call Ann Wellham at the college, 387-6666.

However, Sherbin argues, "This is a totally different situation. Two completely different cases. One doesn't apply at all to the other." He also said, "The jury was told to weigh the case, and they weighed it." Sherbin contends that both the jury form and the instructions from the judge ensured that all circumstances in the case were considered.

Morin argued once more that the Mills case proved the form to be unconstitutional, citing two cases which he contends were overturned because of the Mills case. He noted that the Court of Appeals has changed the form, claiming that the jury was instructed in an unconstitutional manner because of the use of the form.

Both attorneys encouraged Judge Ahalt to review all the evidence involved in the case. A decision date was not disclosed.

The murder occurred at Davidson's Army and Navy Discount Store in Oakland on January 18, 1979, as Tichnell and an accomplice, Oscar Roberto Recek, were attempting to rob the store. Livengood was reportedly shot seven times, and Sarge was killed with a samurai sword. Recek is presently serving a life sentence for his role in the crimes.

Mills, was that the form did not allow for full consideration of mitigating circumstances.

Morin says that the sentencing form restricted the mitigating circumstances in the case, and was found to be unconstitutional. He noted that the section of the form he questions involved the jury weighing the mitigating circumstances.

Annual Candlelight Service Slated At St. Paul's

The choir of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, under the direction of Carolyn Lambert Wilt, continuing a tradition begun by Mrs. Elizabeth Thayer in 1943, will present its Annual Christmas Candlelight Service on Sunday, December 17, with two performances at 5 and 7:30 p.m. The program will feature a Christmas Cantata, "For Us a Child is Born" (Uns ist ein Kind geboren), by Johann Sebastian Bach. Dr. David W. Sheets, organist at St. Paul's, will be featured and solos will be performed by Dr. Herbert Leighton, bass; Edward Bittinger, tenor; and Mrs. Wilt, contralto. The program will close with the singing of George F. Handel's Hallelujah Chorus, and candlelight procession and carol singing by the congregation.

Robert P. Johnson, pastor, extends an invitation to the public to join with the members of St. Paul's UMC "in this celebration of God's greatest gift to mankind."

Oakland Man Not Guilty Of Assault Charge

An Oakland man was found to be not guilty of an assault charge by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer during Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings last week.

Charles W. Moats, 32, entered a not guilty plea to the charge, which was filed by Barbara A. Uphold, of Deer Park.

Moats' attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

In a separate case, a jury found Chad M. Helfenbein, 18, Stevensville, to be guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The judge fined him $300 and ordered that an alcohol restriction be placed on his license for 12 months. Helfenbein was acquitted of a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign.

The case was originally heard in June of this year, and was appealed. The incident occurred on June 1, 1989, on Route 219 near the Mayhew Inn Road.

Helfenbein was represented by W. Bryan Hall.

In two related cases, Arnold Wilson Miller Jr., 23, Kitzmiller, and Donald Glenn Miller Jr., no age listed, Oakland; each pled guilty to charges of assault and battery, assault, and trespassing. The judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation for each and continued their bail.

Not prosecuted were charges of daylight housebreaking, three counts of assault with intent to murder, assault and battery, and two assault counts.

The charges stemmed from a March 24, 1989, incident on Route 219 south of Oakland involving three other men and

Truck Strikes Garage; Parked Cars Damaged

A Crellin man was charged with a traffic violation by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department following a single car accident that damaged a residential garage and two vehicles that were parked in it.

Roger Lee Smith, 41, was cited with failure to reduce speed for weather conditions after yesterday's 12:45 a.m. accident along Route 39 near Crellin.

According to police reports, Smith was traveling west on Route 39 when he failed to reduce speed on a curve and lost control of his pickup truck, striking a ditch and embankment on the right side of the road. Smith then allegedly crossed the road and hit a guardrail. The driver allegedly crossed the road again, traveled across Mr. and Mrs. James Pendergast's lawn, struck a chain link fence, and then proceeded into the front of their two-car garage.

The garage was made of concrete blocks which were knocked onto two vehicles parked inside the structure.

An estimate of damage has not yet been given.

According to Deputy J.B. Sowers, the investigation is continuing.

in Choi's car, Scott Phelluss, 7, Washington, D.C.; Thompson; and a passenger in Thompson's car, Brian Halpenny, 32, also of Fairmont.

Both Choi and Thompson's vehicles were involved in a second accident about 15 minutes later. The two vehicles were parked on the shoulder of the highway when a white-out caused Jean M. White, 36, Annandale, Va., to run into the rear of Choi's car with her 1986 Oldsmobile Cutlass and push it into Thompson's vehicle.

White was also treated and released from Sacred Heart following the accident.

Also injured in similar vehicle accidents at the same location were Barbara Hartman, Leo Malloy and Nancy Malloy, who were treated and released from Frostburg Community Hospital; and Michael Fogg, and Doris Newell, who were reportedly treated and released from Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Investigating officers at that location included Tfc. L. Rosage, Cpl. G.A. Berkebile, Tfc. J.K. Moore, and Cpl. R.M. LeComte.

One person was injured in a single-vehicle accident last Glendale Road.

Police reported that Amy S. Landau, 16, Pittsburgh, Pa., was driving a 1988 Cherokee Pioneer when she swerved sharply to avoid striking a deer. The vehicle ran off the road and struck an embankment before overturning.

Landau was taken to Garrett

America Selling Out . . .

It was 48 years ago today that United States soil was invaded by Japanese armed forces, which resulted in the destruction of most of our Pacific naval fleet and the death of 3,700 of our sailors at Pearl Harbor. The event served as this nation's rude entry into World War II.

As we ponder today that outrageous attack and honor the American victims, our thoughts turn to another invasion of sorts which is underway right now, and happens to be by the people of the same nation. This time it is a peaceful entry onto U.S. soil, but one that nonetheless causes concern among Americans.

We are referring to the extensive and continuing buy-out of United States properties by Japanese citizens. This activity has been going on for a number of years, but has been accelerating dramatically in just the past year or so. Wealthy Japanese are buying not just a house or piece of acreage here and there; they are buying entire blocks of American houses and thousands of acres at a time. They are also acquiring controlling percentages of stock in what were at one time major United States corporations. Even Rockefeller Center in New York City was recently purchased by a Japanese firm.

Before we go any further, we want to make it clear that the intent of this column today is not to imply any prejudice against the Japanese people whatsoever. Nor do we cast blame for the invasion of Pearl Harbor on the Japanese citizens of today who had nothing to do with that incident. Our intent here is to suggest that it is time for the federal government to take some measures against this selling-out of America, whether it is to the Japanese or any other foreign citizens. It almost seems as if our entire nation is for sale if we are offered the right price. And in most instances, the Japanese have the means and are willing to pay the price.

We realize that there is no easy answer to the problem and we offer no specific suggestions. But somehow, some way, the mass selling of property by Americans to foreigners needs to be regulated, and it seems that our federal elected officials should be responsible for taking such action.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter concerning pages 28 and 29 of Southern High School's 1989 Yearbook. These pages contain photographs of three young students. The caption says, "Don't look under my bed." In the photo are beer cans, items of clothing, shoes, etc., and on page 28 a Bible with unmentionables draped over the sacred word of God.

This was brought to the attention of the congregation of the church I attend by our pastor.

The yearbook was on display for us to view and have firsthand knowledge of this situation.

Our pastor placed a phone call to the Southern High principal. Upon knowledge of this, he took immediate action to reprimand the yearbook advisor, and stated this would not happen again while he was principal.

Another retired pastor in the area, whose attention was called to this incident of Schools about this issue. He wanted to know why this upset this pastor enough to pay the Board of Education a visit. When the pastor informed him what the photos contained, the superintendent's reply was "Some places this would be acceptable. We must live in an area where morals differ, and more or less shrugged this incident off."

Heaven help this country if this is the message our young students are sending back to us, for they are not only the country's future, but that of our nation.

If morals are pictured this low at our high school, it is high time that we who still have morals band together and pray about this.

The message "Don't Drink and Drive" by students against drunk drivers evidently is being ignored by some students if they would allow beer cans to be photographed and placed in their year-book. And morals must really be low to place God's holy word in a photograph with beer cans and unmentionables.

Every day we read in our papers and hear news broadcasts of people being maimed and deaths occurring by intoxicated people plus AIDS and communicable disease brought on by promiscuous sex.

I have a son and daughter. Both are graduates of Southern, and I can honestly say I am so grateful they are not attending school there now. For if this yearbook were brought into my home, these two pages would be removed and burned before they would be allowed to keep it.

Morals were at a low standard then, and with this new revelation are even lower now, if this is possible.

Wake up Parents! Have you viewed this latest edition, responsible teachers, principals and especially our Board of Education?

Heaven help all of us if this is the standard of morals set for the future.

Concerned for our youth, Mary Leighton P.S. Readers, if your concern on the situation is similar to mine, write a letter to your editor. Or contact your elected school board officials.

To the Editor: I, too, am a U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps member, and I, as well as Jody Welch and Danny Cotrell, am very upset about the flag-burning issue. Three generations of my family have been involved in war for freedom and independence. My dad and uncle were both in Vietnam, and so I am very glad to be here today writing this letter. My father could have died before I was born in that God-forsaken political battle in Vietnam.

Yet we have ungrateful Americans walking around our streets burning their draft cards, our flag, and our freedom. To some people freedom may not seem like much, but let me tell you, I am proud to be a citizen of this nation. There is no other country on this planet that can claim it has what America has.

Furthermore, I believe from the bottom of my heart that each and every one of those so-called Americans should go to war and fight for their lives in an unstable political area of this world. Then we will see if they would any longer want to burn their symbol of freedom that has stood for over 200 years. They don't know the first thing about life if all they have to do is burn their only chance at "life,"

I, too, like Jody Welch went to boot camp in Orlando, Fla., this past summer, and I stand up and salute each and every member of the armed forces before, during, and after my time. If it wasn't for these people, we would no longer exist as we do now. If you want to burn the flag, then you best get out of my country, because I love this nation, and you don't deserve to breathe the same air as people who want to be free and make a difference.

Sincerely yours, Heather Lipscomb E-2 U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps SHS

To the Editor:

During the past several months there have been many letters written by proponents of anti abortion and prochoice, but not one of these writers has expressed one single word of concern over the fate of the child who is born unwanted.

On an average, over 5,000 unwanted children are murdered each year. Many are tortured physically and emotionally, are sexually and verbally abused, and are neglected and unloved. Most of these children will carry the scars of these traumatic experiences for the rest of their lives. Our mental hospitals and prisons are full of adults, who as children, were unwanted.

There are now so many children in the foster care system in this country that one serious writer advocated the return of orphanages as a solution to the shortage of suitable foster homes. Far too many unwanted children are so emotionally disturbed they are unable to live normal lives with either adoptive or foster parents. Many require extensive psychiatric services or specialized homes which are just not there because of budget constraints.

The concern of all of us should be the loving care of children who are born to parents who do not want them or who are incapable of providing the love and nurturing which should be the birthright of every child.

Sincerely, Margaret Beadle Accident

To the Editor:

Drunk driving remains the number one killer on our roads, striking with a frequency and ferocity that would be national news if its victims were reported as a total each day. Instead, the victims are listed individually in the obituary columns in cities and towns where the tragedies occur.

Last year, more than 23,000 people died on America's highways in crashes where alcohol was involved. That is about half the total number of traffic fatalities for 1988, and many of these alcohol-related deaths involved young people. These crashes were all preventable, and leave behind not only a legacy of grief and suffering for relatives of victims, but also a significant social price tag which is reflected in the costs of lost productivity, municipal expenses for police and rescue services, increased insurance costs, etc.

The struggle to remove drunken drivers from our nation's roads will be highlighted next week during the national observance of National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week, December 10 through 16. This year's theme is "The Designated Driver. Someone You Can Look Up To." The campaign urges you to be sure a designated driver, someone who is sober and "designated" to do the driving, is always in your party to ensure a safe return home.

It is one thing to promise not to drive after drinking, but another to keep the promise. Sometimes it seems easier to say, "I only had a few drinks" or "I ate so I'll be fine to drive." This rationalization could cost you your license — or worse — your life.

This may be a difficult pledge to take. It isn't easy to stand up to friends who wrongly insist that they can drive home after drinking. And, it isn't easy to admit that you are not in any condition to drive home. But it's a pledge worth the extra effort, and even embarrassment, to keep.

State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department will be especially vigilant this holiday season. If arrested for driving while intoxicated, count on hundreds of dollars in attorney's fees, at least five hundred dollars in fines and court costs, plus a high increase in car insurance — and possibility in some cases, even jail time. It's just not worth it to drink and then drive.

Drunk driving will not go away until every driver pledges not to drink and drive, period. If your holiday plans include alcohol, make sure they also include a designated driver.

Sincerely, Terry Spear Governor's Highway Safety Committee Coordinator

To the Editor:

As a native of Garrett County, now residing in Florida, I feel I must "sound off" about the horrible pictures of killing of deer. I couldn't believe that someone would make an extra effort to kill a white deer; aren't these rare? And the killing by young boys. Don't we have enough violence in U.S., without teaching young people to kill helpless animals, and making heroes out of them, by putting their pictures on the front page of The Republican?

Sincerely, Beatrice Davison Kissimmee, Florida

To the Editor:

For quite sometime there have been rumors that Garrett County tax money has been used for personal use and the rumors are becoming more frequent.

I would like to know. I have many attended the MACO conference in Ocean City, Maryland, August 16 through 20, 1989?

2. At what cost? Why did some stay in suites instead of regular rooms?

3. How many county vehicle's are the county taxpayers supporting?

4. Why are these vehicles driven for personal use including for trips out of the State of Maryland?

5. Why are county vehicles driven by persons who are not employed by the county?

6. What is the annual salary of the county administrator (county clerk)?

7. With unemployment in Garrett County the highest in the state, why do we have county employees who do not live in Garrett County?

8. Knowing the conditions that many of our schools are in, how can we justify so much waste?

Every year you (County Commissioners) tell the public that you have lowered the tax rate (correct statement). But why don't you tell them the truth that you have increased

The Mind Wanders

by Sherry Frantz

It was not so very long ago that Oakland, Maryland could count itself among all the other little depressing-looking towns spread across the Appalachian Mountains. What was once a charmingly sleepy burg began to feel, increasingly, comatose.

Lo and behold, though, Oakland is once again coming into its own. Once patronized largely out of necessity (and begrudgingly), it is now showing signs of awakening, of blossoming, into the arena of quaintness and modest prosperity.

And for that, the formation and creative energy of the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA) deserves most of the credit.

Accolades should go forth, in particular, to GOBA President Jack Jones, and to GOBA's "first lady," Connie Margison (whose familiar presence is seen repeatedly about town in a constant state of flight.) These two forces have been the instrumental ones in Oakland's transformation for quite a few years.

This beautification process demands our attention and appreciation most markedly during this, the Christmas season, when the efforts of all those involved are evidenced right down to the bows on the parking meters — speaking of which, the free-parking policy throughout town during the season is surely appreciated by all patrons.

There is, however, one annoying wart on this lovely face, and that is the blatant actions of one or more sociopathic individuals who decided to vandalize and steal some of the Christmas decorations. (During Autumn Glory, a significant number of bows were also stolen.)

Surely, the pleasure these bows have provided the perpetrators is not at all proportionate with the effort, time, pride, love, and care that went into their making and installation.

How inspiring that there are those good souls among us who selflessly take time from full, productive lives to make our local environment more enjoyable. Not only do natives have more reason to be proud of their town, but tourists are becoming more attracted to it which, of course, generates more business. And the more businesses prosper, the more we prosper.

GOBA is to be supported and applauded for its continued show of heart. I like that in an organization.

P.S. It is not my intention to slight the other towns in and around Garrett County. It's just that my car, of late, has been a lousy travelling companion and I haven't been able to visit the other places. I will say, though, that an out-of-town friend of mine was virtually awe-struck by the beauty of Accident, with all its impeccably decorated homes and the sound of Christmas carols filtering through the snowy night air.

It might fare well to revive one of those holiday traditions that my family honored for years: driving about — somewhat aimlessly — for the pure pleasure of viewing all the different Christmas lights and decorations that towns and individuals have taken pride in creating and displaying.

It's certainly less expensive than a night out at the movies. I like that in a holiday tradition.

the budget each and every year?

Yours truly, R.M. Pattison Native Garrett Countain

To the Editor:

Valerie Van Hollen, NOW member from Cumberland, had a letter to the Editor published in your issue of November 16th. The letter was replete with inaccuracies.

I will proceed by setting forth many of her statements and then providing my reaction to the particular statement.

1) "A woman's decision whether or not to have a baby is one that she must make privately." Once pregnant the mother already has a baby. She owes to the child, the country and God to bring that preborn baby to term. Although the law currently gives the mother the privacy to abort, it will not in the future.

2) "Government funding for childbirth expenses but not for abortion procedures is coercion." Funding for childbirth expenses is to promote human life which is good for the child, the country and God. Funding for abortion procedures would only promote death of preborns who should be allowed to live constructive lives in our society.

3) "Pro-choice does not mean pro-abortion." Pro-choice allows the choice of abortion, the choice to kill for any or no reason. Pro-choice says let a person make whatever decision they want and if the person decides upon abortion that is alright because it is their decision which privacy would protect and we should respect.

4) "Pro-choice advocates respectable women to make educated choices about their reproductive lives." Why then don't pro-choices inform prospective aborters more about the biological facts of life instead of saying such things as that the abortion only involves

OF THE RUTH ENLOW LIBRARY

by Gloria Salazar

There's a pretty special event coming to the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland Branch, this Saturday, December 9, at 2 p.m.

Jim Frost, a resident of both the Baltimore area and Deep Creek Lake, has diligently been working all summer preparing a one-man presentation of Charles Dickens' 'A Christmas Carol. Jim has managed to consolidate his performance into one and a half hours, with a brief intermission for everyone to stretch and enjoy some refreshments. It is exciting to know of a talented storyteller in the Garrett County area, someone who is willing to give of their time for the sheer pleasure of performing!

After a general debate at our last board meeting, it was decided that we would recommend this performance for children in the fourth grade and up. I know that this makes it somewhat difficult to arrange, especially if your children are under this age (as mine is), but we felt it important to make this recommendation before the performance.

So, please plan on attending and sharing in this traditional story of the Christmas season, which is free and is being sponsored by the Friends of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Senior Citizens' Menus

The Area Agency on Aging/Garrett County Community Action Committee announces the Senior Nutrition Program menus for the week of December 11-15 as follows:

December 11 — Apricots, hamburger-potato casserole, stewed tomatoes, pumpernickel bread, and tapioca pudding.

December 12 — Grapes surprise salad, beans and pasta with spaghetti sauce, corn, roll, and apple pie.

December 13 — Apple sauce, porcupine balls, au gratin potatoes, spinach, rye bread, and chocolate or yellow cake.

December 14 — Grape juice, bowl beef stew, tossed salad, toasted cheese on wheat, and apricots.

December 15 — Orange juice, Waldorf salad, creamed chicken and biscuits, broccoli, and raisin bar.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

"Eating Together" sites that operate five days per week will be following the menu as is. Those that operate only two or three days per week have the option of choosing menus within the same week.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Better, Brighter Futures At GCC

by Dr. Steve Herman, President Garrett Community College

The GCC Foundation's "Better, Brighter Futures" telephone campaign has concluded for this year. Approximately one hundred volunteers called households throughout Garrett County. We had hoped to reach every household, but in many instances we were not able to connect. I apologize if our callers were unable to speak personally with you about our campaign. If you haven't been contacted but would like to contribute, please telephone the president's office at 387-6666 to make your pledge.

GCC has three years to raise $125,000. If we can raise this sum, we will receive a matching $125,000 from local corporations including Bausch and Lomb, Betzel Construction, First United National Bank, Garrett National Bank, McDonald's of Oakland, and Mettiki Coal. We will also receive an additional $250,000 from the State of Maryland, bringing the total to $500,000. These monies must be deposited to an Endowment Fund, which means that the principal amount cannot be expended. Only the interest income can be spent each year for scholarships and educational enhancements.

At this writing we have no firm results to report. However, we estimate we will be far short of our goal of $125,000 from the community. Over the next two years we will continue and increase our efforts. We believe we will succeed. Feedback from our callers is encouraging. They tell us that almost everyone we were able to contact listened with interest to our message. For this kindness we are very grateful.

When the final results of this year's efforts are tabulated, I will report them to you. Like GCC our sister colleges across the state are working feverishly to take advantage of Maryland's Endowment Fund program. Each college hopes to raise the maximum amount of matching money allowable from the State. In large, rich communities this task will be easy. Although we are the smallest county by population in Maryland, I would like to think Garrett County will make a good showing. Our corporate donors and many others have already done their part. I hope the rest of the community will rally around the college too. We can send a powerful message to Annapolis. They need to know much Garrett Countians want and support their college.

The tax year will conclude shortly. So this is a good time to consider a gift if you haven't contributed as yet. We are grateful for contributions in any amount. Your expression of support means a great deal to the future of our college.

Former Oakland Mayor Celebrates 90th Birthday; Speaks Of Life

by Sandra Cusack

He is a man so well known in Oakland that mail addressed to him by his nickname and no address other than Oakland, Md., will be received, and he has just celebrated his 90th birthday.

Harvey D. "Hub" Swartzentruber turned 90 on Tuesday, November 28. Hub has lived in Oakland area since he was three years old. He has served two terms as a county commissioner and served as Oakland Mayor for 20 years and was the proprietor of Hub's Harness Shop from 1945 to 1980, when the shop was sold.

The Swartzentrubers recently had friends visiting from California and after the friends left, Hub received a card addressed simply to "Hub, Oakland, Md." from the friends, which is just one sign of how well known is this honest, caring man.

Hub has had his nickname since he was in the third grade. He attended the Swan Meadow School at Gortner. At that time, students only attended school for six months as they had to help their parents with the farm. Hub had to miss the first three weeks as he was needed on his parents' farm and it was his first day in class. There were 64 students attending the school, all taught by one teacher, but only seven students in his third grade class.

The teacher assigned his class some math problems to work in their head, without the use of the slate. After an allotted amount of time, she asked each student for the answers. Harvey was the only one to get the answer right. All the students in his class gathered around to watch him work out the math problem and as the teacher walked over she exclaimed, "Why, Harvey, you look like the hub of a wheel!" Since that time, Harvey has been known as "Hub."

Hub was born in Midland, Virginia. His family moved to a farm in Garrett County when he was three years old. He met his wife, Nellie Grace, in 1923.

He was working at a local sawmill. The owners were going out of town and asked Nellie to stay with the hired girl while they were gone.

At that time, dishes were done in a dishpan and the dishwasher was thrown out afterwards. One evening, Hub was walking around the corner of the house as Nellie was preparing to throw out the dishwasher. As fate would have it, she threw the dishwasher all over Hub.

In spite of this incident, Nellie, Hub, the hired girl and another man working at the sawmill went out for an oyster dinner several evenings later. The hired girl was Hub's date that evening, but after arriving home at the end of the evening, Hub asked Nellie to a movie.

Three years later, the two were married, in 1927, and will celebrate their 63rd anniversary on April 16.

After their marriage, Nellie and Hub lived on a 50 acre farm. Hub's Harness Shop was opened in 1945 and in 1964, Hub ran for County Commissioner. He served one term, skipped a term, and served another term.

After serving the first term, Hub had decided that he was no longer going to run. Several townspeople asked him to run again, so he did. Then he was asked to run for Mayor of Oakland. When he said no, the people asked him again, so finally he agreed, if they would run the campaign.

HUB'S HARNESS SHOP was opened in the 1940's. Hub Swartzentruber, pictured above, ran the shop until 1980. He was a County Commissioner for two terms and served as Mayor of Oakland for 20 years while also running the shop. Hub continued as Mayor for eight years after the shop was sold, finally retiring at age 87 in 1988. He just celebrated his 90th birthday on Tuesday, November 28, and hopes to see his 100th birthday, when he will also see his third century.

Hub was elected Mayor in 1968, and served for the next 20 years. "I bet that I spent less money than any other candidate for Mayor," he said.

As a County Commissioner, Hub and his fellow commissioners built a new school, the Route 40 School near Grantsville; built an addition to Southern High School; built a new county garage (along Rt. 219); built a bridge on Herrington Manor Road; and many miles of new road were laid during his tenure.

As Oakland Mayor, Hub was responsible for the Broadford Dam; brought the Bausch and Lomb factory to Oakland; built the Third Street bridge; and put in Memorial Drive.

One time while he was mayor, Oakland received a bill for $44,000 for the building of a new road. Hub could not see how the bill added up to $44,000 — the way he had figured it, it was only $13,000. He argued with the contractors about the bill and they finally settled on a bill for $14,000. Hub had a reputation for honesty and while there may have been times when people one could dispute the fact that the decisions were arrived at in an honest manner.

"I enjoyed it. There were a lot of discussions. You had to stick up for what you thought was right and if you could get that across... Sometimes that was pretty hard," Hub said of his time in politics.

"In all thy ways, acknowledge Him and He will direct your path" was a favorite

Council Seeks $2 Million To Begin Upgrading Family Planning Services

The Governor's Council on Adolescent Pregnancy is recommending that Governor William Donald Schaefer and the Maryland General Assembly increase funding for family planning services targeting Maryland's teenage population. The $2 million financial request tops a list of recommendations based on information from the Council's first survey of the state's Family Planning Services. The results of the survey were announced at the Council's second hearing on teenage pregnancy prevention.

"With more than half of Maryland's teenage population between the ages of 15 through 19 having sex, and despite existing state prevention and intervention programs, the Council was concerned as to why teenage pregnancy is steadily on the increase," said Bronwyn Mayden, executive director of the Governor's Council on Adolescent Pregnancy. "What we found as a result of the survey, is that family planning services located in the local health departments are not accessible to sexually active adolescents," she said. "And if they are not accessible, they cannot be effective in preventing teenagers from getting pregnant."

Family Planning Services include a variety of health and educational services related to birth control. These services include contraception, counseling, pregnancy information, testing and referral. The services are available to teenagers from organized health service providers, public health departments, hospital out-patient clinics and private physicians.

The Governor's Council on Adolescent Pregnancy surveyed family planning directors whose clinics are located in all of Maryland's 24 local health departments. Survey questions were designed to measure the accessibility of Family Planning Services for teens; the amount of outreach and follow-up to the sexually active teenage population; the type of counseling given to assist adolescents in making responsible decisions about their future; and the sensitivity of the clinical staff in providing services which meet the special needs of teenagers.

The survey found that more than three quarters of Maryland's family planning clinics offer services targeting teens. Thirty-seven percent of the specialized teen clinics operate between six and 20 hours per month; 31 percent are open between 30 and 50 hours per month; and six percent are open 100 hours or more per month. Visits to are schools and information cards were the sole method of outreach of the community. The survey also reports that more than 47 percent of the local health departments offer "NO" walk-in service for teen who want contraceptive services.

pregnancy," Blank said. "It must be part of a comprehensive reproductive health service program for adolescents," he added.

The Council survey recommends to the Governor, the Maryland General Assembly, and the State Departments of Health and Mental Hygiene, that this comprehensive program include education, medical, and counseling services that are free to all adolescents, available in clinics open in the evenings and on weekends in areas close to the homes of or in locations frequent by teenagers.

Postmaster Talks To Students At Kitzmiller School

As part of the observance of the ninth annual National Stamp Collecting Month, Kitzmiller Postmaster Katherine Schenk recently visited Judy Burrell's fourth and fifth grade class at Kitzmiller Elementary School.

Ms. Schenk presented a talk on stamp collecting, using the theme of the month's observance, "Begin an Adventure of Giant Proportions — Collect Stamps." A block of four prehistoric animal stamps was issued to promote the celebration this year.

The postmaster also awarded various prizes to the students, including: a 1988 commemorative mint set to Michael Stalnaker; folk art stamp kits to Kevin Fisher and Stephanie Fisher; a 1989 summer stamp kit to Shawn Durst; and prehistoric animal plate blocks to Heidi Ravenscroft, Brianna Shaffer, Matthew Paugh, Mindy Brady, and Jeremy Rhine.

Because Red Ribbon Week against drug abuse was also being observed at that time, Mrs. Schenk presented the school with a poster and a red ribbon for display.

"A CHRISTMAS CAROL," Charles Dickens' classic tale of Ebenezer Scrooge, will be told in a special fashion at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland this Saturday, Dec. 9, by Jim Frost, a part-time resident of Garrett County who has been active in theatre groups, radio, and television since the mid-1950s. Over the years, Frost has performed leading roles in such diverse productions as "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Night Must Fall," "Don Juan in Hell," and "Henry V." The idea of presenting the Dickens classic was inspired by a family tradition begun some 40 years ago by Frost's grandfather, Frost, who currently is employed as an advertising writer in Baltimore, and his wife, Nancy, have a home at Deep Creek Lake. See Friends of Library column on page A-4 for more information about Saturday's program.

Rams Nipped By Westmar, 49-48, As Buzzer Shot Is Unsuccessful

A missed shot at the buzzer resulted in an opening season loss for the Southern High School boys varsity basketball team and returning coach Tom Bosley Tuesday night, as the Rams were nipped by visiting Westmar (formerly Valley Branch) High School in Oakland, 49-48.

After being behind much of the contest, a jumper by Southern sophomore Brett Rice with 26 seconds remaining gave the Rams a 48-47 advantage. The Wildcats called a timeout with 21 seconds remaining to set up for a winning play. Bo Evans first two shots at the basket missed, but he pulled a third rebound and his third attempt at the basket fell through to give the Wildcats the one-point lead and leave just four seconds on the clock.

The Rams jumped out to a 9-5 lead, but Westmar came back to score 10 unanswered points and assume a 12-9 lead at the end of the first period. The Wildcats stretched held their biggest lead of the game at halftime when they were on top Down 34-27 late in the third period, Southern's Jon Hegeman found the mark from the three-point range and hit two consecutive shots from that distance to cut Westmar's lead to 34-33 by the end of the third stanza.

The Wildcats again built their lead back to seven points in the fourth period, 40-33, before the Rams rallied again behind the shooting of Rice and Hegeman that resulted in the Rams' brief one-point lead in the final minute.

Leading all scorers was Westmar's Jim Linder, who netted 19 points, including 15 in the second half. Evans added 12 points.

Hegeman and Dave Eiswert paced Southern with 11 points each, while Rice finished with 10. All but two of Hegeman's points were scored in the second half.

The Rams will go after their first win next Tuesday in Frostburg against Beal.

The Southern junior varsity, under new coach Jim Bosley (brother of Tom), salvaged half of the evening for Southern fans as they defeated their Westmar counterparts, 50-35, in the preliminary contest.

SGAA

Lakers Edged By Catamounts, But Rebound For Easy Win Over FSU

A basket by Potomac State College's Chuck Rutherford with just three seconds left in overtime halted the six-game undefeated streak of the Garrett Community College Lakers Saturday night in Keyser, W. Va., as the Lakers were edged by the Catamounts, 92-91.

Coach Dennis Gibson's team came right back last night, however, to whip the Frostburg State University junior varsity team, 96-76, at McHenry and improve their record to 7-1. They will travel to Cumberland this weekend to compete in the Louis Spoel Memorial Tournament at Allegany Community College.

After being down by four points, 48-44, at halftime against Potomac State, the Lakers came alive in the second half and went ahead by as many as 10 points. But the Catamounts, who also came into the contest undefeated, battled back to tie the score at 83-83 on a bucket by Tony Cooks with just one second left in regulation time.

The two teams traded buckets throughout the overtime period until Rutherford, who finished with 15 points, grabbed an offensive rebound and drove in for his winning bucket at the three-second mark.

Chuck Moore, who came in to the contest with a 27 ppg average for the Lakers, led all scorers with 29 points and also pulled down a game-high 15 rebounds. Bruce Boldley reached his average by netting 20 points and also had 11 assists, while Shane Scott finished with 13 points and Travis Bohrer added 11. Chris Greene was credited with five steals.

Other Catamounts reaching double figures were Scott Riggelman, who led with 26 points, Brian Martin with 20 and Evan Saunders with 13. Martin also provided 10 assists and three steals.

The Lakers were never threatened Wednesday night against the visiting FSU jayvees, as they moved out to a 13-6 lead in the first five minutes and held a commanding 51-29 advantage at halftime after being ahead by as many as 27 points in the first half.

Greene, who finished with 19 points, paced the Lakers in the early going as he netted nine of the Lakers' first 10 points.

Garrett out-rebounded the jayvee Bobcats, 49-43, and recorded a team total of 32 assists, with Boldley getting credit for 11 of them and Scott with eight.

Moore also had six steals and Young blocked three shots.

Leading FSU's scoring effort was Steve Stager, who netted 29 points, while Cherod Spears finished with 13 and Dana Brown contributed 10. Stager also grabbed three rebounds for the visitors, who dropped to 1-4 on the season.

The Lakers are slated to take on Atlantic City (N.J.) Saturday at 6 p.m. in an opening round of the Spoel Memorial tourney at ACC. Then on Sunday they will face Nassau (N.Y.) Community College. Their next home game will be Wednesday against Dundalk CC.

Thinking Of You... With Love

You were someone special who can never be replaced. Your memory in our daily lives can never be erased.

God saw that you were tired and weary and a cure was not to be. So He put His arms around you and He whispered, "Come To Me".

You didn't deserve what you went through, and so He gave you rest. God's garden must be beautiful, for He only takes the best.

Your resting place we visit to place flowers with love and care, and no one knows the heartache when we turn and leave you there.

COUNTING ON EXPERIENCE — The 1989-90 Northern High School varsity boys basketball team, one of the most experienced squads in Husky history, will open its season this Friday night at home against Beall. The Huskies, under third year coach Dave Bender, will be out to improve their 7-15 showing of last season.

Huskies, Bender Depending On Lots Of Experience For Successful Season

With one of the most experienced teams in Northern High School history, Coach Dave Bender and his 1989-90 squad will attempt to get off to a winning start this Friday evening when they host the Beall Mountaineers in the season opener for both teams.

The Huskies' roster features eight seniors, three returning starters, and four part-time starters from last year. Expected to provide the most leadership for the team is 5-10 senior Dave Yoder, who is a third year starter and led last year's squad in assists (104) and steals (59), and was second in scoring (12.2 ppg), free throw percentage (68 percent), and field goal percentage (43 percent). He was named the MVP of the team last year.

Another team leader will be 6-1 junior Jon Houser, who returns as the starting strong forward and led last season's team in defensive rebounds (90) and tied for best field goal percentage (44 percent). As a freshman, he scored 159 points for a 7.2 ppg average.

The other top returnee is 6-0 senior forward Jimmy Stephens, who led last year's team in free throw percentage (70 percent) and tied House for top field goal percentage. He scored 6.3 points per game.

The four returning part-time starters include Kirby King, a 5-11 senior; Bobby Leight, a 5-8 senior; Dave Lewis, a 5-10 senior; and Joey Spiker, a 6-3 senior.

King and Leight are defensive specialists who will be competing for time at guard.

Lewis has been a pleasant surprise for Bender this year, having grown three inches, trimmed down several pounds, and developed solid three-point range shooting ability over the summer.

Spiker, who has returned to the team after losing his eligibility last year, is competing for playing time at the center position.

Three players from last season's 10-6 junior varsity squad are also expected to contribute heavily to the varsity program. They are 6-0 junior Aaron Morris, 5-10 junior Lee Holloway, and 6-0 senior Clay Carleton.

Out for the team for the first time are senior Wes Loar and junior Chet Pluebell, who have made considerable progress in developing their abilities, according to Bender.

"This team has set clear goals and they understand what it takes to be successful," Bender said. "We have a fine tradition of great individual players passing through our program, but I believe this is the largest group of flat-out hard-working, goal-oriented players we've had for a long time."

This season will be Coach Bender's third at the helm of the Huskies. Bender's first team (1987-88) won more games than any Husky team in the prior five years (10), but last year's team is coming off a disappointing 7-15 record.

"I have found that the most lasting progress is made in a ratchet manner," Bender said. "Two years ago we took two steps forward, last year we took one step back, and this year we are ready to take two steps forward again."

The Huskies' 22-game schedule includes their fourth straight appearance in the Snowball Classic at Southern High School later this month.

Bender said that nearly every team on their schedule has key returning players: Beall has Greg Carter, Shannon McKenzie, and Chris Loar; Southern has Brett Rice and Marshall Pike; Valley has Bo Evans and into space. Born in 1899, he has so far seen two centuries and hopes to live to the year 2,000, when he will see three centuries.

As to the recent growth and expansion of Garrett County, Hub is not sure. "In my opinion, it's not good. I'm not complaining about individual homes, but I'm concerned about all the condominiums going in around the lake. I think in the future it's not going to be good for the county. Look at other places that have grown up and the corruption that has come with it. I have to ask who is building all the condominiums and where the money is coming from?"

But as to his life so far with Nellie and his children, all he could say was, "We've been blessed."

saying of Hub's whenever he was dealing with people.

Hub was born the son of an Amish couple, but he never belonged to the Amish church. Amish children don't join the church until they are 17 or 18.

"My parents were Amish. I never belonged to the church, but to this day, I have great respect for my parents and the church and the people," said Hub.

"When it came time for me to make the decision to join the church, I told my father that there were some things about the church that I disagreed with," he explained. "My father told me, 'I'd rather you join a church and be a good member rather than join a church and not be a good member.'"

Hub joined the Mennonite church and later joined the Lutheran Church when he married Nellie.

As a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Hub was a Sunday School Superintendent, Sunday School teacher and lay preacher for several years.

"He was quite active in the church until things that have happened now," said Nellie. "He's lived a good, Christian life ever since I've known him and I've known him a long time. Sixty-two years is a long time to know someone."

Hub has recently suffered a stroke and is not able to be as active as he once was.

"He misses the church and not being able to drive the car," Nellie said. "But I think the time will come soon when he can get to church again."

Hub and Nellie sold the farm in the 60's and built a small house near Oakland. The couple has three children: Delbert, Dolores and Lois; 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. The children wanted Nellie and Hub to move into town so they could be close by in case of any problems. Hub's Harness Shop was sold in 1980 and Hub continued as Mayor until 1988.

Hub has seen the advent of the car, the airplane and travel friendly confines of 'the Igloo' (at Northern), we may have the toughest December schedule in the area," Bender said. "Our success will depend to a large degree on how our senior leaders react to this early season challenge."

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Northern High junior varsity team, under fourth-year coach Merv Yoder, are coming off a 10-6 season and return four players who played in every game last year. They include Doug Brenneman, Richard Schofield, Mike Fike, and Sam Wakefield.

Other sophomores vying for positions are Eric Umbel, Jeff Weimer, Tim Thomas, Jerry Buckel, and Larry Chambers.

Four freshmen also expected to see playing time are Paul Edwards, Brian Kamp, Chris Wachter, and Scott McKenzie. All home jayvee games will begin at 6:15 p.m.

GCC Offering Computer Courses

Computer application classes which focus on understanding the basics, word processing, spread sheets, DOS and database, will be offered by Garrett Community College in December and January.

Ms. Heubner is one of several instructors who will be helping local manufacturers upgrade their use of technology during the months ahead. The computer classes which will meet in the GCC computer lab during the next two months will be followed by individualized training at various work sites during February and March.

These computer sessions are part of a series of classes planned to enable local manufacturers and contractors to utilize technology to enhance their productivity. Other classes in the series will address: purchasing and materials management, waste management, communications, and planning.

These programs are being offered in conjunction with the Western Maryland Technology Transfer Program and are being funded by a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission. Garrett Community College is one of five area colleges participating in the program.

Local persons involved in small or intermediate size manufacturing or construction firms are invited to participate in this training program. Those wishing to register or obtain additional information may contact Sandy Major at 387-6666, extension 169.

Garrett County Home Health Care

Hospitals and nursing homes render invaluable services, however, most physicians will agree that whenever physically and medically possible, the best place for patients to be is usually their own home environment.

Home health care is one of six of Garrett County Health Department's services designed to keep patients in their own home environments. These services are particularly geared toward the many local elderly persons in need of skilled health care.

Aside from obvious psychological benefits to patients, health costs are reduced when patients can be kept at home, according to Norma Bolding, director of this county's home health agency.

Home health care services may include skilled nursing care, home health aide services, physical therapy, speech therapy, and a licensed certified medical social worker in the home environment. Through this program patients can receive assessment, monitoring, and family education in regard to cardiac problems; pacemaker care; diabetic care; hypertension; post-fracture care; post-operative care; and daily wound management. "Hi-tech" care, such as use of a Hickman catheter, use of intravenous procedures and infusions may also be given.

A patient must obtain a physician's referral in order to be eligible for these services. According to Bolding, care is provided regardless of a patient's ability to pay. However, Medicare,

In Loving Memory of the World's Greatest Mom

Stella Sisler Lowdermilk

Who passed away six years ago, December 9

So many times we needed you Mom, so many tears we cried. If all our love could have saved you dear Mom, you never would have died. But our dear Jesus saw you growing tired and needed a rest. So He put His loving arms around you and called "Come Unto Me". Many memories are sprinkled with tears, you blessed our lives so many ways. Mom, you have to be the most beautiful rose blooming in God's garden of peace and rest.

All our cherished memories is one blessing death did not take away. A part of all our hearts went with you, "Rest in peace dear Mom".

Kepple Named By University Of Md. For Who's Who

Criss Kepple, a senior at the University of Maryland College of Agriculture, College Park, was one of 68 University of Maryland students to be nominated for inclusion in the 1988-89 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Kepple, who will graduate December 22 with a degree in agricultural economics, is the daughter of Howard and Bernice Kepple of Oakland.

The University of Maryland faculty committee nominated the students on the basis of their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities and potential for continued success.

DECEMBER WELLNESS TOGETHER

Wellness Together's staff would like to thank all the people who have participated in our programs and classes in 1989. We look forward to reaching more people with more services in 1990. We hope to reduce the high rate of heart disease in our area through our new HEARTWORKS program. This program will be offered to businesses during the coming year.

HOLIDAY BLUES?

Christmas time is indeed the time for giving. Mental health experts agree that a good way to lift your holiday spirit is to give to others.

- Some suggestions include:
 - Visit someone you know who may be lonely this holiday season.
 - Call local nursing homes to find out what items are needed by residents.
 - Donate to the House of Hope.
 - Look for the Rotary Club's Christmas trees and purchase a needed gift.
 - Contribute time and/or money to a charity of your choice.

CALENDAR

Look for your Wellness Together Calendar. It should be in your mailbox by January 1. The 1990 calendar celebrates the good news reported by local residents who have succeeded in making positive life style changes. The calendar marks the fifth year anniversary of the Wellness Together program and our staff encourages you to use the calendar as you make your 1990 health resolutions.

HOLIDAY WELLNESS

Ten steps to holiday wellness. Can you check all of these?

- Check the smoke detectors and fire extinguishers in your home to be sure they are working properly.
- Avoid excessive exercise for which you have not warmed up or trained. Check your heart rate while chopping wood, shoveling snow, and cross country skiing.
- Refrain from abusing drugs, tobacco, and alcohol.
- Wear your seat belt and buckle up your children and grandchildren in safety seats or belts.
- Avoid excessively stressful situations, and plan for quiet periods during this busy season.
- Place safe decorations on a tree that is watered well and located away from sources of heat.
- Eat balanced, regular meals to avoid overeating sweets.
- Find time for exercise; it will give you time for yourself and help reduce tension.
- Dress with several layers of warm clothing, and cover your head, hands, and feet to help preserve your body's warmth.
- Baby and childproof your home when receiving young visitors.

ZUCCHINI FRUITCAKE

- 1 cup mixed candied fruit
- 1 cup golden raisins
- 1/2 cup currants
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 cups shredded zucchini
- 3 cups all-purpose flour, divided
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons ground allspice
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground nutmeg

Combine first 5 ingredients in a large bowl, add 1/4 cup flour, and stir to coat. Set aside. Combine eggs and oil in a large mixing bowl, beat at medium speed of an electric mixer 1 minute. Add sugar and vanilla, beat at medium speed 30 seconds. Combine remaining 2 3/4 cups flour, soda, and next 5 ingredients, add to egg mixture. Stir fruit mixture into batter. Spoon into 2 greased and floured 8x5x3-inch loafpans, bake at 325° for 1 hour and 15 to 20 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans 10 minutes. Remove from pans, cool on wire racks. Yield: 2 loaves.

LEMON CREAM

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
- 1 cup skim milk
- 3 eggs, separated
- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons grated lemon peel
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

Sprinkle the gelatin over the lemon juice in a heatproof measuring cup or small bowl and let it stand for 2 to 3 minutes. Then set the cup in a small skillet of simmering water and cook over a low heat, stirring frequently, until the gelatin completely dissolves. Remove from the heat, but leave the cup with the gelatin and juice sitting in the water to keep it warm. Meanwhile, scald the milk in a heavy saucepan by heating it until bubbles begin to form around the edge of the pan. Remove the pan from the heat. Beat the egg yolks and sugar in a bowl for 3 to 4 minutes, until the yolks are pale yellow and slightly thickened. Stirring constantly, pour the hot milk in a thin stream over the egg yolks. When thoroughly blended, return the mixture to the saucepan. Cook over a low heat, stirring constantly, until the custard begins to thicken (about 4 to 5 minutes). Do not let the mixture come near the boiling point or it will curdle. Then remove the pan from the heat and stir in the warm gelatin-juice mixture and lemon peel. Chill for about 1 hour, stirring occasionally, until the mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat the egg whites and cream of tartar until very stiff. Fold into the gelatin mixture and blend thoroughly, but gently. Spoon into a 4-cup mold or individual parfait glasses. Chill at least 1 hour or until firm. Yield: 4 servings.

FAMILY FAVORITE FRUITCAKE

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cups raisins
- 1 (8-ounce) package pitted dates, chopped
- 1 3/4 cups water
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup apricot brandy
- 1 pound mixed candied fruit, chopped
- 1/4 pound candied red cherries, chopped
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 3 cups all-purpose flour, divided
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ground cloves

Combine first 5 ingredients in a saucepan, simmer, uncovered, 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in brandy, set aside. Combine candied fruit, cherries, and walnuts, dredge in 1/4 cup flour, stirring to coat evenly. Set aside. Combine remaining 2 3/4 cups flour, soda, salt, cinnamon, and cloves, mixing well. Stir in raisin mixture, blend thoroughly. Add candied fruit mixture and stir. Spoon into a greased and floured, brown paper-lined 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 325° for 1 hour and 15 minutes or until a wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan. Remove cake, and take off paper. Store in an airtight container. Yield: 1 10-inch cake.

MARBLE POUND CAKE

- 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup butter, softened
- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 5 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 3 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa powder

Position rack in center of oven, preheat to 350°F. Grease a 12-cup bundt pan or a 10x4-inch tube pan, dust with flour. In a medium bowl, sift together flour, baking powder, and salt, set aside. In a large bowl, and using electric beaters, cream butter until light and smooth. Add sugar in several additions, beating until the mixture is light and fluffy. Gradually add eggs, beating until mixture has the consistency of lightly whipped cream. Do not underbeat. Beat in vanilla and almond extracts. Sift 1/4 cup dry ingredients over batter, fold in gently but thoroughly. Repeat procedure with remaining dry ingredients. Transfer one third of the batter to a small bowl, add cocoa powder, blending well to make chocolate batter. Fill the prepared pan with the batters alternating large spoonfuls of light batter with small spoonfuls of chocolate batter. Pull a knife through the batter two or three times to create the marbling. Bake 50 to 60 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove pan to wire rack. Cool 10 minutes before loosening cake from pan with a knife and removing. Finish cooling right side up on rack. Yield: One 12-cup bundt cake.

FRUITED BREAD

- 1 package active dry yeast or one cake (3/8 ounce) fresh yeast
- 1 cup warm milk
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup (1/4 pound) butter or margarine, melted
- 2 teaspoons ground cardamom
- 4 tablespoons very finely ground blanched almonds
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour

Filling:

- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1/2 cup apricot preserves
- 1/2 cup sliced blanched almonds
- 1/4 cup diced candied orange peel
- 1/4 cup glacéed cherries, halved
- 1/4 cup yellow raisins, plumped in hot sherry or liquor
- 1/4 cup quartered pitted prunes

Dissolve the yeast in the warm milk (105 degrees if fresh, about 120 degrees if dried) in a bowl. Add the sugar, butter, salt, cardamom and almonds, combine. Set aside 2 tablespoons of the egg. Add the remaining egg and 2 cups of the flour to the yeast mixture, beat until smooth. Add the remaining flour gradually, beating until a soft, pliable dough has formed. Beat until the dough is smooth and not sticky. Sprinkle the dough with a little flour, cover and let it rise in a warm place until it has doubled in volume (about 1 1/2 hours), or cover and refrigerate it to let it rise overnight. When dough has doubled in volume, punch it down, then turn it onto a lightly floured board, knead it until smooth. Roll out the dough into a rectangular strip about 10 inches by 18 inches. Spread the melted butter, then the apricot preserves, over the rolled-out dough; sprinkle the nuts and fruits to within 1-inch of the long edge. Roll up the dough lengthwise. Place the roll, seam down, on a greased 12x18-inch cookie sheet, setting it diagonally (to accommodate its length) and tucking the ends under. Make incisions with sharp scissors, about 1-inch apart, going almost, but not completely, through the bottom. Pull the slices alternately left and right, then pinch the top outside of each slice to a point. Let the roll stand in a warm place for about 30 minutes to rise. Brush the top with the reserved beaten egg. Bake at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes, until it is golden. Cool. Wrap the bread in transparent wrap on a base of foil-wrapped cardboard or wood.

- 2 (26-ounce) jars instant orange-flavored breakfast drink
- 1 (3-ounce) jar instant tea
- 2 (8 1/2-ounce) packages red cinnamon candies
- 1 (6-ounce) package sweetened lemonade-flavored drink mix
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons ground nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons ground cloves
- 2 teaspoons ground allspice

Combine all ingredients, stirring well. Store in an airtight container. To serve, place 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon mixture in a cup, add 1 cup boiling water, stirring well. Yield: about 14 cups.

Born Under a Star

Scriptures Selected by The American Bible Society

He was an extremely soft spoken and quiet person. He loved being a free spirit. When it came to what had to be done, there were no complaints.

He was a good boy. Never worried his parents. Well, maybe once when he strayed away from them in the big city.

He liked to fish. He was a great fisherman. He and twelve other companions were always fishing every chance they could get.

He was a forgiving person and loved people very much. He had compassion for the handicapped. He helped the blind and lame, and all that were sick. His schedule was busy, but he still found time to help.

He wasn't really cut out for the humble craft of his father's trade. He wanted to be a teacher and set an example for all to follow. He was a teller of stories. People listened and learned from him.

He is very well known to this day. As a matter of fact, there is a book written about the things he did and said and taught.

He died young. Perhaps you know of him. He was a "Carpenter's Son."

DO YOU PREFER THE DARKNESS?

December 10, 1989

Background Scripture: John 1:1-21
Devotional Reading: John 1:18-21

As a boy, I was always skeptical about this verse: "And this is the judgement, that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil" (John 3:19). Because I was somewhat afraid of the dark, I couldn't imagine anyone loving it. Today, of course, I realize that, strange as it may seem, people often do choose darkness instead of light because, for some perverse reason, they love the darkness more. That is the supposition that underlies the newspaper business today: they focus on human darkness—crime, corruption, decay, tragedy, and anything that is essentially negative. "Bad news" sells newspapers, books, and television advertising time. If your daily newspaper were to focus on "good news" instead of "bad," people wouldn't buy it.

NEGATIVELY TUNED

Unfortunately, many of us are tuned in to negativity. If we are ill, we can describe our feelings in great detail. But if we are well, we are hardly aware of our wellness at all. If someone has a "juicy" story about someone we know, perhaps even a friend, we are much more likely to listen to it. Even our prayer lives may be dominated by negativity: how much of your prayer time is devoted to asking and how much to thanking? Some people even practice a Christianity that is negatively oriented: seeing and expecting the worst in people and the world. Still others are attracted to satanic religious practices that seem to glory in the darkest and lowest elements in our human nature.

When Nicodemus, a member of the Sanhedrin, the Jewish religious council, came to Jesus he came by night because he didn't want anyone to see him in the presence of the Nazarene. He also chose darkness, but in this case he chose darkness to hide, not his sin, but his virtue. The reason, of course, is that his society saw sin as virtue and virtue as sin. Associating with Jesus would threaten his "virtuous" religious standing in the community. So, he chose darkness.

PLAYING "DUMB"

We don't know what he expected Jesus to say to him, but he was obviously perplexed when Jesus said, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God" (3:3). Did Nicodemus really not know what Jesus was saying, or was he simply playing "dumb" because he didn't want to deal with it? I suspect the latter, because it is a lot easier to discuss being born physically than it is to be spiritually reborn. If the first seems impossible, the other must seem highly undesirable to others.

The fact is that all of us need to be transformed so that we will seek the light rather than the darkness.

Bob Hope anticipates Christmas special

Comedian spreads holiday spirit

By Mary Ann Townsend
Bob Hope almost always dreams of a white Christmas ... just as long as there's a snow machine nearby to create the icy white stuff.

The comedian, preparing for his annual Christmas special to air Saturday, Dec. 16, on NBC, explained how the last two Christmas specials had been taped in Florida with the use of the snow machines to add the Christmas flair. Hope, a golfer to a Tee who not only appreciates but thrives on good weather, said he hopes to continue the tradition of taping the special from a tropical locale.

"It works good, it's interesting for the people to watch," Hope said. "I think the entire country likes to watch people in the sun, it's so different."

He said time often doesn't allow him to think about his own personal Christmas celebration with his family, but he hoped to make it to his home in Palm Springs, not only for a round of golf or two, but also to see the children and grandchildren.

"I want to go down there and—I'm just looking forward to seeing a little of the family, as many as we can see," he said. "We get as many of the kids as we can. That's usually the time."

In keeping with tradition for his holiday specials, Hope said among the guests will be the Rose Bowl Queen and the All-American football team. He also looked forward to performing "Silver Bells" with special guest Rosemary Clooney, and introducing the group New Kids on the Block. Of course he anticipated an appearance by Santa Claus.

Through the years that he has been taking the Christmas spirit to military bases around the world, Hope has made the trips with members of his family. He remembered one time, however, when neither he nor the family went overseas for a Christmas special.

"We went nine straight years to Vietnam, and it was strange not to have everybody get ready and not to get their shots," Hope recalled. He said that the troops still made that Christmas special. "A group came up from San Diego to serenade me, which I thought was a real kick. They said, 'well you've gone overseas for so many years, we wanted to entertain you.' And they came up and did a couple of songs. That was one of the nicer things."

One of those shows in Vietnam stands out sharply in his mind from all the others. As he was ready to board the plane to go overseas, a young woman approached him with a photo of her young child. When she found out he was headed to the town where her husband was stationed, she asked

Hope to give her husband the photo of the child he had never seen.

"And I took that picture and I said, 'Is Sgt. so-and-so here?' and they said 'Yep,' and I said, 'Come on up here, will ya?' He came up and I told him the story about his wife, and I said, 'Here's a picture of your baby.' There wasn't a dry eye in the house, including me." —TV Listings Inc.

Ted Danson likes comedy role, but prefers feature films

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I am interested in knowing more about Ted Danson of Cheers. Is comedy his main interest? —Bonnie Fitzmorris, Newport, N.C.

A: The son of an archaeologist, Ted Danson grew up with Hopi and Navajo friends in red rock country outside Flagstaff, Ariz., and never gave a thought to show business. After graduating from Connecticut's Kent School, he attended Stanford University, discovered drama and transferred to Carnegie Tech to focus on that field. He and wife Casey Coates, an environmental designer, are the parents of two daughters. Comedy is not his main interest. His sights are set on a theatrical film career and he sees himself as a leading man. Write to him c/o Cheers, Paramount Pictures, 5555 Melrose Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90038.

show. Do you think it will come back in reruns? —Merissa Sly, Painted Post, N.Y.

A: The little blond boy you remember was named Darby Hinton, born on Aug. 19, 1957. There are no other acting credits listed for him since the series ended in 1970. He made his acting debut at the age of six months in a Playhouse 90 production and guest starred in an assortment of juvenile roles during the early 1960s. He appeared in over 30 feature films which include: The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm, Nightmare on the Sun and Teddy Bears. A direct descendant of the real frontier pioneer, Daniel Boone, Darby's godmother is Mrs. Charlton Heston and his godfather is Winthrop Paul Rockefeller. As far as I can determine the series is not currently in re-runs.

Q: My friend and I have a bet on which was the first James Bond movie. I believe it was Dr. No. He says it is Goldfinger. Could you please give us information on the first film? —Roy Asta, Anchorage, Alaska

A: Collect your bet, Roy, you are the winner! Sean Connery's film career was at a standstill when in 1962 he was chosen to portray the screen incarnation of James Bond, the secret-agent hero of Ian Fleming's novels. He leaped to sudden fame in the first of the Bond films, Dr. No, released in 1962. Goldfinger was released two years later.

Q: I was wondering if you could tell me what ever happened to the little blond boy who played Israel on the Daniel Boone series? How old is he now? When I was a little girl I never missed the

Reporter looks into peer's mysterious disappearance

Kevin Dobson plays reporter

By Aileen Murphy

Kevin Dobson, a regular of CBS' Knots Landing, heads back to his New York City roots in Money, Power, Murder, this week's "CBS Sunday Movie" about an offbeat reporter who investigates the disappearance of a star anchorman.

Dobson, who began his acting career in New York City, was a member of the "Neighborhood Playhouse" and played Detective Crocker on the series Kojak for five years. In Money, Power, Murder, Dobson plays the wisecracking Peter Finley who works as a reporter and commentator for a no-frills cable news station in New York City. Finley reluctantly takes the missing person case, only to find that some of the suspects start dropping dead. The suspects include the anchorman's producer who secretly loved her, the president of the network who is hiding at least one dark secret, her co-anchor who hated her, her ex-husband who is not yet over their divorce, and the Reverend Eugene Endicott, a powerful televangelist. Finley eventually finds himself unraveling a bizarre conspiracy. Starring with Dobson are Josef Sommer, John Cullum and Blythe Danner. Other TV movies in which Dobson has appeared include Sweet Revenge, Transplant, Orphan Train and Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer in "Margin For Murder."

In addition to his many and varied television roles, Dobson appeared in the motion pictures Love Story, Klute and The French Connection. Money, Power, Murder was written by sports columnist Mike Lupica.

Lar Park-Lincoln plays Linda Fairgate on Knots Landing, Thursdays on CBS.

Santa and Rudolph return in Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer, Friday on CBS.

FSU Planning To Offer MBA Communication Option In Frostburg

Frostburg State University has received numerous inquiries about offering its professional communication option within the master of business administration degree on the Frostburg Campus. To date, the Technical and Professional Communication Option, which makes FSU's MBA degree substantially different from other management programs, has been offered exclusively on the Frederick Campus. There, for the past five years, it has successfully served professionals from business, industry, and government from the Baltimore-D.C.-Hagerstown area, according to FSU officials. Now, the Graduate School and the M.B.A. Program Office are seeking to determine if a market exists here in the Cumberland/Tri-State area to support this program.

Dr. Joe Malak, dean of Graduate Studies and Extended Education, said, "This program has been very well received in Frederick. We now believe there's a need to serve the Tri-State Area."

By offering the TPC option on the Frostburg Campus, FSU plans to extend its service to the area's professional community of full-time employees, both managers and technical/service personnel. "We are looking for prospective students from the area's business, government, and industrial communities," Malak said, "people who come from a variety of backgrounds, including the natural and social sciences, the professions, the arts and humanities, and the various technologies."

Dr. Betty Favre, coordinator of the TPC Option, said, "The program is ideal for the upwardly mobile person because it develops the kind of highly skilled, well-rounded professional who is in the greatest demand."

"Many of our Frederick TPC graduates have moved into middle and upper management positions," she said, "and some have even gone on for their doctorates at prestigious universities. We foresee the same kinds of success stories emerging from our program on the Frostburg Campus."

The TPC option offers MBA candidates the opportunity to develop state-of-the-art writing skills while building a solid base in management training. The program offers oral and visual components as well, since it is designed to meet the high-performance requirements of both managers who must communicate and communicators who must manage.

The MBA degree requires completion of 45 credit hours, including 30 hours in management and 15 hours in communication. All the communication courses emphasize the applications of formal rhetorical theory as well as the strategies proven successful in the marketplace.

The degree program's overall instructional approach is to help students find, and perfect, the keys to success, Malak said.

To this end, students develop Harvard Case Studies as well as their own on-the-job projects requiring effective argumentation and persuasion skills, an advanced knowledge of the writing process, research, and the principles, practices and processes of publishing.

Students learn how to write business, technical, and scientific proposals and reports that get results; how to make effective professional oral presentations; and how to write, design, edit and publish organizational documents that advance corporate goals and promote successful public relations.

They also learn how to write articles for professional journals in their own fields, and how to get them published. Throughout the program students learn the principles and skills of communication as an entrepreneurial tool, especially for managers, according to Malak.

As the leaders of many Fortune 500 companies are advising, the key to success in any organizational enterprise lies in good management, but the key to successful management lies in expert communication.

To find these keys, students develop skill at complex problem-solving, audience assessment, persuasive logic, illustration, photo and art design, layout, proofreading, and a host of other strategic techniques that will help them achieve their professional and personal goals.

They also learn how to hone their writing into a highly readable (and marketable) professional style. Such skills, advise Malcolm Forbes and Lee Iacocca, two of America's top business leaders, make them highly desirable as employees.

"Equally important," said Dr. Favre, "is the added luster to the student's intellectual life that this program fosters. Because they are humanistically educated as well as managerially trained, these manager-communicators know how to grow, personally as well as professionally. They know the value — and the power — of the word, be it written, spoken, or made visual. And they know how to use that power to serve whatever purposes they choose."

Given sufficient enrollment in the program, communication courses will be offered year-round on the Frostburg Campus, during three 14-week semesters each year, beginning in the Spring 1990 semester. These courses, along with all the other management courses, will each meet one evening per week and will be scheduled so that a student can take two courses in that evening. That means a student taking two courses per semester, going one night a week, can finish his/her MBA degree in a little over two years.

As in Frederick, instructors on the Frostburg Campus will come from academy, business, the professions and government. All will be proven experts in their fields and in teaching as well.

ZION STUDENTS JUMP FOR AHA — Several students at Zion Christian Academy recently raised nearly $400 for the American Heart Association by participating in a Jump Rope for Heart project. The students jumped as a team for a three-hour period and raised $397.57 via pledges for the AHA, while promoting physical fitness as a deterrent to heart disease, the nation's number one killer. Pictured left to right, front row, are Megan Stanton, Michael Folk, and Alvin Naugle. In the back, same order, are Tom McDowell, Jennifer Stanton, Amy Naugle, and Elaine McDowell.

Students may enroll on either a part-time or full-time basis. Transfer credits from other management programs are available, as are proficiency examinations for up to 12 credits earned in prior professional and/or academic experiences.

Graduate assistantships are also available to full-time students. These assistantships offer a stipend of $4,000 per academic year and $1,300 for the summer. "Graduate assistants," says Dean Malak, "engage in 15 hours per week of interesting research and exciting projects directly related to their studies."

"Now what we must do to get the TPC option started here," Dr. Favre said, "is determine if enough people in the Tri-State area are interested in the program to warrant offering it on the Frostburg Campus." Those interested should call Dr. Favre at (301) 689-4221 to ask for more information and application forms.

Dr. Favre urges that prospective students call right away. "The sooner we fill up the first communication class, the quicker we can guarantee that the TPC option will be offered on the Frostburg Campus," she said.

The registration period is December 1-14. Classes begin January 15, 1990.

Commissioner Issues Alert On CO Poisoning

Henry Koellein Jr., commissioner of Labor and Industry, warns Maryland employers and workers of the increased danger of carbon monoxide poisoning as the weather grows colder.

"This is a real danger. The potential for poisoning is greater in the winter when there is less ventilation in factories, warehouses and garages because doors and windows are closed. In recent years, several workers have died from carbon monoxide poisoning," stressed Koellein.

Carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless and tasteless gas which strikes quickly. Produced in worksites where combustion takes place, such as auto repair shops, foundries, furnaces and ovens, it gives no warning. In warehouses, and large cold storage lockers, gasoline and diesel forklifts and materials movers can generate carbon monoxide in their exhaust. Some space heaters also produce carbon monoxide, adding to the danger in winter.

Koellein said it is important to recognize the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning and to give immediate, effective first aid. Headaches, nausea and dizziness are early symptoms of exposure to the gas. Continued exposure causes muscle weakness, unconsciousness and death. Co-workers, mistaking a victim's symptoms, can be overcome as they try to assist the victim. Hence, immediate, correct diagnosis, swift ventilation and first aid are vital.

An education campaign has been prepared by the Maryland Occupational Safety and Health (MOSH) Program, stressing prevention and treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning. MOSH, a division of the state Department of Licensing and Regulation, is the agency responsible for enforcing safety and health laws and regulations at Maryland worksites. Free fact sheets and training sessions are available from the Maryland Occupational Safety and Health Program for employers, employees, labor unions, employer groups, and trade associations. For information, persons may call 1-800-492-6226, ext. 4164.

Employers can obtain a free consultation visit to evaluate their worksite for carbon monoxide hazards by calling MOSH Consultation Services at 1-800-492-6226, ext. 4210.

First United Earns Superior Rating

First United Corporation has been rated "Superior" by IDC Financial Publishing, Inc. This rating is the highest possible IDC rating for a bank or bank holding company, as announced in the November 19 issue of the Baltimore Sun. Only 3,447 banking entities out of nearly 13,000 nationwide were given this distinction, based on March 31, 1989, financial results. This is the third consecutive quarter that First United has earned this distinction.

The IDC bases its rating on quarterly financial reports filed nationwide with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). It calculates about three dozen financial ratios from the reports, compares these values and produces a numerical rating for each banking institution.

"It is very gratifying to learn of this recognition. I wish to thank our directors, officers, and employees for their hard work and dedication, which has made it possible for the corporation to achieve this standard," stated Richard G. Stanton, president of First United Corporation.

First United Corporation is a multi-bank holding company headquartered in Oakland. The Corporation's banking subsidiaries include First United National Bank & Trust and The First United Bank of Piedmont. The Corporation's assets currently total $347 million, with deposits of $312 million.

Sergeant Willis Receives Medal

Staff Sergeant John R. Willis, of Company C 121st Engineer Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, recently received the State of Maryland Commendation Medal for contributing significantly to the unit's strength maintenance program.

Staff Sergeant Willis has been working with the full-time recruiter and M-Day recruiting at high schools, sporting events, and other local activities.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "His initiative, resourcefulness and untiring efforts to achieve perfection in all phases of his duties including recruiting are of all high standard. Staff Sergeant Willis' brilliant performance of duty and dedicated devotion represent significant achievements in the most cherished tradition of the military and reflects distinct credit upon himself and the Maryland Army National Guard."

Marine Pvt. Arthur E. Strahin, son of Arthur E. and Karen A. Strahin, Route 2, Terra Alta, W.Va., has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 13-week training cycle, Strahin was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

He is a 1989 graduate of East

Preston High School, Terra Alta.

Final Report By Agent Orange Commission Given

Recognizing the controversy surrounding the issue of Agent Orange exposure, the Maryland Agent Orange Commission (MAOC) has issued its final report and recommendations to Governor William Donald Schafer.

The thrust of those recommendations is that the responsibilities of the Commission be assumed by the Maryland Veterans Commission and that adequate funding be provided so that it may continue to monitor federal activities relative to Agent Orange.

"A great deal remains unresolved on the subject of Agent Orange and its effect on the health of those exposed to it," said Thomas C. Shaner, a Vietnam veteran and the administrative coordinator of the MAOC. "While not really a state issue, it is important to the Vietnam veterans of Maryland that someone in the state keep abreast of what is happening relative to Agent Orange so that we can provide, at a minimum, an information resource to those concerned about their health."

Shaner explained that while the MAOC was created to develop a report for the Governor on "accidentally" become a service provider to Vietnam veterans seeking assistance in filing for claims allowed as part of a class action suit against the manufacturers of Agent Orange, as well as in dealing with the Veterans Administration.

The Agent Orange controversy remains unresolved, Shaner said. For instance, last June the Veterans Administration lost a court action requiring it to develop new guidelines to be used when evaluating benefit claims associated with Agent Orange exposure. Declining an appeal, the VA promulgated new regulations which veterans' groups found to be more restrictive than the original ones.

"Veterans only want the VA to work within its Congressional mandate that they be given 'the benefit of the doubt,'" explained Shaner. Thus far, the VA has only cited extreme chloracne as being a medical problem associated with exposure to the widely-used herbicide.

So controversial has been the Agent Orange issue that even the American Legion and the VA are in adversarial positions on the subject. At a recent forum in Baltimore during the American Legion's annual convention, Legion representatives blasted the VA for its handling of the Agent Orange issue.

Said Joseph White, a member of the MAOC, "I thought the VA was the advocate of veterans. With Agent Orange it has become our adversary."

Firewood Buyers Given Advice By Local Forester

As temperatures drop, the demand for firewood rises. Garrett County Project Forester Ernie Metz cautions firewood buyers to be aware of what they are buying.

According to Maryland law, firewood must be sold on the basis of a standard cord, or a portion of a cord, "the amount of wood which is contained in a space of 128 cubic feet, when the wood is stacked and well stowed." A cord is a volume measure arrived at by multiplying the height times the length of the stack, times the length of the sticks, all measurements in feet. Commonly, a standard cord is thought to be four feet high, by four feet wide, by eight feet long.

The law was designed as a consumer protection measure, to protect the fuel-wood buyer from measurements such as "face cord," or "truck load" which vary in volume.

A firewood seller should also identify the wood by species group and say if the wood is unseasoned (green) or dry. A representation of two or more species groups shall indicate within five percent accuracy of percentages of each group.

The Weights and Measures Section of the Maryland Department of Agriculture is responsible for enforcing the method of sale of commodities regulations. The Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, Department of Natural Resources, works cooperatively with them to get consumer information to the using public.

Individuals interested in purchasing firewood should contact the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service office at the Mt. Nebo Work Center, telephone number (301) 334-3296, for information. A listing of licensed Forest Products Operators is available to all interested parties.

Smokeless Tobacco Use Widespread Among Children In West Virginia

West Virginians use more smokeless tobacco than residents of any other state, and use among state children is alarmingly widespread, according to results of the most extensive study of its use among rural children.

Smokeless tobacco products include snuff (ground tobacco usually held between cheek and gum), and chewing tobacco, which is chewed or held in the mouth.

Dr. Ken Simon, West Virginia University professor of community medicine, was principal researcher for the National Cancer Institute project which examined where and when 4,230 West Virginia school children, grades 5 to 12, first used smokeless tobacco and what factors influenced their usage.

The study found that among male children, 16 percent of 10- to 12-year-olds, 29 percent of 13- to 15-year-olds, and 39 percent of 16- to 18-year-olds were current users. Among all females in those age groups, only two percent were current users.

One-fourth of current users started chewing or rubbing smokeless tobacco before age seven, and half started before age 11. Eighty-two percent of males in grades 10 to 12 reported having tried snuff or chewing tobacco.

"A highly significant finding of the study was that children who try smokeless tobacco in elementary and junior high school and have close contacts with adult users, are much more likely to become addicted, regular users," Simon said. "The culture clearly supports tobacco use by young children, especially boys."

The study found that most users, and most of those who have ever tried it, got first chewing tobacco or snuff from peers, parents or other adults. They also frequently got free samples in magazines or from tobacco salesman handing out samples at fairs.

Use was equally common among children of poor, middle-income and upper-income families. It was also equally common among children whose parents were poorly or highly educated.

Christmas shopping will be easier...

Using PERSONAL CREDIT LINE

Have you ever found that perfect gift for someone, only to find that you didn't have enough cash to pay for it or that the store doesn't accept credit cards? It's frustrating. But, if you have a First United Personal Credit Line you'll be able to buy that special gift when you find it, rather than waiting until you have the cash in your wallet.

With First United's Personal Credit Line, qualified applicants receive a $500-$5,000 line of credit. Best of all, you'll get your cash when you need it simply by writing a check or using one of our automated teller machines. And, you won't need to wait in long lines while the sales clerk processes your credit card — you'll be able to pay with cash.

Stop by any First United community office and apply for your Personal Credit Line. And, in a few days you'll be ready to do your "serious" Christmas shopping. Remember, every Santa needs a little help at Christmas!

Funding For Md. Ag Projects Is Signed Into Law

Senators Barbara A. Mikulski and Paul Sarbanes, D-MD, have announced that $190 million in Fiscal Year 1990 funding for Maryland agricultural research and conservation projects has been signed into law by President Bush.

"Maryland's farmers are a key part of our state's economy. This funding will provide for vital research and conservation projects to keep our agricultural economy for years to come. It will also give our farmers access to Farmers Home loan credit at reasonable rates," said Mikulski, who as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee worked with Sen. Sarbanes to ensure the funding was included in the FY1990 Agriculture Appropriations bill.

"The stability of the agricultural economy is vital because of its impact on consumer's food bills," Sarbanes said. "The essential services funded by this legislation, including soil conservation efforts, agricultural research, and rural and farm financial assistance will help ensure the Maryland's agricultural economy remains strong."

Maryland agricultural projects and funding included in the bill are:

Bernice Keppie, Farm Editor

•$4.4 million for the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) which carries out a continuing program of soil and water conservation on private lands. Included in the funds are $2.2 million to support 47 additional positions working on the Chesapeake Bay program as well as funding for SCS operation, river basin surveys, flood prevention in the Bay area, water resources management and protection, resource conservation and development.

•$34 million for the Farmer's Home Administration to provide credit for rural Marylanders who are unable to get credit from other sources at reasonable rates and terms. Loan programs include those for housing, farm ownership, farm operations, water and waste disposal, and rural rental assistance.

•$14.8 million for the National Agriculture Library in Beltsville.

•$34 million for the Animal Plant Health and Inspection Service which conducts programs to protect animal and plant resources from destructive pests and diseases.

•$10.2 million for the Food and Safety Inspection Service which ensures that the commercial supply of meat and poultry products is safe and correctly labeled and packaged.

Earlier this year, Sen. Mikulski introduced the Crop Insurance Revitalization Act of 1989, a bill co-sponsored by Sen. Sarbanes, to strengthen the level of federal crop protection offered to Maryland farmers. The measure, which incorporates recommendations by Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne Cawley and other Maryland farmers, is awaiting action by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Southern States Personnel Attend Dealer Conference

Rex Hoalcraft and Karen Engel, representing the Oakland Southern States Co-op, Mtn. Lake Park, have just returned from a Southern States Cooperative Dealer Conference held at the Roanoke Civic Center Auditorium in Roanoke, Va., on November 28.

The session was held for training and informing Southern States retail personnel about new products and service programs so they can give maximum service to customers this coming spring.

Among the merchandising programs featured at the conference were ones on feed, farm supplies, fertilizer, seed, agricultural chemical and customer service.

The sessions were conducted by the cooperative's commodity specialists. The conference was held in conjunction with the Southern States Showcase '90 Product Show, where dealers were able to view new products and place orders for supplies for the coming months.

Corn Harvest Nearly Finished

Farm operators are close to finishing their corn harvest, according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. The number of days suitable for fieldwork during the week ending November 18 averaged 3.9 over the state. Topsoil moisture was rated none very short, none short, 60 percent adequate, and 40 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was none very short, none short, 70 percent adequate, and 30 percent surplus.

Harvest of corn for grain progressed to 90 percent complete, behind 1988 and the five-year average of 96 percent. Soybeans were in good condition throughout the state. Soybeans were harvested on 70 percent of the acreage, behind last year's progress of 76 percent behind the normal progress of 72 percent.

The fourth cutting of alfalfa hay is virtually complete. A third cutting of clover and other hay was made on 85 percent of the acreage. Hay supplies were adequate. Wheat acreage was 86 percent seeded, behind last year's 87 percent and the five year average of 93 percent. Eighty-seven percent of the rye acreage was seeded compared with 96 percent last year and 97 percent on the average. Oats seedlings progress remained well behind normal at only 60 percent complete, behind last year and normal when virtually all the oats acreage was seeded.

UST or LUST: Do You Know What These Terms Mean?
Underground storage tanks (UST) and leaking underground storage tanks (LUST) are subjects of Federal regulations which became effective as of December 22, 1988. These are now in effect in Maryland in addition to current State regulations.

These tougher regulations were enacted because of survey results indicating that somewhere between 35 and 60% of the approximately 3.5 million underground tanks in the country are already leaking and that half of the bare steel tanks will start to leak within 10 years. In brief, all existing tanks must be upgraded within 10 years to meet the new requirements. However, exactly what you need to do and by when depends upon the age of your tank. I have a copy of the Federal schedule that tells you what to do and what is available upon request. Tanks that are 25 years and older require a leak detection test by the end of this year.

The regulations provide one exemption for farms with storage facilities with total storage capacity less than 10,100 gallons. Such facilities are exempt from the permit, inventory monitoring, and testing requirements. If you have a storage site that exceeds 10,100 gallons, you should seriously reconsider whether you need that much storage.

If you have old tanks, whether you are exempt or not under the above provision, you should consider replacing them. The alternative to underground storage is above ground storage. The regulations for new above ground storage tanks are less rigorous but do have provisions for spill and overflow protection.

If you have any questions on the regulations, you should contact your petroleum supplier or the Maryland Department of Environment, Underground Storage Tank Division at (301) 631-3442.

Chickweed in Alfalfa

With the snow on the ground you are probably thinking that talking weed control is a little out of season. However, chickweed is a "winter" annual weed that will be very active during the winter months. Controlling chickweed in new stands really presents a major problem. The herbicide Furolo CIPF was the standard to use on new seedlings for chickweed, but it is no longer labeled for use in alfalfa. Kerb is labeled for new seeding alfalfa but it must be applied in the fall or early winter before the ground freezes up. On established pure alfalfa stands you can use Gramoxone Super, Velpar, Lexone/Sencor, Sinbar and Kerb for chickweed control. As the winter progresses, keep an eye on chickweed growth. Most of the herbicides must be applied before dormancy of the alfalfa breaks, so you want to be ready.

State Fire Marshal Issues Safety Tips

Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele says it is hopeful that Marylanders will enjoy a fire safe holiday this year. Working in conjunction with local jurisdictions, Gabriele has developed a set of guidelines to help citizens avoid fire problems during the holiday season.

"Our citizens should remember that Christmas trees are very flammable, particularly if they have been cut far in advance of the Christmas holiday season," stated Gabriele. "When choosing a tree, look for one that is not shedding its needles — a clue that the tree is very dry and could present a fire danger if placed indoors. Furthermore, Christmas trees should only be kept indoors for a few weeks, as the trees tend to dry out rapidly due to the heat and low humidity of a home."

As for commercial and institutional facilities, the State Fire Marshal will not allow "live" or "fresh cut" trees in these facilities. Only trees in a "balled" condition with roots protected by an earthen ball or artificial trees are permitted in these properties.

During the holidays, the risk of fire is heightened due to carelessness and poor judgment, he said. Some examples of the careless acts which cause these fires include the improper use of holiday decorations, the placement of Christmas trees too close to heating appliances

CHRISTMAS TREES

*Cut the base of the tree at an angle at least one inch above the original cut and keep the base of the tree submerged in "sugar water" to help supply moisture to the tree.

*If possible, do not place the tree near furnace vents, electrical baseboard or any other heat source.

shows signs of extreme dryness, remove the tree from the home and dispose of it immediately.

LIGHTS

*Lights and extension cords should be examined for cracks or deteriorating conditions before they are used.

*Use only Underwriters Laboratory (U.L.) or Factory Mutual (F.M.) listed lighting sets on trees, whether artificial or "live."

*If a home is going to be unoccupied for any length of time, decorative lights on trees and throughout the home should be turned off.

DECORATIONS AND CANDLES

*It is strongly recommended that decorations be used that are labeled or otherwise certified as being "flame resistive" or "flame retardant." It should be noted that commercially available fire retardant treatments are not appropriate or very effective for Christmas trees and other similar Christmas decorations such as wreaths, garlands, etc.

*If candles are lit to add to the decorations throughout a home, they should be extinguished if the home is going to be unoccupied for any length of time.

*Christmas wrapping papers should be removed from the home promptly and disposed of to reduce the possibility of a fire occurring with these easily ignited materials.

"If everyone uses good judgment and common sense, we can all enjoy a fire safe and healthy holiday season," Gabriele said.

For further information on holiday fire safety measures, citizens should contact the Maryland State Fire Marshal's Office.

Heating Cost Help Offered By Columbia Gas

It's that time of year again when keeping the home warm becomes a priority. And for those who find winter heating costs to be a financial struggle, Columbia Gas says it can help.

"We are urging customers in need of assistance to look into the variety of programs that are designed to help them meet their winter heating costs," says Frank J. Bigler, Columbia's manager at Cumberland.

"Our trained representatives can easily provide information and advice on how to get assistance through both federal and local programs, and they can also offer suggestions on budgeting gas payments," said Bigler.

Bigler explained that customers with payment troubles can work out individually tailored payment options with Columbia's representatives.

"We are committed to doing all we can to help customers with payment difficulties," Bigler said. "We can help when customers let us know they are in need of assistance."

Columbia representatives can supply customers with information on how and where to apply for various assistance programs.

Some of the plans available to customers include:

Maryland Energy Assistance Program (MEAP): A federally funded program which pays a portion of eligible customers' heating bills for three months. The income requirement for MEAP is up to 150 percent of the federal poverty level.

Utility Service Protection Program (USPP): Permits MEAP-eligible customers to spread the annual cost of gas usage over 12 months. Arrangements can be made to correct any past due amounts through installment payments.

HeatShare for Citizens: A fund-of-last-resort, created from customer contributions — which Columbia's stockholders match $1 for every $2 received — and through a gas-purchase arrangement between Columbia and Citizens Energy Corp. The Salvation Army determines eligibility of applicants, who must first obtain other forms of assistance.

Information on all assistance programs is available at any local Columbia Gas office, Bigler said.

"We encourage customers who are experiencing payment difficulties to take full advantage of programs designed to help them meet winter heating costs," Bigler said. "In addition, we're available to sit down and work out the kind of payment arrangements customers can best manage. We want to be sure that every Columbia customer is warm and comfortable this winter."

"With the weather turning colder each day, now is the time to contact us," Bigler said. "We can help."

DAR Chapter Convenes, Hears Nat'l Resolutions

The Ladies of the Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at St. Paul's United Methodist Church November 20.

Mrs. Lillian Reckner presided. After the opening ritual, she welcomed a new junior member, Barbara Snyder. Mrs. Rosanne Sherwood read the Thanksgiving message from the President General. The transfer of membership of Mrs. Jo Elizabeth Gergott was accepted. Mrs. Gergott is a Life Member, coming into the Society through Anne DeFleck, National Officer.

The Chapter voted to proceed with the purchase of markers for the graves of deceased chapter members. It was decided to contact the persons in charge of organizing Veteran's Day and Memorial Day activities and ask that Youghiogheny Glades have part in the program.

In lieu of the regularly scheduled program, Mrs. Wilda Sanders, National Defense chairperson, presented some of the resolutions made by the National Society of the DAR at the last annual meeting. The resolutions called for: limitations on foreign ownership in America, opposition to the Medicare Cost Coverage Act of 1988, urging Congress to strengthen and tighten laws relating to the influx of aliens and to adopt a foreign policy that encourages a free market for economy in Central America, promotion of enlightened public opinion and to foster patriotic citizenship, urging Congress to restore the necessary funding for testing and deployment of the Strategic Defense Initiative, opposition to same day voter registration and demand that the Census Bureau terminate all plans to include illegal aliens in the 1990 Census for the purpose of Congressional reapportionment, advocating a return to high educational standards with a core curriculum of traditional required subjects and texts that emphasize world geography and history of the United States and Western Civilization, and urging Congress to prohibit the United States taxpayer guaranteed institutions from granting credit and unsecured unrestricted loans under preferential terms to Soviet Bloc countries.

The next meeting of Youghiogheny Glades Chapter will be in January.

Right-To-Know Law Seminars Set For Barbers

Maryland Occupational Safety and Health (MOSH) announces three additional free seminars to aid barbers and cosmetologists in complying with the state's Employee Right-to-Know Law. MOSH, a division of the state Department of Licensing and Regulation, is the agency responsible for enforcing safety and health laws and regulations at Maryland worksites.

Since September 1989, five programs have been presented to cosmetologists and barbers statewide. The programs explain the Access to Information about Hazardous and Toxic Substances law. This law is designed to protect the safety and health of employees who may be exposed to hazardous chemicals at work. Employers in beauty shops and barber shops must provide employees with information and training on the hazards of dyes, sprays, epoxies and other substances they may be using.

The additional session for Western Maryland is set for Monday, December 18, 1-4 p.m., in the Auditorium, Classroom Building, Hagerstown Junior College, 751 Robinwood Drive, Hagerstown.

Requests to attend the scheduled programs or to arrange additional training sessions should be made to Dr. Georgia Duffee, coordinator of Training and Education, MOSH, Division of Labor and Industry, at (toll free in Maryland), 1-800-492-6226, extension 4164.

For assistance in evaluating a worksite or work process, employers may request free on-site consultation. MOSH consultants will survey a workplace, advise of safety and health hazards and assist employers in finding solutions for elimination of the hazards. For additional information on MOSH Consultation Services, persons may contact Etta Mason, project manager, MOSH, Private Sector Consultation, Division of Labor and Industry, at (toll free in Maryland) 1-800-492-6226, extension 4210.

Agency On Aging Local Resident Honors Volunteers Wins First Place In Talent Event

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging (AAA) hosted an "afternoon tea" on November 30 at the Oakland Senior Citizens' Center in honor of volunteers of its Telephone Reassurance Program.

Volunteers were presented certificates of appreciation and flowers by Adina Brode, AAA director, and Roberta Manning, Telephone Reassurance coordinator, in recognition of the service they provide. These volunteers donate from 10 to 50 hours per month, contacting frail, homebound seniors by telephone. The purpose of the calls is to monitor clients who are homebound because of health conditions. In addition to assuring a client's well being, the volunteer callers establish a friendship with many who have little or no contact with family and friends, according to Mrs. Manning.

Those volunteers present were: Anna Petersheim, Goldie MacMillan, Lena Turner, Reah Phillips, and Betty Wilt. Unable to attend were Thelma Beitzel, Dorothy Bowen, Jane Ducoli, Candy Kish, Ella Maust, and Evelyn Whitmyer.

Following the presentation of the certificates, the volunteers shared their experience as callers and shared refreshments.

A Garrett County resident was among the first place winners in the seventh annual "Talent for Jesus" competition, sponsored by the Youth Ministry Department of Living Faith Fellowship, Keyser, W.Va., and held recently at Allegany Community College, Cumberland.

vocal soloists category for youth ages 12-15. Christa is the daughter of William and Darlene Smiley, Backbone Mountain. She is an eighth grade student at Bloomington Elementary School.

Judges for the event were Pastor Gordon Brubaker and Ed Hershman, of Living Faith Fellowship; Richard Davis, Grace United Methodist Church; Rick Jackson, Crellin Assembly of God; Mike Nau, Central Assembly of God; and Allen Emrick, Zion United Church of Christ.

New Life Church Choir To Present Christmas Cantata

The director of the choir and pianist is Doug Gaither, the narrator will be Ted Uphold, the voice of Mary will be that of Debbie Gaither, and the voice of Gabriel will be that of Bob Davis.

The public is invited to attend, free of charge. There will be a free-will offering collected.

The New Life Christian Church is located just off U.S. Rt. 219 on the News Lick Acres Road, about three miles north of Oakland. Harold Harman is the pastor.

Christian Women How To Have A Happy Holiday Season Without Overspending On Wednesday

The Oakland Christian Women's Club invites all area women to a "Christmas extravaganza" at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake, Wednesday, December 13, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

A Christmas message will be presented by Betty Jo Hudnall, of Crellin. Mrs. Hudnall is currently employed by Bausch and Lomb, Oakland, and is a mother of two children.

Vivian Thayer has a medley of Christmas music to share. She is a graduate of Fairmont State College and is the mother of four children.

Owner of Personality Yours Monogramming, Alder Street, Oakland, Teresa Feathers, will present ideas for last-minute gifts.

For more information on the luncheon and free nursery, persons may call Debi Murphy at 334-8550. Cost of the luncheon is $5.50.

For most of us, holidays such as Thanksgiving, Hanukkah and Christmas conjure up visions of joy, cheer and good will. But in reality, these winter holidays might more accurately be associated with overwork, exhaustion and financial worries.

Fortunately, these are attitudes and conditions that we have control over, says Dr. Mary Stephenson, a family resource management specialist with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

"We can say 'no' to many holiday responsibilities and can plan our expenditures wisely," she says.

Dr. Stephenson suggests developing family traditions that stress time together over money. Such traditions give family members a sense of roots and belonging without straining the budget.

"Holiday traditions don't have to be expensive," she says. "They may be nothing more than a special outing to gather holiday greens or a special dessert, like plum pudding, at the holiday meal. Often, it's the simple pleasures we remember most."

Other tips Stephenson recommends to help avoid the holiday money crunch:

1. Determine how much money you can afford to spend on such holidays as Hanukkah or Christmas, and be realistic about it.

2. Prepare a "shopping list" of expenses, including such "hidden" holiday expenses as travel, long-distance phone calls, decorations, wrapping paper and ribbons, cards and postage, and entertainment costs. Estimate what you can spend for each category and record your actual expenses afterward.

3. Pay cash. Charging can lead to overspending. Then, when the bills arrive in January, many people find they can't pay them off.

4. Use catalogs. Time is money in today's hectic world, so even if you don't actually order anything, they can save you time by providing you with good gift ideas.

5. Make cards and gifts. Homemade bread, cookies, relishes and jams; a hand-crocheted afghan; or a child's finger painting represent a labor of love and are valued accordingly.

6. Give gifts of service. Coupons that the recipient can return to the giver in exchange for a service, such as grass mowing, house painting, grocery shopping or dinner preparation, are sure to be appreciated by elderly friends or relatives and dual-income parents.

7. Comparison shop. This involves planning ahead and taking time to check several places for the gift you want. It's especially important with toys, says Stephenson, because the prices vary considerably from store to store.

8. Shop at bazaars, flea markets and holiday fairs; they can be sources of unexpected treasures, such as classic books, vintage jewelry and quality handmade items.

9. Choose lightweight gifts for mailing. It's just as easy to find a nice gift that weighs several ounces as one that weighs several pounds, and a lighter gift costs less to send.

Once the holidays are over, it's time to start planning for next year's holiday season. Learn from your experience this year. If you keep good track of your expenses, you will have a guide for next year.

You may wish to start putting money aside each week or month, so you'll have what you need next year. If you're not disciplined enough to save on your own, you can join a Christmas club through a bank or employee credit union.

"Christmas clubs usually don't offer very good interest rates, but they force people to save money for a specific purpose," says Stephenson. "They also are a helpful saving mechanism for individuals who can't deposit enough to qualify for other types of savings accounts."

Another way to avoid a lot of bills after the holidays is to buy presents throughout the year. Whenever you see something that someone would like, purchase it for the next holiday season.

And don't forget to take advantage of half-price, post-Christmas sales on wrapping paper, ribbons and cards.

"Some retailers cut their prices as early as Christmas Eve," Stephenson notes, "so while other people are scrambling for last-minute gifts, you can get a budget-conscious start on next year."

Tobacco Use

Several studies indicate that even moderate users are four to five times more likely to develop oral cancer. One study found that people who have used snuff for several decades are 50 times more likely to develop mouth cancer at the place in the mouth where the tobacco is kept.

Research has also shown that smokeless tobacco can be more addictive than cigarettes because users have a higher and more constant nicotine level in their bloodstreams than smokers. Nicotine levels rise and fall with cigarette use.

Among current users in the survey, a majority reported they wanted to quit or had tried to quit and had been unsuccessful.

Programs designed specifically to help smokeless tobacco users quit are rare, and the few pilot programs in existence have not been very successful, Simon said.

"It's in a concentrated form, so it is very powerful stuff. People who tried to quit reported withdrawal symptoms. When you add this to strong social reinforcement, quitting can be extremely difficult," he said.

"Several men who use smokeless tobacco have told me how accepted and grown up they felt when an adult male offered them their first chew. That sort of reinforcement is very common and encourages widespread use."

Simon said that while cigarette smoking has declined nationwide, smokeless tobacco use has increased. Sales of moist snuff, the most popular of these products, has increased 11 percent every year since 1974.

In 1986, the U.S. Surgeon General declared smokeless tobacco use a "serious health risk" and smokeless tobacco products now carry warning labels which say "This product may cause gum disease and tooth loss," and "This product is not a safe alternative to cigarettes."

In spite of these warnings, many users may be under the false impression that smokeless tobacco is a safe alternative to cigarettes.

"To change that impression, widespread education that smokeless tobacco is addictive, harmful and potentially deadly is needed," Simon said.

"State law prohibits children under 18 from buying, selling and using tobacco products, but these laws are not generally enforced."

"Enforcement of current laws is needed. We also need new legislation to prevent tobacco companies from aiming advertising at children and distributing easily accessible free samples."

Simon added that the survey results send a clear message that effective intervention to stop children from becoming users must occur early and target entire communities.

"Education needs to target children, beginning in the primary grades. But because smokeless tobacco is used heavily in all segments of the community, prevention efforts will only be effective if they also target parents, churches, coaches and community groups," he said.

Data from the survey will be used to assist health-care professionals and educators develop effective tobacco prevention and cessation programs in West Virginia and other states.

Some Information Concerning Arthritis

Arthritis has more than 100 different forms. More than 37 million Americans - one in every seven - are touched by it; one in every three families encounters some form as well.

Of the many different types of arthritis, there are two that are most prevalent: Osteoarthritis, usually experienced by elderly people, and Tendinitis, which usually hits the middle-aged weekend athlete.

Both consist primarily of the same symptoms: soreness in the joints, and an inability to move without pain.

There are measures you can take to help alleviate arthritic pain. If you have arthritis, see your doctor.

Your local Revco pharmacist has information on which over-the-counter medications may be best for you.

Mellinger Road House Guttied By Fire Saturday

A hot stove pipe is believed to be responsible for a fire that caused an estimated $75,000 damage to a Garrett County house Saturday evening.

Volunteer fire fighters from Deer Park and Bittinger, and later from Oakland, were called to the John Peachy residence, located along Mellinger Road north of Swanton, just off of Rt. 496. The call for assistance was issued by the Garrett County Office of Emergency Management at 6:36 p.m. Oakland firemen were summoned at about 7:30 p.m.

According to Guy Carola, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, the fire originated in a pipe leading from a stove to the chimney. The hot pipe set the wall on fire and flames quickly spread into the walls and attic of the two-story structure. An addition to the house was currently under construction around the exterior chimney.

Mr. and Mrs. Peachy were not at home when the fire began; however, four of their children were in the house at the time and escaped without injury. They called for help after the house began to fill with smoke.

It took considerable time for fire fighters to bring the blaze under control because so much of the fire was inside interior walls.

Firemen remained on the scene until 12:43 a.m. Sunday.

Oakland Man Charged With Child Abduction

An Oakland man was arrested Monday on charges of child abduction, according to reports from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Kenneth Lee Stinson, 31, was arrested on a warrant following the six-day disappearance of his 21-month-old daughter, Laura Bethany Stinson, from the child's mother's home in the Cumberland area.

According to police reports, Laura was taken from her residence by her father during a visitation on November 17. The child was found by police six days later at an Oakland residence. She was unharmed.

Deputy C.C. Feller served Stinson's arrest warrant. Stinson was released the same day on his own recognizance.

In a separate case, Robert

THE HOLIDAY SEASON for one Garrett County family was severely dampened Saturday night when fire gutted their house, located along Mellinger Road north of Swanton. A hot stove pipe was believed to be the cause of the 6:36 p.m. blaze which caused an estimated $75,000 loss to the house owned by the John Peachy family. Four of the Peachy children were at home when the fire started; however, all escaped without injury. Fire fighters from Deer Park, Bittinger, and Oakland battled the frustrating flames which spread throughout the walls of the wood-frame structure. Photo by Craig Speicher.

Armed Man Robs Red House Video Store Last Friday

An armed robber held up a Red House video store last Friday and escaped with approximately $100 in cash, according to reports from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

A man held the owner of Stoner's Red Barn Video, Esther Stoner, at knifepoint as he confiscated the cash. Mrs. Stoner and two grandchildren were alone in the store at the time, but did not sustain injuries as a result of the incident.

The suspect, shown in the above composite drawing, entered the store shortly before 5 p.m. and purchased a can of snuff. He then left the store and returned to his vehicle. The subject appeared to put some snuff in his mouth and then returned to the store.

Upon his return, the suspect displayed a 4-inch pocket knife and demanded money. The robber then fled the scene with approximately $100 in cash, according to Detective P.J. Kelly.

The suspect drove east on Route 50 in a vehicle similar to a Subaru, light tan or cream in color.

According to witness' accounts the rear license tag may have been a dealer tag with a red background.

The suspect is described as a white male, approximately five feet tall and weighing approximately 140 pounds. He has blonde hair just over his ears, a light complexion, and possibly a

Egdon Man Finds Telephone Service Being Modernized In Several Garrett County Towns

The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland will complete $2.2 million worth of service improvement construction projects in Garrett County over the next weekend. According to C&P Manager — External Affairs Nancy Nemith, the central switching offices in Accident, Bittinger, Friendsville, Grantsville and Kitzmiller will be converted to new digital electronic switching systems on December 16. These new switches will provide customers in the area with the most modern telephone service available anywhere, she said.

"The conversion of the new offices will improve telephone service for approximately 3,800 customers whose telephone numbers begin with 245, 453, 746, 826 and 896 and in area code 304, numbers beginning with 446," explained Nemith. "The new switches replace electro-mechanical equipment which had been installed between 1938 and 1963."

"The new systems are digital remote switching modules, (RSM's) and are linked to the host switch in Cumberland by fiber optic cable and terminals. The new system recently installed in Cumberland is a DMS 100/200 Supernode digital electronic switching system. Through the use of remote

If a switch detects a problem, it communicates this to our technicians and switches to a back-up system until the repair is made."

Digital electronic switches offer many advantages to customers, she said, they are more reliable and efficient as opposed to the electro-mechanical offices they are replacing. They use less space and energy and require less maintenance. Maintenance and service functions are accomplished using software instead of manpower. The switches are also flexible and can easily be modified to provide future features and service.

Customers will notice several changes," Nemith explained. "Calls are completed more quickly, and there is an improvement in the quality of the call — less static, better completion rate, 'cleaner' dialing (there's no background noise of equipment switching the calls)."

"Customers will also find they must dial seven digits to

Telephone Service Being Modernized In Several Garrett County Towns

The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland will complete $2.2 million worth of service improvement construction projects in Garrett County over the next weekend. According to C&P Manager — External Affairs Nancy Nemith, the central switching offices in Accident, Bittinger, Friendsville, Grantsville and Kitzmiller will be converted to new digital electronic switching systems on December 16. These new switches will provide customers in the area with the most modern telephone service available anywhere, she said.

"The conversion of the new offices will improve telephone service for approximately 3,800 customers whose telephone numbers begin with 245, 453, 746, 826 and 896 and in area code 304, numbers beginning with 446," explained Nemith. Governor Notes Approval Of Loan For Phoenix, Inc.

Governor William Donald Schaefer today announced Board of Public Works approval of a $250,000 loan to the Maryland Economic Development Corporation and Garrett County to finance the first project under the Regional Enterprise Assistance Deposit Incentive Loan (READI) pilot program. This project will result in the creation of five jobs and the retention of 25 at a plant in Accident.

Chaired by the governor, the Board of Public Works also is comprised of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Lucille Maurer. The board is authorized by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions and other procurement actions.

"This use of the new READI program is a perfect example of how creative financing can work to get new businesses off the ground especially in areas where they are needed most," said Governor Schaefer. "It also shows the ingenuity of our local officials, particularly Delegate George Edwards (Dist. 1A), who were instrumental in getting this program started."

The READI loan, provided by the Maryland Industrial and Commercial Redevelopment Fund (MICRF) of the Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) will be used by Phoenix Tech-

Susan Crawford Assumes Duties As Inspector General Of Defense

Garrett County resident Susan Crawford assumed her new duties as inspector general of the Department of Defense on November 28, after having been confirmed by the Senate just hours before it adjourned for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Ms. Crawford had been nominated for the position by President Bush, and subsequently recommended to the Senate Armed Services Committee by Congresswoman Helen Bentley (R-MD) and Beverly Byron (D-MD). Members of the committee who conducted the hearing were Senators Sam Nunn (D-GA), chairman, John Warner (R-VA), John Glenn (D-OH), Strom Thurmond (D-SC), Trent Lott (R-MS), and Tim Wirth (D-CO). Following the hearing, the committee recommended approval to the full Senate where she was unanimously confirmed.

As inspector general, Ms. Crawford is the highest ranking civilian woman on the staff of Secretary of Defense Richard Cheney. Her responsibilities include initiating, conducting, supervising, and monitoring audits, investigations, and inspections relating to programs and operations of the Department of Defense. She provides leadership and recommends policies for activities designed to promote economy and efficiency in the administration of those programs and operations, while at the same time preventing fraud and abuse. She is also responsible for keeping the secretary of defense and Congress fully informed on these activities.

Ms. Crawford will supervise a staff of 1,200 auditors and investigators and will work closely with the General Accounting Office and Department of Justice. She is the third person to become inspector general since the position was created by Congress in 1962.

Kathryn Sincell To Perform With Choral Society

Among the professional vocalists who will perform during the Garrett Choral Society's Christmas Concert this weekend will be lyric soprano, Kathryn Sincell, a native of Mtn. Lake Park.

Ms. Sincell was the soprano soloist with the Choral Society during last year's performance of Handel's "Messiah." She is a high-honors graduate of Frostburg State College and holds a master's degree in vocal performance from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas. She attended graduate school at SMU after being awarded a Meadows Artistic Achievement Scholarship. She received her master's degree in 1986 and continued to reside in Dallas as a student of Thomas Hayward, a former Metropolitan Opera tenor. She moved to New York City in the summer of 1988, where she studies under Eva Likova, a former soprano soloist with the New York City Opera.

Ms. Sincell is the director of and has been a soloist for the Garrett Lakes Music Festival, which is part of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival. Other participants in this event.

This year's concert will be held Saturday, March 31, in Washington, D.C., at 2 p.m. The conductor will be Harry John Brown from the State University of Fredonia, New York.

Earns Chair In State Orchestra

April Slagle, Friendsville, a student at Northern High School, will represent Garrett County in the 1990 Maryland All-State Orchestra.

Miss Slagle auditioned with several hundred other violin players throughout Maryland to make the first violin section. She is the first string player from Garrett County students to participate in this event.

This year's concert will be held Saturday, March 31, in Washington, D.C., at 2 p.m. The conductor will be Harry John Brown from the State University of Fredonia, New York.

THE FINAL REHEARSAL by the Garrett Choral Society for the group's annual Christmas Concert will be held this evening at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland. The concert is slated for this Friday, Saturday, and Sunday and will feature three professional soloists from New York City — Robert Mosley, baritone; Thomas Young, tenor; and Kathryn Sincell, a native of Mtn. Lake Park, soprano. All three were soloists last year for the Choral Society's presentation of Handel's "Messiah." The program this year will include some numbers from the "Messiah," such as "Comfort Ye," featuring Thomas Young, and the "Hallelujah Chorus." The concert will also include traditional and contemporary Christmas pieces, such as Alfred Burt carols, plus several numbers from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio." Nancy Learey is the director and Dr. David Sheets is the accompanist. The Friday and Saturday programs will begin at 8 p.m. and the Sunday program will be at 2 p.m. All three will be held at St. Peter's Church. Tickets, which are $6 for adults and $3 for children, may be purchased at Englander's Pharmacy or from Choral Society members.

ANNUAL CANDLELIGHT SERVICES WILL BE HELD at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, this Sunday, December 17, at 5 and 7:30 p.m. The two services will include selections by the choir and solos by Dr. Herbert Leighton, Edward Bittinger, and Carolyn Lambert Will. A nursery will be provided for the services, and the Rev. Robert P. Johnson invites the public to attend. Pictured above, front row, left to right, are Bob Johnson, David Sheets, Alma Johnson, Carol Slagle, Joan Lambert, Ethel Rae Snyder, Emily DeWitt, Lillian Reckner and

Police Report Local Thefts

Several local thefts are currently under the investigation of the Maryland State Police at McHenry.

John Mellinger, Swanton, reported that a 1985 Yamaha ATV was taken from his garage between 8:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Monday.

The culprit reportedly backed a pickup truck up to the unlocked garage and loaded the vehicle onto the back, then fled. The ATV was valued at $800. Tfc. D.G. Rigglesman is continuing the investigation.

John P. Beitzel, McHenry, reported that a Ruger .22 caliber Mark 2 target pistol was stolen from his 1988 Ford Bronco on November 26. The pistol was valued at $250.

Gary J. Wilhelm reported that the tailgate of his pickup truck was stolen last Wednesday night while the truck was parked at the Stonehenge bar, Long Stretch.

Tpr. G.S. Becker is investigating.

Mtn. Lake Man Gets Two-Year Jail Sentence

A Mtn. Lake Park man was sentenced to a total of two years in the Garrett County Jail for driving while intoxicated and driving with a suspended license during a recent trial in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Charles Stinson, 34, was sentenced to one year for the DWI charge and one year for the suspended license charge. Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer suspended the second sentence, placing Stinson on two years supervised probation and fining him $1000. He was also fined $50 for a charge of failing to keep to the right of the center line. A charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol was merged with the DWI charge.

Stinson was arrested by Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy Denver Welch on January 11, 1989, on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. He was represented by John R. Toston, public defender.

In an appeal from Garrett County District Court, Francis E. Resh, 50, Accident, was found guilty of trespassing and fined $500.

The charge was originally filed by Galen E. Resh Jr., Accident, following a February 15, 1989, incident in Accident. Francis Resh reportedly entered Galen Resh's property and refused to leave when asked to do so.

The District Court case was heard August 1, when Resh was also found guilty and fined $500. Resh's attorney was Bill L. Smith.

Entitled "Western Maryland: Peaks 'n' Valleys," the half-hour program focuses on the economy of the Western Maryland region over this century, with particular emphasis on the decade of the 1980s.

"We have striven for a balanced, accurate depiction of Western Maryland's history, economy, and people," stated John Rydell, reporter/producer for MPT.

The MPT network includes Channel 36, Oakland, which can be viewed by Oakland cable subscribers on channel eight on the dial.

Lohr Distributors Earn National Coors Award

An Oakland beer distributing company has been named the recipient of a national award for its efforts in business and community involvement.

Lohr Distributors Inc., owned by Robert and Cathy Lohr, was one of only 38 Coors Brewing Company distributors in the United States selected to receive the company's Golden Opportunity Award. The distributors honored with the award were selected on the basis of performance in six areas: quality assurance, sales and marketing, management operations, distributor services, and community relations.

There are 616 distributors and 62 branch operations in the Coors network. Winners of the award varies in size from Shore Point Distributing Company, Inc., in Holmdel, N.J., which serves a community of about 1.8 million, to Lohr Distributors in the town of Oakland, which has a population of about 2,000.

Lohr's was one of 12 distributors in the Southern Region of the Coors network to be so honored. Seven of the other winners in that region are Texas-based distributors, two are located in Florida, one is in North Carolina, and two, including Lohr's, are in Maryland.

Peter H. Coors, president of Coors Brewing Company, said, "These distributors have exhibited excellence in sales, operations, and as active members of their communities. Their high standards of performance represent Coors' firm commitment to customer satisfaction."

Another Albino Deer Harvested

Paul Sines, Swallow Falls, had a successful hunting outing with two friends Tuesday afternoon when he bagged an albino (all white) deer in the Sang Run area. Sines was using a muzzleloader rifle.

The button buck was checked in by Sines at Green Acres in Oakland. It was at least the second albino deer harvested this season.

According to wildlife experts, the albino deer is not exceedingly rare and is all white because the animal lacks certain pigmentation necessary for color.

A Special Gift . . .

Maurica Riggelman had just cashed a check and was doing some Christmas shopping last Wednesday afternoon near Oakland. What she didn't realize was that she dropped her envelope containing over five hundred dollars in the parking lot.

Michael Hollobaugh, a 33-year-old father of four from Eglon, W.Va., happened to find the envelope, which contained no identification. Without hesitation, he took the money to the Sheriff's Department and turned the money in, explaining where and how he had found it. With a receipt that was also inside the envelope, the Sheriff's Department were able to identify the owner of the cash and return it to Mrs. Riggelman, who was inside the department store and never even knew she had lost the money.

We were unable to contact Mr. Hollobaugh because his family has no telephone. We talked to Mrs. Hollobaugh, an employee at Hopemont Hospital, who said that her husband is a student.

How tempting it would be to just slip that unexpected treasure into one's pocket and walk away, especially this time of year. No one but Mr. Hollobaugh would have ever known what had happened to that money. What a great help that money would have been to make an extra special Christmas for his wife and children. It would have been a major loss to Mrs. Riggelman, but hey, finders keepers!

Upon speaking with the sheriff and Mrs. Hollobaugh, we learned that there was never any question, never any doubt in Mr. Hollobaugh's mind as to what he was going to do with the money.

In a world where it is the acts of evil that receive so much attention, it is so refreshing and heartwarming to hear of incidents such as these. At the same time, it is a shame that the behavior of Mr. Hollobaugh is the exception rather than the norm.

We believe that this will be a special Christmas for the Hollobaugh family, special in a way that could never be secured with money. We see a bright future for the Hollobaugh children because of the quality of their parents. We also thank Mr. Hollobaugh for his wonderful gift of honesty, so greatly needed in this world of ours.

If you succeed, your family will appreciate this gift far more than any material gift you could conceive of giving.

Sincerely,
John H. O'Hara

To the Editor:
Last week something was brought to my attention that upset me concerning our school and I thought other parents should know.

I wanted to see my son's teachers at Northern High School and waited for some notice of conferences. I finally called the school and was told that there are NO conferences scheduled for this school. I asked why and was told that our Board of Education did not schedule any for NHS for this year. I was told that if I wanted to talk to his teachers that I could make an appointment. The appointment was made through the Guidance Office and I did get to see the teachers.

As a concerned parent, I thought this should be known. I was so used to having conferences to keep up and in touch with my son and school that I wanted other concerned parents to know this.

Under Ron Brown as Chairman, the Democratic Party is cutting its own throat on the issue of abortion.

A minority of pro-abortionists have gained control of the party and hold it hostage to the pro-abortion plank in the party platform. They will not always have this control. Pro-lifers will exert more influence in the party as the Democratic Party continues to lose the White House.

George Bush is pro-life because he knows the right to life position is right morally and that the Right to Life Movement elected him President. He also knows that the Right to Life Movement is continually stronger and will be able to re-elect him.

Nothing can compare with the overall dedication and determination of the pro-lifers. They, with some recent help from the Supreme Court, have through seventeen years of work, raised the issue as the most common item in the news. They have always realized that it is the most important issue. More and more citizens are voting on the single issue of the right to life.

Many pro-abortionists will want to find out more about the right to life side if they are going to continue voting solely on the right to life abortion issue. They will not want to discover that they have voted wrong. They will "hedge" their voting by finding out more about the right to life.

The right to life has dug deeply into our society. There are 3,000 chapters of the National Right to Life Committee and 3,000 crisis pregnancy centers. The right to life-abortion issue will be increasingly more of an issue in town, city and county elections which are training grounds for higher office.

Pro-life strength will be even greater as more Americans learn the right to life message.

The hard-core abortionists know that they will eventually totally lose and that they are losing now. Yet they want to make hay (kill) while the sun shines. Their motto is "give ground grudgingly." In 1990, they will give up a lot of ground particularly if the Supreme Court upholds the parental notification legislation which

The Mind Wanders

by Sherry Frantz

As I sat and discussed the topic of this week's column — the national anthem — I was all but poo-pooed into oblivion. It seems I had a slightly (that's as far as I will allow) weak position to defend, my position being that "The Star-Spangled Banner" should be replaced by "America The Beautiful" as the national anthem.

That position is shared by Indianapolis Representative Andrew Jacobs Jr. who, for nine out of the past twelve years has introduced this change into legislation.

The pro-change position is founded on the theory that while "The Star-Spangled Banner," with phrases like, "...rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air" seems to carry the theme of the glorification of war, "America The Beautiful" connotes a more peaceful image as in, "Oh beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain..."

But, you might say, this nation won its freedom and independence through those wars, and as Francis Scott Key, in 1812, was inspired by the fact "...that our flag was still there" after Ft. McHenry had experienced a night of rocket bombardment, so we should be inspired each time we hear the strains of this patriotic song.

While the sentiment holds merit, there is also validity in the pure, unassuming, peaceful message of "America The Beautiful," whose "And crown thy good with brotherhood, from sea to shining sea" depicts a "kinder, gentler nation," if you will.

True, we won our independence by going to war, but, hopefully, we have learned since then there may be better ways to gain (or maintain) freedoms. And if the world sees our nation as one who holds "purple mountains" in majesty instead of "bursting bombs," we may be sending a healthier message.

Among those opposing the change is our own Gov. William Donald Schaefer who, according to an article in "The Baltimore Sun," written by Doug Birch, said, "As Marylanders, we should be especially proud of the fact that the defense of our young nation in Baltimore now stands throughout the world as the symbol of American pride and freedom."

Birch's article began with, "First they took the Colts away in the dead of night. Now they want to demote the Fort McHenry-inspired 'Star-Spangled Banner' from the rank of national anthem. What does Indianapolis have against Baltimore, anyway?"

And you thought my reasoning was lame! Well, excuse me if I strike an appalling chord, but we are talking about the national — not Maryland and not Baltimore — anthem, aren't we? City and state egos should not enter into this argument.

Another argument for keeping "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the national anthem is the sentimentality (tears) and pride it invokes in every red-blooded American. But please study the last verse of "America The Beautiful" and try not to be moved: "Oh Beautiful for patriot dream that sees beyond the years Thine alabaster cities gleam undimmed by human tears America! America! God shed his grace on thee And crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea."

To the Editor:
The Christmas season has come again and most people are having trouble finding the proper gift for their loved ones. For the many smokers out there, may I suggest that you give the perfect gift: stop smoking! You will be giving your friends and family the following:
*Freedom from the irritation and potential damage caused by the thousands of harmful components contained in tobacco smoke.

*Decreased risk of dying or being burned. (Smoking is the biggest cause of home fires in the United States).

*An increase of four to eight years of your life to share with them.

*A healthier body so that you can more actively share their lives.

*More money to spend on things other than tobacco products.

*A cleaner-smelling home, car, etc. (Let's face it, tobacco smoke stinks, and the odor permeates material and remains long after the smoke has disappeared).

*A good example for youngsters to emulate.

*Cleaner breath so that your kisses will no longer taste like a dirty old ash tray.

To the Editor:

We have been in concern, disgust and outrage for some time now.

My brother has been in Appalachian Crossroads for several years now. His treatment in the past years has at times been questionable, but otherwise, for the most part, acceptable.

He has had things stolen (not misplaced) and our parents were not informed. They found out totally by accident. But, this is not the nature of our outrage at this time.

We have been aware (and disgusted) that my brother and other handicapped people have been cleaning the filth and rubbish in and around the dump sites for an unknown period of time. This is our concern, they are not aware of the dangers, the risks they continue to take. Perhaps they wear protective gloves (hopefully), but even this is not enough. (Dangers of rotting food, used condoms, etc.).

Why is it necessary for the mentally impaired to do such a job? Perhaps they receive a small pittance for their duty. But we were under the impression that "normal" people receive minimum wage (at least), and that this is their job. (Are we incorrect?)

Also, in the published letter a few weeks ago, it was reported that a total of six sites (we had no idea the number), were cleaned in this manner.

It was also reported in this letter that the writer did not like to handle the deer remains. We do not like for my brother or other members of Appalachian to handle the deer (or other critter remains), either. (But then, they know not what they do).

My parents and family do not think the dump sites should be cleaned in this fashion. Is anyone else (parents, sisters, brothers — ANYONE) aware or concerned about this?

Thank you for the opportunity to voice our displeasure at what continues to happen.

Sincerely,
Scott and Cheryl Kinsinger

Dear Kinsingers:
We took the liberty to investigate your allegations about this program of Appalachian Crossroads and discovered the following: this is a totally voluntary program and there is no pressure on the clients to participate; the employees wear full protective clothing; they are supervised at all times; they are performing a good community service; it is a good opportunity for outside work; and safety is of utmost concern. As to the incidents of stealing, we learned that your brother once had a bicycle stolen, the person who stole the bike was caught, and the bike returned. We were also informed that a radio was misplaced when your brother was moved from one house to another.

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

GOOD BUSINESS AND GOOD CITIZENSHIP HELPING THE DISABLED

by Governor William Donald Schaefer

I have always said that the greatest people in the world live and work in Maryland. And as I travel around the state talking to the caring and concerned people of Maryland, I am more convinced of that than ever.

Recently, for instance, I had breakfast at a very popular restaurant owned by the Marriott Corporation. I talked to two of the most polite and most enthusiastic employees I have met in a long time and I learned something about good business and good citizenship in Maryland.

In earlier years, my breakfast hosts might have been labeled as "handicapped" and removed from the job market. Each had a severe disability which made it hard, if not impossible, for them to get a job interview, much less a job. But the Marriott Corporation, working with the state's Office for Handicapped Individuals, reached out to these "handicapped" workers to teach them new job skills and to give them the support they needed to do the job.

The results were evident — two conscientious and capable employees doing jobs that not only provided a pay check but gave each a feeling of self-worth and self-esteem.

The Marriott Corporation has been a national leader in hiring disabled workers. Individuals with disabilities work in the corporation's legal department, manage restaurants and hotels, and serve as project supervisors and administrators.

It's good business for them. "These young people are among our best workers," the restaurant manager told me. "They seldom miss a day. They take immense pride in their performance. This arrangement is good for both of us."

Hiring workers with disabilities is such good business that a group of business leaders in the state has made it their responsibility to get that message out to their peers. The Maryland Chief Executive Officers' Council (CEOOC) is just finishing its first year of operation. The 12 members of the council have learned first hand the benefits of hiring individuals with disabilities and they have begun a one-on-one campaign to tell their story to others. At their own expense, these committed corporate citizens have sponsored a series of small breakfasts where they have shared their experiences with their colleagues.

Where ever they go, their message is the same: Hiring workers with disabilities helps everyone — the worker, the community, and most of all, the business. It is that simple. Workers with disabilities can do the job as well or better than others. And in a shrinking worker pool, individuals with disabilities are an important and often overlooked source of good employees.

I especially want to commend the co-chairmen of the CEOOC, Richard Hug, president of Environmental Elements in Baltimore, and Bruce McMahan, a banker who also serves as chairman of the National Cristina Foundation, have devoted hundreds of hours to the council.

Through personal experience Bruce found that one of the best ways to help individuals with disabilities was to teach them computer skills. The problem was not finding teachers. The problem was finding computers.

Bruce took a very direct approach. He contacted companies all over the United States and told them that he needed computers to help handicapped individuals. He didn't ask for new computers. He asked for "obsolete" computers, machines that could still do the job but which no longer met the needs of growing companies. The National Cristina Foundation has placed more than 2,500 computers in Maryland schools and training facilities.

The caring individuals of the Chief Executive Officers' Council are doing something important for all of us. But they can use help. I hope that more Maryland businesses will consider donating obsolete computers to the National Cristina Foundation. (Contributions are tax-deductible).

We'd also like to find more jobs for workers with disabilities. If you want more information about either of these programs or if you have other ideas to help disabled individuals, I'd like to hear from you. Write to me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

HOLIDAY BLUES

by F. Conrad Cole, PhD

Director of Psychological Services

Thomas B. Finan Center, Cumberland

"This is the holiday season. I am suppose to feel good. So why do I feel so depressed?" Many of us have this internal dialogue each December, but the feelings, born of holiday rushing and stress, pass as we enter the New Year. For some of us, however, "holiday blues" are merely one more manifestation of depression — the most common emotional disturbance in our country today.

Depressive feelings apparently are universal in humans. They are clearly appropriate and necessary reactions in certain situations, such as the death of a loved one, because they help us purge the loss and prepare us to go on with our lives. However, at some point in our lives, one in five of us will experience serious depression which cripples our adjustment to and enjoyment of life and may even threaten our existence. Although it affects different people in different ways at different times, depression is no respecter of age, sex, race or creed. Data from mental health facilities suggest, however, that women and married persons are more likely to receive diagnosis of and treatment for depression.

A complex combination of factors seems to underlie and contribute to the development and experience of depression. Some research suggests that some of us have a genetic predisposition to depression, and individual biochemical factors are also clearly involved. Our exposure to family, religious, cultural, and other social values and mores during childhood, as well as our personality structure, also seem to contribute to our susceptibility to depression.

The above-mentioned factors seem to combine to produce a variety of physical, psychological and social symptoms of depression. Chronic fatigue, changes in appetite and sleep, and increased physical illnesses are all physical signs of the possible presence of depression. Feelings of sadness and irritability, loss of self-esteem and self-respect, excessive rumination, problems with maintaining attention and concentration to tasks, and increased feelings of helplessness and hopelessness are all psychological warning signs. Socially, depression frequently evidences itself in withdrawal and isolation, loss of interpersonal warmth, and changes in sexual interests and activity.

If you are experiencing some or all of these symptoms, if they are interfering with your enjoyment of life, and if they are not decreasing with the passage of time, perhaps you need to take some positive actions to change your life. Examine your feelings to see if you can pinpoint any sources of depression and can think of any changes that might reduce the feelings. Keep active with physical exercise and try to plan more pleasurable activities into your daily schedule. Express your feelings, especially angry ones, rather than bottling them up. Seek out a trusted friend and discuss your situation. Clergy are often extremely helpful at such times. If all these suggestions fail to reduce your symptoms, call your doctor or local mental health clinic and request a session with a professional counselor to evaluate your situation and plan ways of making life changes.

Some of us are embarrassed by or fearful of admitting that we may have psychological problems which require the assistance of professionals. Please — take care of yourself. If you don't, who else will? Your mental health is as important as your physical health. Mental health professionals are ready, willing and able to assist you. Be your own best friend and seek out assistance when you need it. Depression is a serious problem and one that cannot be ignored.

In one of the darkest eras of world history God sent His only begotten Son into this world to bring light, hope, and life abundant and eternal.

At this Christmas time we know that the picture of our world is again darkened by sin, greed, hatred and war.

Open House Set For Mammography Unit At GCMH

An open house for the public to tour the new mammography unit at Garrett County Memorial Hospital has been scheduled for Thursday, December 21, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The new 115 XRE Dedicated Mammography System, recently purchased by the GCMH Foundation, is designed for high-quality imaging with low radiation dose. Larry M. Beck, hospital administrator, explained that the new unit has been installed in a renovated room which will be dedicated specifically for mammography. The new room allows for easier, more comfortable patient positioning which enhances image quality and reduces exam time, as well as allows space for the viewing of a video on breast health and early cancer detection. The American Cancer Society donated a television and video cassette recorder for use in this unit.

Mammography is a service provided for the community by Garrett Memorial at no charge for the procedure. The only charge to the patient is the radiologist fee for reading the films. Mammography volumes have more than doubled in less than three years at Garrett Memorial. Beck said, from 54 procedures per month when the service was initiated in 1986, to the current volume of 114 per month.

Robert P. Sharps, Foundation chairman, commented, "The purchase of this mammography equipment is an exciting milestone in the young life of the Foundation. This type of equipment was cited during the Capital Campaign as an example of how the Foundation could fill a significant need in our hospital. Now, because of the hard work of many volunteers and because of the extreme generosity of the mountain top community, we are able to make this purchase much earlier than planned."

Sharps continued, "I am also pleased that this equipment will be a potential benefit to so many people in the hospital service area. Breast cancer is a leading cause of death to women and the ability to detect a problem at an early stage can save lives. The added privacy and availability afforded by this dedicated unit should also encourage routine checkups as a part of the Wellness Together Program."

"To me this equipment represents what the Foundation is all about — caring and concern, friends and neighbors working for a healthier future for our community," concluded Sharps.

To fight breast cancer, the American Cancer Society offers the following mammography guidelines:

Women 35-39: See your doctor for a baseline mammogram.
Women 40-49: Have a mammogram every 1-2 years, even if no symptoms are present.

Women 50 and over: See your doctor for a mammogram every year.

"A mammogram can see things too small for me to feel," remarked Dr. Margaret Kaiser, local board certified internist. "Between a good exam and a regular mammogram, we can find problems very early. If caught early enough, we can usually cure breast cancer."

Local Habitat For Humanity Forms Carpenter's Club

Habitat for Humanity, a local non-profit organization geared toward providing adequate housing for those in need, has responded to funding needs with the formation of the Carpenter's Club.

Membership involves an initial donation of $20 to join. (Members receive a Habitat cap, T-shirt and a certificate). Upon completion of each new home, members will donate an additional $35 to the organization.

Persons wishing to give more financial help at the outset can become founding members by donating a gift of $195 ($20 to join, $35 each for the five houses slated for completion during this current fiscal year.) Habitat is also in need of volunteers willing to donate time to work on the houses or participate in fund raising.

This summer people from different states and diverse occupations came to Garrett County to help the local Habitat for Humanity assist those in need of housing.

In all, 109 persons helped local Garrett Countians build one home and repair ten other residences. They came from Vienna and Waynesboro, Va.; Wheaton; Camp Hill, Pa.; and Chelmsford, Mass. The volunteers came at their own expense, bringing their tools and sharing their skills.

Summer work camps such as this have become an annual part of efforts to improve the quality of life for local persons in need of adequate shelter.

Habitat for Humanity has built 18 homes in the past five

Top Math And Science Teachers Being Sought

The White House is interested in identifying excellent science and mathematics teachers who work with students in grades seven through 12 in public or private schools.

Since 1983, hundreds of science and mathematics teachers from throughout the U.S. have been honored in Washington, D.C., and presented with Presidential Awards for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Teaching. The purpose of the award is to encourage and reward outstanding teachers and to identify these teachers as models for others who are considering teaching as a career.

There will be 108 awardees in 1990, one science and one mathematics teacher from each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Department of Defense Schools, and the U.S. territories. Recipients receive the Presidential Award, a trip to Washington, D.C., a $7,500 National Science Foundation grant for their school, and various gifts from business and industry.

Nominations can come from students, parents, teachers, or anyone who knows about a teacher's qualifications. Awardees are selected on the basis of their teaching performance, their experience and education, and their outside professional activities. The program is particularly eager to receive nominations of outstanding middle school teachers and teachers from under-represented minority groups and proposes to honor teachers who are unusually successful with average students as well as those who work with more gifted ones. Eligible teachers have spent at least five years teaching science or mathematics half-time or more in a middle school or junior or senior high school.

Nominations should be addressed to: PAESMT, NSTA Special Projects, 5112 Herwyn Road, 3rd Floor, College Park, MD 20740. The deadline for nominations is March 1, 1990.

MICROFILM READER-PRINTER DONATED — Virginia Lawton, of Washington, D.C. and formerly of Oakland, and the Reader's Digest Foundation donated funds to the Ruth Enlow Library of Oakland, which were used to purchase a new 3M microfilm reader-printer. The funds were donated in memory of George K. Littman, formerly of Oakland and former president of the First National Bank of Oakland (now First United Bank and Trust). The new reader-printer is used to read and research back issues of The Republican and census records. Edith Brock, librarian, said that the Ruth Enlow Library has The Republican on microfilm from the first issue up to 1986 along with some census records on film. Lawton worked at Reader's Digest and has since retired. The Reader's Digest Foundation doubled the amount donated by Lawton to the library. Mary I. Love is pictured above reading back issues of The Republican on the printer-reader.

In her new position, Ms. Van Sickle supervises 13 people who answer phone inquiries from all over the United States about financial aid. She is also still serving as a consultant to GCC on financial aid matters.

Southern Girls Drop Opener To Powerful Westmar Squad, 47-33

Facing possibly the toughest team on their schedule in their opening game of the season, the Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team were stopped last night by the Westmar (formerly Valley) Wildcats, 47-33, in Lonaconing. The Wildcats, who went undefeated last year, lost only two players to graduation.

Dawn Sloan proved to be the major thorn in the Rams' side as she ripped the nets for 29 points on 13 field goals and three of four from the foul line.

The Rams held a 9-6 lead at the end of the first quarter, but slipped behind 23-20 by halftime and never led again. Westmar was won 34-28 at the end of the third period and then outscored the Rams 13-5 in the final stanza.

Michelle Duling and Kathy Gibson paced Southern's scoring with nine and eight points, respectively.

The Southern jayvee team won the preliminary game, however, rolling over their Westmar counterparts, 30-17. Ingrid Carlson led the Rams with nine points.

ing to improve on last season's 16-8 mark and Region I runner-up finish.

Among the top returnees from that team are senior Melinda Evick, who was the second leading scorer (15 ppg), sophomore Kathy Gibson, the team's top rebounder, and senior Tracy Dawson, who was instrumental in several Ram victories.

Also back are senior speedster Tonya Shreve and sophomore Shelli Cannon, who saw considerable action last year as a freshman. Junior Kristi Browning is also expected to be a key player this year.

The biggest loss to the team from graduation was Courtney Smith, who was the area's second leading scorer behind Northern's Kristen Edwards and was also the top free throw shooter in the area. The Rams led all area teams in free throw percentage last season.

Don Stemple has returned as the head coach and is again assisted by Ken McLaughlin, plus a new member of the staff, Jane Wildesen, who was a member of the Southern state semi-finalist teams in 1983-84 and 1984-85.

Charlie Graham and Mike Hill are coaching the junior varsity.

"We are optimistic for a successful season, but we realize it will be a challenge," Stemple said. "All of the area's teams have a lot of starters returning and its expected that the area will be very even competitive. We think we have the potential to be right among the leaders. We are a young team, but we are quick and enthusiastic."

Stemple had problems scheduling enough local teams to fill up the schedule, so the Rams will be traveling to Fallston High School and Mercy High School, which won the Baltimore Catholic League championship. Other new teams on the schedule are Flintstone and Mt. Savage.

The first home game for the Rams will be next Tuesday against Flintstone, with the jayvee contest beginning at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7:30. In the annual Snowflake Classic, slated for Dec. 27-28, the Rams will host Northern, Fort Hill, and Westmar.

Special Olympics Needs Help For Winter Games

Maryland Special Olympics has announced it needs volunteers for the 1990 Winter Games, slated for January 14-17 at Canaan Valley Resort, Davis, W.Va. "We need help scoring and timing the athletes who will compete in this four-day ski competition," stated an MDSO spokesman.

"We welcome — and need — both skiers and non-skiers. Lodging and meals require a nominal charge. We supply free ski-rentals, and lift-tickets are available at a reduced rate for your personal ski time," he added.

Interested persons are asked to call the MDSO Chapter office at (301) 931-4100.

Northern Girls Open Campaign With Wins Over Beall And Hancock

The Northern High School girls' varsity basketball team is off to an impressive start this season, opening with a come-from-behind 36-34 win over host Beall on Saturday night and then whipping Hancock on Monday, also on the road, 51-39.

Coach Harvey Speicher's squad will go after win number three this Friday when they host Hyndman.

Kristen Edwards, a four-year starter for the Huskies, netted 16 points against Beall on Saturday and led a fourth quarter rally after Northern trailed throughout most of the game. She also grabbed a game-high 19 rebounds.

Northern was down 10-5, 20-16, and 26-23 at the quarters, but outscored the Mountaineers in the final stanza, 13-8. Beall out-gunned the Huskies from the floor by a 14-10 margin, but Northern connected on 18 of 30 free throws, with Edwards hitting 10, while Beall made good on just four of 13 opportunities.

Amy Sines and Mandy Lewis each scored 11 points for the Mountaineers, while Stacey Smith pulled down 10 rebounds. Edwards again paced the Huskies Monday night at Hancock, as she hit three field goals and was eight for 11 at the free throw line for 14 points.

The Huskies held a 10-7 lead after one quarter of action, stretched their advantage to 25-15 by halftime, and led 36-29 after three periods.

Laurie Stanton also reached double figures for the Huskies, finishing with 12 points, while Cara Wachter added nine and Audra Speicher netted seven.

finishing with 12 points, while Cara Wachter added nine and Audra Speicher netted seven.

Coach Speicher noted that he was pleased with the balanced offensive effort by his team, adding that Hancock had played effective defense against Edwards.

Tara Funk led Hancock's scoring with 14 points. Speicher and his team are coming off their most successful season in the school's history, but hope to improve on the 12-11 mark set last year. Edwards, who has led the area's scoring for the past two seasons, and senior Michelle Beaman will be depended upon for team leadership, although Speicher will also look for strong play from juniors Laurie Stanton and Melissa Thomas.

Depth is a concern for Speicher since there are only eight players on the team, half of whom are sophomores. The sophomores are Jennifer Holloway, Audra Speicher, Cara Wachter, and Stephanie

Thomas

JAYVEES ALSO WIN
The Northern junior varsity squad also opened the 1989-90 campaign with a pair of wins, edging Beall on Saturday, 35-33, and nipping Hancock on Monday, 30-29.

Becky Fratz netted 16 points against Beall and 20 points at Hancock, while Becky Leight finished with 13 against Beall.

Fourth Quarter Rally By Wildcats Results In 75-64 Loss For Huskies

In a rough and tumble contest last night in Accident, the Northern Huskies opened their 1989-90 campaign with a 75-64 loss to the Westmar Wildcats.

The Huskies trailed throughout the first half, behind 15-11 and 35-28 after the first two quarters, but then out-scored the visitors in the third period, 17-8, to take a 45-43 lead into the final stanza. Northern was on top by four with just over six minutes remaining, but the Wildcats then took control defensively and on the boards to win going away.

Bo Evans paced the Wildcats in scoring and rebounding, finishing with 26 points and a game-high 15 rebounds. Jim Lauder also reached double figures with 16 points.

The game's top scorer was Northern's Dave Yoder, who finished with 27 points, with 16 of them coming at the foul line. Dave Lewis netted 14 points while Jon Houser added 12 points and grabbed seven rebounds.

There were a total of 55 fouls called in the game, with each team shooting 35 times from the free throw line. Westmar made good on 24 of their opportunities and Northern sunk 25.

Lakers Win One, Lose One In Lewis Spoerl Memorial Tourney

The Garrett Community College Lakers took their 7-1 record to Cumberland last week to participate in the first Lewis Spoerl Memorial Classic at Allegany Community College and came home with an 8-2 mark, defeating Atlantic Community College, 92-88, and then being edged by Nassau CC, of New York, on Saturday, 81-79.

The Lakers were slated to host Dundalk CC last night, but the contest was postponed because of bad weather conditions. They are scheduled to entertain Beaver CC this Friday evening and then host Baltimore on Saturday before breaking for the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Bruce Boldley and Shane Scott scored 24 points each and Chuckie Moore, the Lakers' leading scorer, added 20 points in the victory over Atlantic.

Despite the fact that the Lakers were out-rebounded 53-34 and took 15 fewer shots from the floor, they connected on 37 of their 69 shots (54 percent) including nine three-pointers, while Atlantic made good on only 33 of 74 shots.

Scott, a 5-11 freshman guard from Osbourn, Va., came off the bench and connected on six three-pointers, one of which came with just over two minutes remaining in the game to put the Lakers on top by 10 points, 88-78. The Lakers had been ahead by as many as 14 points in the second half, but Atlantic cut that deficit to five points.

Atlantic again narrowed the margin in the final two minutes, but the Lakers came up with the key shots and free throws to preserve the win.

Reggie Riggs led Atlantic's scoring with 22 points, Albert Clay netted 19, Greg Ingram finished with 13, and Harry Welch added 10. Clay and Welch led in rebounds with 13 and 12, respectively.

It was the fourth loss in seven starts for Atlantic.

Saturday's loss to Nassau was a most frustrating one for GCC Coach Dennis Gibson and the Lakers, as they were ahead by 14 points midway through the second half, but allowed the New Yorkers to come back and steal the game.

GCC was on top 65-51 at the 10:50 mark, but Nassau's Nick Sanchez and Van Macon found the range from the three-point area to bring their team back. Macon's three-pointer with less than a minute to play gave Nassau their first lead of the entire game, 79-77, and Sanchez hit the game-winning bucket with just four seconds left.

Moore led GCC's scoring with 21 points and also pulled down 12 rebounds. Chris Greene netted 16 points, while Boldley dished out a dozen assists.

Sanchez paced the Lions with 23 points, Macon finished with 20, and Henry Anderson netted 14.

Moore was named to the All-Tournament team, along with Sanchez and Macon of Nassau, Riggs of Atlantic, and Paul Carter of Allegany CC. ACC's

Shawn Clifton was named the tourney MVP.

In the other tournament games, ACC rolled over Nassau on Friday, 109-57, and then topped Atlantic, 85-71, on Saturday.

A&A, Martin's Still Undeclared In League Action

Thursday, December 7:

A&A remained in the ranks of the undefeated in the Mt. Top Basketball League with a convincing 110-63 victory over Mt. Top Glass. Ken Niner paced A&A with 35 points as three other teammates, Kevin Liller (22), Greg Shockey (21), and Steve Liller (20), went over the 20-point mark. Tim Barnhouse scored 20 points to lead Mt. Top Glass.

Video Connection and Westvaco stayed one game behind the leaders in the lost column with victories last Thursday. Video Connection won the battle of the video stores as they sent D&C Video reeling, 110-89. Brad Yoder pumped in 46 points to pace The Connection and Mel Evans poured in 37 points in the losing cause for D&C.

Westvaco crushed Bausch & Lomb, 104-81, as the backcourt duo of Bryan Redman (30) and Roger Green (21) paced Westvaco. Marty Christianson scored 26 points for B&L.

Rams Fall To Beall, 49-40, In Defensive Effort

The Southern Rams came out on the short end of a defensive struggle last night, falling to Beall, 49-40, in Frostburg and dropping to 0-2 on the season.

The Rams never led in the contest, trailing 15-8, 27-19, and 40-32 at the quarters. They closed the gap to six points once in the third stanza, but could never get any closer. It was the second win in as many starts for the Mountaineers.

Southern sophomore Brett Rice scored a game-high 16 points, while Marshall Pike added eight.

Shannon McKenzie was the only Mountaineer to reach double figures, as he finished with 10 points in a balanced offensive effort. Greg Carter, Chris Loar, and Tommy Wolfe each netted nine points.

The game was unusually clean for a defensive contest, as there was only a total of 10 free throws, six by Beall and four by Southern.

The Southern jayvee squad won its second game of the season in as many starts by topping the Beall junior varsity in the preliminary contest, 56-31.

behind a 20-point effort by Britten Martin.

Coach Tom Bosley and the Rams will seek their first win of the campaign this Friday night when they host Bishop Walsh.

some anxiety that day. "I didn't know I lost it until a man came over to me and asked if the money was mine." Riggelman stated that indeed the money was intended for paying bills and purchasing Christmas presents. Riggelman added that she wanted to thank the man for returning her money to her.

Phone Service

call their friends and neighbors in the same exchange," she said.

The new switches also offer some optional services which have not been available previously to customers, including Touchtone service and Direct Distance Dialing (DDD), explained Nemith. CENTREX service will also be available for large and small business use, enabling customers to receive from C&P the types of business service normally associated with PBX service.

Other enhancements services, known as Bell Atlantic I.Q. SM Features, are also available. These services include:

—Call Waiting: If one is on the telephone and someone tries to call, a tone on the line signals that a call is waiting. The first call can be placed on "hold" while the second call is answered.

—Call Forwarding: Incoming calls can automatically be transferred to another telephone number while one is away from home or work.

—Three-Way Calling: This allows the addition of a third person to a telephone conversation, thus setting up a "conference call" at home or work.

—Speed Dialing: Up to 30 frequently-called numbers can be reached by dialing one or two digits.

Customers may subscribe to any of these services by contacting their C&P Business Office.

Equal Access, or easy dialing, will also become available to all customers after the first of the year, Nemith said. Customers have already received a ballot to mark their choice of a long distance company. C&P encourages customers to choose a long distance carrier and mail the ballot back to C&P.

There are also new dialing instructions for C&P pay telephones in Accident, Bittering, Friendsville, Grantsville and Kitzmiller; customers are encouraged to read the new instruction cards when making calls from pay telephones.

envelope, he thought it was play money. Then he realized that it was contained in a bank envelope. Glancing through the envelope, he saw that the sum of money was over $400 and took it to the Sheriff's Department, without taking time to count it. He later told Jean that he would have taken the money into the store, but he didn't realize that the owner could be identified by a store receipt contained in the envelope.

"When he first told us, I thought he was joking," stated Jean Hollobaugh. She, like her husband, was concerned over the effects the loss would have had on the owner of the money. "At this time of year, it is hard for everyone to make payments and meet bills. I imagine that person was just going bonkers."

Deep Creek Lake Sewage Holding Facility

The Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. is proposing to build a nine hundred thousand (900,000) gallon sewage storage facility along Glendale Road near Route 219 on property being purchased from Alpine Village, Inc. The site is just south of the Alpine Village Motel where the sewage disposal system for the motel was located prior to construction of the Deep Creek Lake sewage system. The tank will be equipped with aerators to keep sewage from becoming septic and an odor control system will be installed to control sewer odor at the site. The tank will be located on a 0.63 acre site at this location. The tank will be utilized to store sewage during peak flow periods such as holidays and weekends primarily during the summer months.

The Farmers Home Administration is administering federal ARC grant funds for the project. The project application is available at the Farmers Home Administration District Office at 198 Thomas Johnson Drive, Suite 200, Frederick, Maryland 21701, phone (301) 694-7522.

Any person interested in commenting on the application or the proposal's feasibility and the alternatives to it may do so by providing such comments to the Farmers Home Administration by January 2, 1990.

BENEFIT SLATED — Jim Hillebrecht, left, sells two of the first tickets for the annual League for Crippled Children benefit dance/drawing featuring the Admirals to Dick Deckerhoff, president of First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland. First Federal is sponsoring a Monte Carlo night at the event which will be held Saturday, February 3.

Crippled Children League Slates Annual Benefit

Returning for their seventh year, the music group the Admirals will again perform at the annual League for Crippled Children dance/drawing, scheduled for Saturday, February 3, at the Majestic Gardens at the Comfort Inn in Frostburg.

"This year we have made several changes and additions to the evening including the location. The dance has become so popular we needed to move to a larger space. We also moved the event to Saturday evening instead of the traditional Friday evening," commented committee member Jim Hillebrecht.

Another addition to the event is a Monte Carlo night sponsored by First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland for the benefit of the League. Black jack, poker, crap tables, roulette wheels and other games of fortune will be played throughout the evening, using "funny money" that participants purchase for cash from event "bankers". "Funny money" purchase proceeds go to the League for Crippled Children. At the end of the evening, participants will be able to bid on quality items in an auction using their "funny money" earnings.

"A Monte Carlo night can create an atmosphere of fun and entertainment that brings out both the generosity and enthusiasm of all who attend," Hillebrecht added.

An ATA bus will provide transportation throughout the evening to and from Cumberland and LaVale. The bus will be making continuous rounds so that people may come and go as they wish.

For ticket information, persons may call Jim Hillebrecht at BG&G Companies, (301) 777-1500 or home, (301) 729-1850.

Maryland Joins Alliance Of Geographic Society

Maryland is one of seven states chosen this year by the National Geographic Society to join its Geographic Alliance Network.

Now active in 27 states, the network mobilizes the grassroots efforts of teachers, college and university professors, school administrators, and public policymakers to improve geography education in their states.

Throughout the year, alliance leaders conduct conferences and workshops for teachers and marshal community support to reintroduce geography into the school curriculum.

Sari Bennett, professor of geography at the University of Maryland, will serve as alliance coordinator. Funding for the alliance is provided by grants from the National Geographic Society Education Foundation, the state of Maryland, the Maryland Department of Education and Economic Development, and the Abell Foundation. Activities for the year include:

- National Geography Bee: The Maryland Alliance is coordinating the state's participation in this second annual national geography contest, sponsored by the Society. School bees will be held January 29 through February 9, 1990; the state-level contest occurs March 30.
- Summer Geography Institutes: Teacher-training activities intensify next summer, when the alliances send teachers to the Society's four-week Summer Geography Institute. The Maryland alliance will also hold its own pilot summer workshop for teachers.

At both institutes, participants study geography and innovative ways to teach it. Institute graduates then reach thousands of teachers through workshops in their school districts.

The Geographic Alliance Net-

"HE WOULDN'T STOP BEING A COUGH POTATO, SO I MASHED HIM!"

work was founded in 1986 as part of the National Geographic Society's long-term campaign to revitalize geography education nationwide. Besides providing funds and teacher training programs, the Society supports alliances with educational materials and technologies.

No more than seven states are added to the network each year. New alliances are admitted to the network after successfully completing a year of planning, funded by the Society. This year's states — Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, and Pennsylvania — were selected because of demonstrated leadership of their geography educators and support from the universities. Other alliance states include Alabama, Alaska, California, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Virginia.

For more information about the Maryland alliance, contact: Sari Bennett, Department of Geography, University of Maryland, Baltimore County, Catonsville, MD 21228.

CHRISTMAS CRIB

It was St. Francis of Assisi who made the first tangible form of the Christmas crib that we know today. On Christmas Eve in 1223 St. Francis constructed the crib and grouped the figures of Mary and Joseph, the ox and ass, and the shepherds around it. The fact that he used real animals in a real stable made a bigger impact on the people.

Soon the custom spread from Italy to Spain, Portugal, France, the Netherlands, and Germany, and then spread to all the corners of the earth.

Frivolous Amusements

Believe it or not but it was a professor at an Episcopal seminary in New York, a man opposed to "frivolous amusements" who introduced St. Nicholas as a Christmas symbol. To please his children he spent a few hours to frivolous versifying in 1822 and came up with "A Visit From St. Nicholas."

Clement C. Moore's poem gradually won popularity until in 1862 a famous political cartoonist, Thomas Nast, presented a fur-trimmed Santa.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

There is no record of any Christmas or birthday celebration for Jesus during His lifetime here on Earth but tradition says that the first Christmas celebrated was in A.D. 98. The celebration was said to have been ordered as a solemn feast by Pope Telesphorus in A.D. 137.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Schlossnagle Promoted To Staff Sergeant

Larry Schlossnagle, a member of Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, Oakland, was recently promoted to the rank of staff sergeant.

SSG Schlossnagle has been a member of Company C for 18 years and is presently serving as a section sergeant in the support platoon for the heavy equipment operators.

He resides near Friendsville with his wife, Sharon, and children, Brian and Jill. He is employed by Mettiki Coal Corp as a senior mine clerk.

Schlossnagle is active with Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Co., Oak Grove Church of the Brethren, and the Western Maryland Economic Development Task Force. Hobbies include hunting, traveling, and camping.

U.S. Navy Fireman Benjamin F. Humberson, son of Karla Riley, Route 3, Deer Park, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

During Humberson's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Humberson's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Accidental Discovery May End Obesity

Suppression of calorie absorption. SWEDEN: Medical researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, have discovered (accidentally) a new weight loss formula. The new discovery appears to enable an overweight individual to lose pounds and fatty tissue without conventional dieting or exercise.

Scientists made the discovery while searching for a formula to lower cholesterol. In a controlled study of a test group of people, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but the doctors were astounded to find that every patient who used the formula lost weight. The published report of this study stated, "A highly significant decrease in body weight was seen in patients who received the formula."

The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated, "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits."

One patient in this study lost more than 30 pounds. According to one informed source, the active ingredient comes from a 100% natural botanical source and contains no drugs or stimulants. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, suppressing their absorption.

A significant portion of the calories ingested therefore pass through the digestive system unabsorbed. The body has to get energy to replace the lost calories, so it starts to burn stored fat, which can result in rapid body weight loss. Clinical testing has verified the safety of this formula for long-term use.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida, has exclusive North American distribution rights. A review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Cal-Ban 3000 is reasonably priced at $19.95 for a 3-week supply and $38.95 for a 6-week supply. Postage and handling is $3.00. A 4% C, AMEX and COD orders are accepted. To order call TOLL-FREE 1-800-337-3723 or purchase locally at Englander's Pharmacy, 205 E. Alder, Oakland, MD.

Call today to begin the pleasant transformation from fat and flab to the slender firm body you want! If you fail to achieve a major weight loss you may return the empty bottle within 30 days for a 100% refund.

DHMH Offers Toy Safety Tips

Though toy safety is a year-round concern, officials of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) note that this time of year focuses more attention than usual on the subject. The figures are disturbing: The U.S. Product Safety Commission (CPSC) shows an 8 per cent increase in toy-related injuries from 131,000 in 1987 to 142,000 in 1988.

Most of the toy-related injuries appeared to be minor, however 37 toy-related deaths were reported to the Consumer Product Safety Commission for 1987 and 1988. Sixteen of those involved ingestion, aspiration or choking on balloons, small toys, such as balls and marbles or parts of toys. Tricycles and other riding toys were associated with 16 fatalities which occurred primarily when the victims were under the age of three.

"Probably the single-most important toy safety tip is to follow the manufacturer's age recommendations found on the package label," said Irv Myers of the Product Safety Program in the DHMH Division of Community Services. "Some parents buy toys that are recommended for older children because they think their child has above-average skills," Myers said. "But that has nothing to do with the labeling. A toy that is recommended for a four or five-year-old, for example, may not be safe for a younger child because it contains small parts that could be swallowed."

Other recommended toy safety tips include making sure toys are free of:

—Sharp edges, splinters, points or prongs which could cut or stab;

—Small parts such as detachable eyes, noses, buttons or wheels which can be swallowed or become lodged in a child's windpipe, ears, or nose;

—Loud noises which can damage hearing. Toy caps and some noise-making guns can produce sounds at noise levels that can damage hearing; —Cords and strings which may be dangerous for infants and very young children. Toys with long cords and strings may lead to strangulation of a young child; and —Be careful of propelled objects. Guided missiles and similar flying toys can be turned into weapons and can injure eyes, in particular. Children should never play with darts or other sporting equipment that have sharp points.

—Bicycles should not be purchased without the purchase of an approved bicycle helmet.

Above all, children should be properly supervised during play and the correct use of toys should always be explained.

Following these tips should make for a safe and pleasant holiday season and the rest of the year as well.

For information on toy safety and for the 1989 list of Toys and Children's Products which Violate CPSC Safety Standards, persons may call or write the Maryland Product Safety Program, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, 4201 Patterson Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21215-2299; (301) 764-3484.

A BRIGHTER CHRISTMAS will be had by 31 families in Garrett County as students and sponsors from Broad Ford Elementary School purchased gifts for the Annual Toy and Clothing Project. Carolyn Corley, Chapter I Resource Teacher, coordinated the project, with assistance from Carolyn Thorn and Mamie Wilt, Chapter I assistants; Linda Dawson, secretary; Thomas Fowler, principal, and several parent volunteers. Over 300 gifts were purchased for the children from ornaments on the tree at Broadford School. The employees of Garrett National Bank, coordinated by Rita Savage, customer records supervisor, have assisted in the project for several years. Also participating were employees from Oakview Motors, Inc., coordinated by Jane Roberson, sales representative; Oakland Electric; Maryland Classified Employee Association, Area 4, coordinated by Cathy Chapman, charity coordinator for Garrett County; Department of Health and Mental Hygiene; members of the Swanton Offerbein United Methodist Church, coordinated by Mary Lou Wilson; members of the Mountain Council of the Maryland Chapter of Telephone Pioneers of C&P Telephone Co., who donated proceeds from their weekly $0/50 drawing and a Christmas auction; and Broadford's PTA, staff and students. Pictured above, left to right, are: Carolyn Corley; Richard Kitzmiller, Oakland C&P; Debra Barnard, Rita Savage; Jane Roberson; Robin Stimak, PTA treasurer; and Barbara Tichnell, PTA president.

hand sprays, hot-water dispensers, and water purifiers are popular. As more men try their hand at cooking, many kitchens must serve as a two-cook household. This means two sinks, extra counter space, and center islands to help eliminate a traffic jam.

Another major trend is the domesticated commercial look. The formerly avant-garde trend of installing professional restaurant equipment in the home has influenced European and American appliance manufacturers. The look is stainless steel with appliances that combine a heavy duty, professional appearance with the convenience, performance, and easy cleaning features that American consumers expect. Wall ovens, warming drawers, and flat-surfaced cooktops styled with semi-industrial appeal proclaim that their owners are serious cooks. The newest excitement is in quartz halogen, which combines the speed of gas with the cleanliness and sleek styling of a flat-surface cooktop.

Other trends include using durable, easy-care countertops and flooring. Although consumers want their kitchens clean, they don't want to spend much time cleaning them! More convenient and organized storage areas are also important. Pull-out or roll-out shelves in addition to adjustable dividers are available in stock cabinets as well as custom-made cabinets.

As the general look of the kitchen becomes lighter and brighter, light itself, both natural and artificial, has become more important. Particularly desirable are many windows, skylights, and patio doors — anything that increases the quantity of natural light. Task lighting — for cooking, for cleaning, for audio and video equipment — means that no one has to work in his or her own shadow. Because the kitchen is becoming the place where busy families come together, mood lighting — for dining, for conversation, for relaxing — is also important.

But, before the consumer gets carried away with all this functional luxury, how much should one reasonably spend? Although costs can easily escalate into thousands and thousands of dollars, home appraisers generally advise spending no more than 15 percent of the current house value on a new kitchen, with 10 percent to 15 percent being the rule of thumb. For a home valued at $300,000, the range for kitchen remodeling is $30,000 to $45,000; for a home valued at $100,000, the range is $10,000 to $15,000.

HOT TRENDS IN THE KITCHEN

While the American family has become a smaller, more diverse unit, with a lifestyle that moves at a faster pace, the kitchen has still retained its place as the heart of the home. It is the first and most important room on almost every family's remodeling list.

For modern families, the ideal kitchen is a multi-purpose room. If the home has a formal dining room, it often sits unused, collecting dust. The kitchen, meanwhile, has evolved into a great room that has become an integral part of the entire house.

As we head toward a new decade, tastes and trends in kitchens are changing. The most dramatic trend is toward the "Euro-style" look — light colors, sleek surfaces, minimal hardware. Consumers prefer it, observes The Soap and Detergent Association, because it has a clean, uncluttered appearance and is easy to maintain — two important attributes for a room that is so heavily used.

Appliances are being selected on the basis of fashion as well as function. The appliances that are going into these remodeled kitchens are generally premium pieces, designed to make a statement, as well as provide top performance. Since the life of the average kitchen is 15-20 years, people are willing to spend money on something they will live with for many years. Regardless of the price range, however, the preferred look is that of an upscale, all-white kitchen. In high-end appliances, white glass has become the color of choice, ending the long reign of black glass.

To maintain the sleek look, built-in appliances are everywhere. To keep them from sticking out beyond the cabinets, some newer refrigerators are only 24" deep. And, electronic control appliances, including dishwashers and wall ovens, are particularly appealing to consumers. Visually clean, these less encumbered appliances are also physically easier to clean. Downdraft appliances, such as cooktops and grill-ranges, are styled to eliminate the need for an overhead hood range. Some require no venting at all.

Guard Receives Funding Increase For Drug Battle

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced the Maryland National Guard will receive $906,000 from the federal government to be used in assisting Maryland law enforcement operations in the fight against illegal drugs.

The $906,000 allotted to Maryland for fiscal year 1990 represents an increase of more than 300 percent over the fiscal year 1989 amount of $209,000 approved by the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D.C. The funds are part of a $70 million grant from the 101st Congress for the Army and Air National Guard to support drug enforcement operations.

"Maryland National Guard participation has provided a tremendous boost in allowing the state police and federal officials to carry out the war on illegal drugs," said Gov. Schaefer. "This tremendous increase will allow us to expand our efforts in getting illegal drugs off Maryland streets. I applaud the unified effort between state and federal agencies."

The Maryland National Guard became involved for the first time earlier this year as a result of approval by Pentagon officials of plans submitted by the Guard to allow it to support law enforcement operations in the interdiction and eradication of illegal drugs.

Under the plans, Guard aviators and military police are able to assist the Maryland State Police, the U.S. Customs Service and the Drug Enforcement Agency in halting the flow of illegal drugs.

As part of the cooperative agreement with the Maryland State Police, the Maryland National Guard can loan military equipment and train law enforcement officers in its use, conduct aerial surveillance as part of a training mission and transport law enforcement personnel and confiscated goods.

The Maryland National Guard can employ military police to detect and monitor movement of illegal drugs, transport confiscated goods and law enforcement personnel and inspect and examine imported cargo for contraband at Maryland shipping and airline facilities, such as the Port of Baltimore or Baltimore Washington International Airport.

"This program is tailor-made for our soldiers and airmen to use their military skills to assist local law enforcement officials in fighting the scourge of illegal drug trafficking," said Maj. Gen. James F. Fretterd, the adjutant general, Maryland National Guard.

"This effort complements the governor's war on drugs," said Fretterd. "I am very pleased that the Maryland National Guard has joined forces with law enforcement agencies to form a common front against our society's worst problem."

Under the agreements, Maryland National Guard members are not involved in confronting or arresting persons engaged in illegal or criminal activities.

Maryland is one of 53 states and territories that previously submitted plans to the National Guard Bureau for approval to support drug enforcement operations.

Along with law enforcement efforts to prevent and detect illegal drug and alcohol use are programs in the other state agencies: Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, Alcohol and Drug Abuse Administration; Maryland State Department of Education; Governor's Office of Justice Assistance; Department of Personnel; Department of Juvenile Services; and the Governor's Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission, according to Melanie Ortel, a spokesperson for the Governor's Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission.

Greenhouse Effect Predicted To Have Impact Of Life On Maryland

Global warming. The greenhouse effect. We've all heard the phrases, but to many of us, that's all they are — theoretical terms that have no meaning in our daily lives. So we don't think much about them.

But we should, according to three speakers at a recent symposium on the University of Maryland campus at College Park.

"The greenhouse effect is not a theory," Alan Miller, executive director of the university's Center for Global Change, told the audience at "Enhancing Community Vitality VII," an educational event for Maryland community leaders. The symposium is sponsored annually by the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and its Institute for Governmental Service, with cooperation from several other state agencies and organizations.

"We have lots of evidence that greenhouse gases produce global warming," Miller declared. The controversy involves how fast the warming occurs and the effects it will have. In essence, we are living an experiment."

There are indications that sea levels have risen more than three feet in the last 300 years or so, noted Dr. J. Court Stevenson, a professor at the university's Center for Environmental and Estuarine Studies. But this rise is not the result of a slow and steady increase.

"Ocean levels appear to be rising at an accelerating, almost exponential, rate," he said. "In previous centuries, the sea levels probably rose less than a foot every hundred years. We think the rise over the last century has been more like 1.3 feet."

Maryland is already feeling the effects of rising sea levels. Marshes, such as the one at the Eastern Shore's Blackwater National Wildlife Refuge, are being drowned. And adjacent farm fields are turning into marshes as salt water creeps inland. The state is at risk of losing up to 80 percent of its wetlands, according to Miller.

Stevenson agreed. "The Maryland coast will be changed dramatically by global warming and rising sea levels. But the effects won't stop there," he added.

"The whole state will be affected one way or another. Waterfront property will be eroded, Ocean City could lose its beach, and groundwater supplies may have to be regulated to ensure sufficient drinking water for Maryland's growing population."

In addition to raising sea levels, an increase in average global temperatures, even one as small as 1 or 2 degrees Centigrade could cause drastic changes in global weather patterns, according to Miller. Wind and precipitation patterns could be drastically altered. Air pollution would worsen, and the ecology of the Chesapeake Bay could experience severe stress.

"There's even a theory, though it's hard to test," he noted, "that a rise in temperature will increase the ferocity of hurricanes."

So what can Maryland residents do to prevent this bleak picture from becoming a reality?

"We probably won't be able to prevent climatic changes," Miller said, "but if we can slow the rate of change, the effects will be less."

"Unfortunately, there isn't a magic bullet, a single solution to the problem," added Cathy Zoi of the Environmental Protection Agency's Global Climate Change Division. "But there are lots of small, separate changes and strategies that can reduce emissions 3 percent here, 10 percent there. Taken together, these reductions can have a large impact."

Energy production, including the burning of fossil fuels and the production of electricity, produces, generates, creates more than half (57 percent) of all greenhouse gases. But alternatives to many currently practiced, environmentally expensive methods of energy production are being explored or are already available, according to Zoi.

These alternatives include energy-efficient, cost-effective lighting technologies and photo-sensitive windows that can reduce heating and cooling losses; also nuclear power and natural gas.

"If every home in the United States used natural gas for stoves, heating systems and hot water heaters, we could reduce carbon dioxide emissions three to five percent," she said.

Methane produced by landfills could also be harnessed as a source of energy. This possibility holds great potential for Maryland, whose growing population is already straining the limits of its landfills.

The initial expense for many of these new alternatives would be more expensive, Zoi admitted, but would produce long-term savings — both financial and environmental.

"Our use of energy is growing," he said. "Utility companies predict that Maryland will need new power plants to increase capability 30 percent by the turn of the century. That would lead to a corresponding 30 percent increase in the greenhouse effect because the power plants currently being planned would be fueled by coal."

"The state government regulates energy planning," he added, "so concerned residents need to let their local and state leaders know how they feel about the greenhouse effect."

Other areas under state jurisdiction involve building and transportation.

"We must look at these issues if we are to make progress and if we are to be taken seriously," Miller said. "It's kind of hard to tell Brazil not to cut down their rain forests when we're destroying old-growth forest to make way for townhouses and freeways.

"We need to set an example — for other states, the federal government, and the rest of the world. When they see we're serious about the problem, it will be easier to convince them about the need to take action."

"We must adopt a policy of thinking globally and acting locally," he concluded.

A tree silhouetted against the sky clouds drifting through the air—common sights. But this tree highlighted by these clouds is dramatic.

Often, it's the combination, the merging of people or things that attracts our attention and excites our imagination.

In our community there are places of worship—churches. Viewed simply as empty buildings, they can seem ordinary. And people in a crowd can often lose their individuality.

But bring together scores of people, united in a common faith, to worship God, and suddenly there's a merging of the human and the Divine that rises above the commonplace.

God and man united in purpose—this is the world's best hope!

ASKING HIM TO STAY

December 17, 1989

Background Scripture: John 4:1-42
Devotional Reading: John 3:1-16

I've been to the well at Sychar several times. The picture of it is fixed very well in my memory. Not because the place is remarkable in its appearance or its setting—just a dusty street like many others throughout the Holy Land.

But the current appearance of this street, the well and its shrine is deceptive, obscuring the dramatic event that took place there. The writer himself underplays this event, but in these simple verses there is spiritual dynamite that breaks down some very formidable walls.

"Give me a drink," Jesus says to the woman, and the first wall is struck a fatal blow. No rabbi would dare to speak to any woman in public, let alone a woman with an unsavory reputation. Didn't he realize what trouble this encounter could bring him? Apparently he did, but it did not matter. The wall did not belong there, so he broke it down.

UNTOUCHABLES

The second wall was even higher and thicker. "The Samaritan woman said to him, 'How is it that you, a Jew, ask a drink of me, a woman of Samaria?'" John understates the case: "For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans." It was not just a matter of disagreement between them or of old scores to settle. The Jews regarded the Samaritans as heretics and they took every opportunity to display their contempt. Jesus knew all that, but this was another wall that ought not to be there and he destroyed it.

"Go, call your husband, and come here," he tells her. When she answers that she has no husband, he startles her by saying, "You are right...for you have had five husbands, and he whom you now have is not your husband..." Apparently, like some of us, the woman decided that when you're trapped, it's time to ask a religious question! Which is the right place to worship: Mt. Gerizim or Mount Zion? You're a prophet, so who's right: the Samaritans or the Jews?

NO MORE WALLS

Instead of haggling with the woman, Jesus reveals what is this "living water" which he had told her he could give her: direct access to God, who is spirit and not limited to either material things or human speculations. Access to God is available to all who turn to him: "His spirit and truth."

Neither her status as a woman, a Samaritan, nor a notorious sinner can keep her from God if she will turn to him. Forgetting the barriers that once separated them, she shares the good news with her neighbors so that "they asked him to stay with them." And, in a sense, that's what all of us need to do—to ask him to stay with us until we too can say: "It is no longer because of your words that we believe, for we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this is indeed the Savior of the world."

Alex McArthur is back in saddle for 'Desperado'

Role fits actor's real lifestyle

By Donna Gooch

Actor Alex McArthur is a cowboy at heart, so he's riding high on the popularity of NBC's Desperado movies, the fifth of which, Desperado: Badlands Justice, airs Sunday, Dec. 17.

"It's great fun to go out and meet all the cowboys and wranglers that work on the film," McArthur says. "They're full of anticipation to see how you act around a horse. It's great to have that be a natural thing when I'm doing the role. It's one less thing to think about, to be able to climb up on a horse and take off rather than be afraid of it or have to think about staying in the saddle."

McArthur was raised in Telford, Pennsylvania (population 254), where he developed a love for hunting, horses and hot rods.

He's a natural to portray roving cowboy Duell McCall. In the latest installment, McCall rides into town and uncovers a possible murder that could have happened at the hands of two men fighting over rights to the railroad. John Rhys Davies and James B. Sikking play the two villains.

"Badlands Justice is more cerebral than the others. The others covered a lot of territory," McArthur says, explaining the first four were more action-oriented. "This one is more of a who-dunnit."

Along with a burgeoning career (five more Desperado films are scheduled over the next three years), he's recently completed an eight-year project—constructing a mountain cabin with his father.

"I like to build," says the former carpenter. "I can't really explain it, but in a lot of ways it's related to the work that I do as far as acting."

Michael Gross stars as King Arthur

TV film less harsh than Twain satire

By Sheila Odak

Michael Gross is well on his way to shedding the Steven Keaton image that seven years on the hit comedy series Family Ties helped him build. Gross will be seen next year in a feature film titled Tremor, with Kevin Bacon, and on Dec. 18, he will also appear in NBC's A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court. Paul Zindel fashioned this retelling of the classic Mark Twain story, which also stars Emma Samms and Keshia Knight Pulliam.

The story recounts the tale of a little girl, who after hitting her head, wakes up and finds herself in the magical world of Camelot. Gross plays the legendary King Arthur.

"There'll be a lot of spectacle with the piece: knights and ladies and castles and jousts and tournaments and that sort of thing," Gross said.

Playing a man of whom legends are made was not an easy assignment, but Gross chose to look at him in a more vulnerable light than do some of the heroic stories. "I looked at Arthur as a somewhat insecure man who did not expect (to be king). If you know the story of Arthur and Excalibur, (he) did not think he was going to be king. He just happened to pull a sword out of a stone one day and suddenly he found everyone in the vicinity on their knees in his direction."

The actor went on to compare the story, and the film itself, to other great family classics. "I would say it's probably most similar to the format of something like The Wizard of Oz, Alice in Wonderland, that sort of thing, where a person is literally hit on the head and wakes up in the England of Camelot, much as Dorothy finds herself in Oz, or Alice finds herself in Wonderland. The piece is framed on both sides with modern-day life."

A Connecticut Yankee has been put into film form

Keshia Knight Pulliam plays Karen, Michael Gross portrays King Arthur, and Emma Samms stars as Lady Guenevere in A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court, about a girl from 1980s America who travels back in time, Monday on NBC.

many times. Some of the more notable versions starred Will Rogers and Bing Crosby. However, Gross did not have a chance to draw on these for inspiration, and found himself relying on his own actor's intuition. "When I found out I was doing this project, it all happened so quickly and I left town with such haste, that I did not have a chance to look at those others."

He explained that Zindel's version is also somewhat different than even the original Twain tale. "Mark Twain was a very heavy social satirist and it will not have the heavy emphasis on social satire that he gave. This is more fantasy and fun — lighthearted fun — than you would have seen in Mark Twain's. Mark Twain also in his book criticized a number of people quite heavily: the monarchy, the whole idea of nobility versus the peasants. There's some of that in ours. He also had a great deal of scathing criticism for the Catholic church. Well, Gross added with a small laugh, "you're not going to see that in our movie. We want the Catholics to watch."

17-year-old film, big cast keeps family in stitches

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I have waited for some of my family to help track down a movie we watched some 15 years ago. My three children are now adults and this movie still gets discussed at family gatherings. The name of the movie is Evil Roy Slade starring John Astin, Mickey Rooney and various other well known stars. I thought my prayers were answered when a video store appeared on every corner — but alas nothing! Can you help? I need a good laugh.

—Sharon Meyers, Clarkson, Ky.

A: The movie you seek was produced for NBC and telecast Feb. 18, 1972. This feature-length film was the second pilot to an unrealized series called Sheriff Who? It is very doubtful the movie will ever be put on videotape but you are right, there were 14 other stars featured: Milton Berle, Edie Adams, Dom DeLuise, Henry Gibson, Dick Shawn, Pat Morita, Penny Marshall and John Ritter, to name a few.

Q: I am curious to find out if the man's voice on the new Stouffer's commercial is that of the man who portrays John Abbott on The Young and the Restless.

—Kathy Isnak, Soldotna, Alaska

A: Sorry, Kathy, you have the wrong man. John's voice is not the one you hear.

Q: I was wondering if you could provide information on actress Nancy McKeon, such as: birthplace, birthdate and where she lives now. Also, is she working on any new programs now? Where can I write to her?

—P. Wooley, Atascadero, Calif.

A: Nancy was born on April 4, 1966, in Westbury, N.Y. She lived there until her family moved to Los Angeles in 1980 after she landed the role of Jo in The Facts of Life. She is currently living in Los Angeles, where she continues to develop and produce projects under the banner of her production company, Forest Hills Entertainment. Write to her c/o The Greg Sims Co., 10201 W. Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90035.

Q: I was wondering what happened to the show Nightingales? I miss watching it, and you know, they took it off at a bad time. Do you know if they are going to put it back on?

—Mellisa B., Anchorage, Alaska

A: Everybody wants to know about the Nightingales series. NBC literally yanked it off the air, even though it was doing fine in the ratings, because of the storylines. Nurses were upset by the way their profession was portrayed. You may see it come back if new series that are currently airing fail and if producer Aaron Spelling can convince NBC executives the show has improved. I wouldn't bet on it coming back.

Cruz, Eden sizzle

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: I love Santa Barbara and I have watched it for years. Cruz and Eden belong together and I cannot believe some people actually think Robert Barr belongs with Eden. Let Kelly Capwell have Robert, not Eden. Sincerely yours, —C.C., Morristown, Tenn.

Dear C.C.: I wholeheartedly agree with you about Cruz (A Martinez) and Eden (Marcy Walker). These two people really sizzle on the screen and it would be a shame to see them part. As for the character Kelly Capwell, I think it is very unlikely that she will end up with Barr, unless she falls victim to another of his schemes.

Commemorative Birth Certificates Now Available

Governor William Donald Schaefer, along with officials from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH), and the Office of Children, Youth, and Families, have unveiled the state's new Commemorative Birth Certificate. Proceeds from the sales of the new certificates, which measure 11" x 14" and are suitable for framing, will benefit the Children's Trust Fund. "This is a wonderful way to celebrate life," said Governor Schaefer. "There's nothing more special than the birth of a child and no matter how young or old you are you can get one of these certificates as long as you were born in our great state of Maryland." The Commemorative Birth Certificates are authorized, legal documents signed by the state registrar and the governor. They are numbered and can be used the same as any other certified birth record as official proof of birth. Each certificate is filled out by hand in calligraphy. "We think this is a great way for the citizens of our state to help each other out," said Adele Wilzack, R.N., M.S., DHMH Secretary. "People are contributing to a worthy cause and in return they get an attractive certificate that makes a perfect gift... particularly at this time of year," she said.

THE MT. TOP GOSPELAIRES are once again sponsoring their annual New Year's Eve Gospel Music and Praise Service at the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church in Swanton, beginning at 7 p.m. and continuing until after midnight, on Sunday, December 31. Other groups featured will be the Coraliers and Pearl, and Heidi Laughlin, all from Spring Grove, Pa., and the Sojourners Quartet from Wilmington, Del. The members of the Gospelaires are Peggy Lambert, Darren Lambert, Orval Teets, Ellsworth Lambert, and Gale Wilson. The group has recorded three albums and has performed throughout the Tri-State Area for nine years. The public is invited to attend. There will be food available and a free will offering will be taken.

The Children's Trust Fund is administered by the Governor's Office of Children, Youth and Families and provides grants to organizations that offer programs to help abused and neglected children and families.

"Every child can realize his or her full potential through love, praise and nurturing," said Nancy Grasmick, Ph.D., Special Secretary for the Office of Children, Youth, and Families. This program affords us the opportunity to help many more children and their families while acknowledging how special every birth is in our state," she said.

The Commemorative Birth Certificate, which was developed by DHMH sports the Black-eyed Susan and the Baltimore Checkerspot Butterfly, two of Maryland's state symbols. It also carries the following quote: "You are hope, you are new joy... You are promise. All things are made new." This is from the poem "The Marriage Song" by Sister Maura Eichner, S.S.N.D. Sister Maura has had several books of poems published and has taught English and Literature at the College of Notre Dame in Baltimore for 43 years. She will be receiving a Governor's Citation for her dedicated teaching and writing over the years.

The Commemorative Birth Certificate is a joint project between DHMH and the Office of Children, Youth, and Families. The certificate, born out of legislation passed by the 1989 General Assembly, costs $25. The Children's Trust Fund receives $20 for each certificate sold while the other $5 goes to production costs.

Anyone interested in purchasing a Commemorative Birth Certificate may do so by coming to the Division of Vital Records at 4201 Patterson Avenue in Baltimore and filling out an application. Certificates may not be available the same day. Phone orders are available by calling 764-3038 and using MasterCard or VISA. If they are wanted in time for Christmas or Hanukkah they must be picked up at the Division of Vital Records in person. Mail orders cannot be guaranteed by Christmas or Hanukkah. The Division of Vital Records is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and every third Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be a calligrapher on site on Saturday, December 16, and Friday, December 22.

Impossible Dream Becomes Attainable For Illiterate Adults Through Local Programs

by Brenda Ruggiero

At this very moment, you are doing something that approximately 1 in 5 American adults over the age of 25 is unable to do. You are reading.

To many Garrett County adults, being unable to read is an absurd thought. Reading is so much a part of each day that we seldom stop to think about what life would be like if we level of reading is needed for day-to-day reading tasks, including understanding newspaper articles.

According to the 1980 census report, 4,256 of the 26,000 adults in Garrett County were below a spouse or other family member that they depend on for reading help. At work, they try to learn by watching someone else instead of having to ask for help with reading a manual.

When looking at the figures, one begins to wonder how the problem is permitted to follow a child into adulthood. Several factors are involved in contributing to the adult problem.

Tucker noted that classrooms are getting larger, and teachers don't realize the extent of the individual problem, or simply do not want to hold up the entire class for that one student. She said, "With the rising unemployment level, many families are moving more often. If a student misses the basics in the old class, and the

A 1985 study of 3,600 adults between the ages of 21 and 25 indicated that: 80% couldn't read a bus schedule, 73% couldn't interpret a newspaper story, 63% couldn't follow written map directions, 28% couldn't write a billing error letter, and 23% were unable to locate the gross pay-to-date on a pay stub.

— National Assessment for Education Progress

One reason for the alarming percentages in adult illiteracy is that the problem so often goes undetected. Bonnie Tucker, Garrett County Literacy Council President, said, "People become very skilled at hiding

Superintendent of Garrett County Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage said, "Obviously, the inability of schools to retain young people until graduation is a factor, and what we can do to prevent dropouts must contribute to the illiteracy rate. Our hope is to retain all students until the completion of Maryland-approved requirements or a special education certificate."

TRY TEAMWORK!

Have you ever gone out of your way to do a special favor for a friend, only to find out later that they seemed to be working against you? Perhaps you invested a lot of your time only to find out later that they had already accomplished the same task themselves.

The same situation sometimes occurs in real estate. You see, a real estate agent first devotes time to an interview with prospective buyers in order to determine their needs and desires regarding a new home. The agent then devotes many behind-the-scenes hours researching the homes market, locating and previewing homes and even eliminating those which don't meet the buyers' needs. Only after that research is completed do the buyers begin their search in earnest. As the buyers begin looking at homes with their agent, it's important that they work together with their agent to find just the right home. For instance, they may notice an attractive home with another real estate company's sign in the yard, or a "For Sale By Owner" or even an ad in the newspaper. That's no problem! Their agent can probably make arrangements to show any of those other properties without the buyers having to switch agents in mid-stream. Think of the time and effort saved by the buyers.

If you'll be buying a home soon, pick the best agent you can find, and then say "Let's work together!"

If you'd like to purchase a home, but feel out of touch with what's happening in real estate, give us a call today at 387-5303, or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

READING STORIES TO GRANDCHILDREN is one dream that many Garrett Countians may never be able to attain because they are not able to read. According to the 1980 census, 4,256 of the 26,000 adults in the county were below the eighth grade education level, and a 1982 study revealed that 13 percent of American adults do not read at all, or read below the fourth grade level. Several local organizations are working together to lower the number of illiterate adults in the county. Groups such as the Ryscavage mentioned a rural school study which was completed on the graduating class of 1988. Of 434 students entering high school in 1985, 51 had dropped out by the senior year, with 88 percent meeting graduation requirements. He said, "this obviously contributed to the illiteracy rate, because the students are leaving school. Of course, some that leave are literate, but some are not."

In connection with the growing awareness of illiteracy, the local school system is looking into ways to help remedy the problem. According to Paul Harr, Maryland State Department of Education/Local Education Agency liaison, many programs are being developed state-wide. He said, "There are many peer programs that are being developed in the schools, do not choose to complete the course to that level. Some just want to be able to understand the Bible or read to their children. Achieving that is their idea of success. For many, tutoring is a matter of building

Tucker said, "After the student reaches his reading potential, he is encouraged to go on to Adult Basic Education and also pick up on math and hopefully get a GED."

Tutor training sessions are normally held twice a year — in or a new work manual, the tutor can adjust the lessons to meet those needs."

In addition to books, tutors also have the opportunity of utilizing a computer to supplement the lessons. Software was partially donated by TCI Computer Systems, Oakland. The company also transfers the software onto hard disk free of charge.

The computer is used in connection with the Laubach program to enhance core reading and vocabulary development skills. Literacy Council Vice President Adele Naylor said "Different exercises are used to allow the students to learn while working on the computer. This gives them an increased self-esteem."

A word processor is also available so students can print their own stories to use in learning. Another new installment is phonic software, which will allow the students to hear letter and word sounds at the same time they view them on the screen. Math software is also planned for the future to Baer noted that the only difference between the GED and a diploma issued from a high school is that the GED specifies that it is issued from the state of Maryland, while the high school diploma notes the name of the school it was issued from.

Last year, approximately 200 people were served through Adult Basic Education. Classes are held at various locations throughout the county wherever there is a need. Current classes include the McHenry and Oakland campuses of GCC and Bloomington Elementary School. In addition, classes are held at the Lighthouse Club through Mental Health and also each day at the Garrett County Jail.

Baer noted that a Literacy Resource Assistant has been hired to work through GCC's Oakland Center. The assistant will be responsible for giving standard placement tests for all the literacy programs in the county. Then, the students will be referred to the proper program. Baer said, "Before, many people were getting placed in programs they were not suited for. The college received a $15,000 grant to pull all the literacy programs together, and the Literacy Resource Assistant will work with the individuals to ensure that they are placed in the proper program for their needs."

Anyone wishing to take a placement test or be referred to a literacy program may call the Oakland Center at 334-8304.

In addition to the Garrett County Literacy Council and Adult Basic Education, the Western Maryland Consortium teaches remedial basic skills to those who meet income eligibility, and also holds GED classes each day. Garrett County Social Services provides classes through Project Independence, and the Garrett County Board of Education also holds evening high school classes for those who need just a few credits for a diploma.

William C. Friend, a 48-year-old Oakland man, passed the GED test in June of this year after being tutored by a literacy council volunteer. He now holds a Maryland high school are taught needed life skills which may include comparative shopping, making appointments, and filling out job applications.

Most people who come to the classes have a goal of obtaining a high school diploma, and the program attempts to prepare them for the GED test. Pat Baer, program director, said, "Many people have obtained a diploma as their goal even if they can't read. We give them a placement test and advise them on when they may be ready to take the test."

Bloomington, Deer Park, Gorman, and Grantsville fire departments received such funds totalling $5,500.

The Rural Community Fire Protection Program is designed to assist in protecting human life, livestock, wildlife, crops, orchards, farmsteads, or other improvements, and other values in rural areas. The criteria for receiving funds is based on a point system. Some of the points are allocated according to the degree of protection in the company's locality, necessary equipment requirements, the amount of funds previously received, other support, and need.

Maryland Forests Association Plans Logger Field Day

The Western Region Planning Committee of the Maryland Forests Association met December 5 at the Penn Alps Restaurant, Grantsville, to continue plans for the Forestry/Logger Field Day scheduled for June 15-16 at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. The Field Day is designed to provide information, and education to loggers, forest landowners, and the general public, in the management of natural resources.

Contacts have been made with over 60 equipment dealers and interest in participating in the program is high, according to the Committee. Information in the field day has also been sent to many informational and crafts groups to get their participation.

Paul Blamer, Chesapeake still representative, described to the Planning Committee a chainsaw speed cutting contest which they would be willing to sponsor at the Field Day. This contest would be geared primarily to the professional logger or timber cutter.

Garrett Forestry Board Convenes

The Garrett County Forestry Board held its last meeting of 1989 on December 6, at the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service office at Mt. Nebo.

Dr. Frank Custer, John Forman, Mike Kozier, and Carroll DeWitt reported to the Board on the Fall Association meeting which was held in Baltimore October 27-28. The members that attended the meeting had a chance to view the tree planting projects that have become known as the "Greening of Dundalk."

The Anne Arundel County Forestry Board started a program last year similar to the Dundalk project. Their "Chesapeake Bay School Tree Planting" promoted tree planting on school grounds to help educate students about the benefits of trees in providing watershed protection and other environmental benefits.

This year each Forestry Board in the state will receive a grant of $1,500 for similar reforestation projects. Each school in the county will be contacted and provided with this information.

Maryland's Big Tree Champions To Be Measured

Department of Natural Resources Forestry personnel in Garrett County and throughout the state will be measuring trees this Friday, December 15, as they seek to certify Maryland's Big Tree Champions. A booklet listing and describing the champion tree for each of the 140 species native to Maryland will be published by the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, Department of Natural Resources, using the data collected on this final day of "Big Tree" certification.

More than 350 trees have been nominated across the State as big tree champions. Garrett County Project Forester Ernie Metz received 13 nominations in Garrett County.

Big trees are determined by measuring the height, trunk circumference and crown size. The list of champion trees is continually changing, thus the need for official certification. The last Big Tree Champion Book was published in 1973. All of the trees named in that publication will be visited to see if they still exist and if they retain their champion status. In the 1973 listing, seven of Maryland's champions were also National Champion Big Trees. Maryland's state tree, the Wye Oak, located in Wye Mills, is still the reigning champion white oak in the United States.

The Maryland Big Tree Champion book is expected to be available early next summer.

In a non-leap year, the middle day of the year is July 2.

Why lights flicker

It's not because Potomac Edison is asleep at the wheel. It's not, as one customer once asserted, feeding time for the hamsters.

Most often, when your lights flicker or your digital clock reverts to a blinking mode, you've experienced our "recloser" at work. Reclosers are modern, "smart" circuit breakers that trip and reset themselves.

In the event of lightning, downed lines, a car hitting a power pole, or other unforeseen happenings, the recloser does its job and prevents longer outages.

Electricity from Potomac Edison has value and consistency unmatched by almost any product or service you purchase.

So, the next time your lights flicker, keep in mind how few times power is really lost. And think about our recloser. Always there, waiting for a chance to serve you.

Governor Says Market Coupons Help Thousands

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that, between July 1 and October 31, more than 6,500 Maryland women and children from low-income families received coupons redeemable for fresh fruits and vegetables in a pilot project linking farmers' markets with the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Food Program. WIC provides supplementary food to pregnant and nursing mothers and young children from needy families.

As part of the program, approximately 33,000 coupons worth $2 each were distributed to be redeemed at seven farmers' markets around the state. More than 120 Maryland farmers exchanged fresh produce for the vouchers while the markets were in operation.

"The farm coupon program is a great example of people helping people. It benefits both the farmers and women who need food to feed their families. It's one of those instances where government and the private sector get together to make sure that everybody wins."

"Next year we plan to increase both the number of participating markets and the number of coupon recipients," Governor Schaefer said.

This year vouchers were exchanged for fresh fruits and vegetables at farmers' markets

Members of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) traveled with the FHA to give the Goodwill Mennonite Home flowers that were grown in the greenhouse at Northern High School. in Anne Arundel, Charles, Dorchester, Garrett, and Montgomery counties, as well as Baltimore City.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture awarded Maryland a $52,000 grant for the food voucher program. That was matched by $15,000 from the Maryland Department of Agriculture and $7,500 from the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

The Maryland Food Committee, a private anti-hunger organization, acted as the clearing and accounting house for coupons and issued checks to farmers. Maryland was the only one of the 10 states to participate in the program that combined public and private agencies.

The other states that participated in the coupon project were: Iowa, Texas, Vermont, New York, Connecticut, Michigan, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and Washington.

The Woodmen was founded in 1891. Today, many four and five generation families know of the many extra services that are traditional with the Woodmen. And one of the most important is service after the sale. In the Woodmen, every member has an assigned, personal Field Representative, a trained, experienced representative who is a part of a career agency system that is a tradition with the Woodmen.

Local Fugitive Apprehended By Sheriff's Deputy

An Oakland man, wanted by police in Texas and Maryland, is currently being held on $6,000 bond following his arrest last week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department during a routine traffic stop.

Anthony Leon Miller, 28, was apprehended December 13 on Dille Rd., near Hutton. Miller, also known as Anthony Leon Trent, was initially charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) and seven traffic violations, including operating a vehicle with stolen tags.

When Deputy R.L. Sines stopped Miller, a police check revealed that Miller was wanted by the Dallas County Sheriff's Department, Dallas, Tex., as well as the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Miller was later served a separate arrest warrant by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department for allegedly failing to appear in court last February. Fugitive warrants sworn out for Miller's arrest in Dallas allegedly involve narcotics charges, according to Deputy Sines.

Miller is currently being housed in the Garrett County Jail.

In an unrelated case, Douglas L. Snyder, 22, Kingwood, W.Va., was arrested Monday and charged with four traffic violations. Deputy Sines arrested Snyder on Route 39 west of Oakland. He was charged with driving at a speed greater than reasonable, driving an unregistered motor vehicle, driving an uninsured motor vehicle, and operating a motor vehicle with tags issued from police custody later that day. Snyder was released from police custody later that day.

Commissioners Report Local Appointments

Several appointments to local organizations were made this week by the Garrett County Commissioners.

Gerald Iman, Kitzmiller, was named as municipal representative to the Tri-County Council.

Wendell Beitzel, director of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, was named Garrett County representative for the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg was named as the contact person for the drug and alcohol abuse initiative from Governor William Donald Schaefer.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR. In this same spot on this page in last week's edition of The Republican was a photo of a burning house belonging to the John Peachy family, whose house was gutted by a fire caused by a hot stove pipe. Within just one week, and despite sub-freezing temperatures every day, the Peachys' friends and neighbors by Monday were already putting shingles on a brand new house, as a true old-fashioned house raising was organized within hours of the blaze. The gutted structure, located along Mellinger Road just off Rt. 495 north of Swanton, was completely razed by bulldozers and construction of a new foundation and basement began. A photo of the new house as it looked Tuesday can be found on page A-2.

Nearly 300 Join Foundation Of GCM Hospital

Two hundred and seventy-seven interested citizens have responded to Garrett County Memorial Hospital's first Annual Giving Campaign, resulting in donations totaling $12,635.

Letters were mailed to area residents inviting them to join the Foundation as Associate Members by donating $25 or more.

"Our intent," commented George W. Evans, committee chairman, "is to reach those individuals in Garrett County Memorial Hospital's service area who may not have been personally contacted during the Capital Campaign, but who we felt would certainly want to join the Foundation and its efforts to maintain the current level of quality medical service."

By joining the Foundation as an associate member, contributors become part of a volunteer organization that is responding to a high priority need in the community, Evans said. They will receive the Foundation's annual report, newsletters and notices of special events, and they will be recognized in the next annual report. "Joining the Foundation gives contributors the opportunity to demonstrate that they care about the quality of health care available for themselves

Lonaconing Man Gets One Year For Sex Offense

A 20-year-old Lonaconing man was found guilty of a third degree sexual offense and sentenced to a year in the Garrett County Jail during a trial held last Thursday in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Gilbert D. Wilhelm, Jr., was sentenced by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer. Wilhelm entered a plea of guilty at a hearing held on November 2, when a presentence investigation was ordered.

Charges of second-degree rape, fourth-degree sexual offense, fourth degree sexual offense, and assault and battery were not prosecuted.

The charges stemmed from a February 25 incident in Grantsville involving a 12-year-old female.

In addition to the year in jail, to be served consecutively with another sentence imposed in District Court, Wilhelm was sentenced to two years supervised probation.

GCC Board Of Trustees Meet To Hear Good News On Motto, Senate Bill

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees met Tuesday evening and were informed that a motto for GCC has been chosen and that a Senate bill for Drug Free School Zones in Institutions of Post-secondary Education will be introduced into the 1990 Maryland Legislative Session.

GCC Motto
Dr. Stephen J. Herman, president of GCC, announced that GCC's new motto has been chosen, which is as follows: "Encouraging each to succeed; challenging all to excel."

"The motto reflects our thinking here at GCC and took much time and effort on everyone's part to determine. We wanted a motto that would reflect our high standards at the college and I think we have developed one," said Dr. Herman.

Drug Free School Zones
A bill on Drug Free School Zones at Institutions of Post-secondary Education will be introduced to the 1990 Maryland Legislative Session.

Dr. Herman pointed out that one of the most astounding features of the bill is that anyone convicted of possessing drugs at an institution of higher education will be imprisoned for not more than 20 years and will receive a fine of not more than $20,000 for a first offense.

If convicted of a second offense, the person will be imprisoned for not less than five years nor more than 40 and will be fined not more than $40,000. A bill has already been established for such offenses at elementary and secondary schools in Maryland.

Silo Fire Keeps Firemen Occupied For 12 Hours

Volunteer fire fighters from four area fire departments were kept busy for over eight hours on Saturday and four hours more on Monday attempting to douse a fire in a silo near Red House. One Oakland fireman was transported to the hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Oakland and Gorman firemen were initially called just before 10 a.m. Saturday to the Brooks Hamilton farm, located just off U.S. Rt. 50 about one mile west of Red House. The silo was filled with grass silage, which apparently ignited by spontaneous combustion. The fire was believed to have originated about 40 feet from the bottom of the silo and about 20 feet below the surface of the silage.

The firemen remained on the scene Saturday until about 6

Mtn. Lake Park House Gutted By Fire Sunday

A Mtn. Lake Park house was gutted by fire Sunday afternoon and the tenants, who were at church when the blaze began, lost many of their possessions.

Oakland and Deer Park fire fighters were called to the residence of the Robert and Tammy Steyer family, located at the corner of K and Baltimore streets, at 12:45 p.m. after Jeff Hinebaugh, a neighbor, saw smoke coming from the one and one-half story wood frame house and called for assistance. When firemen arrived the flames had already broken through the roof.

James Martin, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, determined that the fire started in the chimney of the house and caught the adjoining wall on fire. It had apparently burned for sometime before being noticed. Martin said the Steyer family was returning from church as the fire fighting units were arriving on the scene.

The house is owned by Sally Steyer, Deer Park, and Nancy Thompson, Oakland, and was being rented by the Steyer family.

Martin said after the fire began near the chimney flames quickly spread to the roof and also gutted the bedroom and living room areas. The remainder of the house sustained heavy heat and smoke damage.

Martin estimated the loss to be about $65,000 and noted that the Steyer family had no insurance on their possessions. The owners of the house did have some coverage on the structure.

Also responding to the scene was the county air cascade vehicle presently housed at Friendsville VFD, plus the Southern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

Fire personnel remained on the scene until about 3:45 p.m.

Incentive Program Formed To Attract Businesses To County

In cooperation with the Garrett County Development Corporation, the Garrett County Commissioners have announced the opening of a program to attract new business to Garrett County.

The program, the Bounty Marketing System, will pay any Garrett County resident or property owner for information referrals which lead to the successful location of a manufacturing business or point-of-destination recreational attraction.

Cash payments based on the amount of capital investment and new jobs created will be made to any person who has knowledge of a business which may be interested in locating in Garrett County.

Ralph Burnett, chairman of the Garrett County Development Corporation, said, "By this program we are inviting every man, woman and child in Garrett County to become a sales agent for Garrett County, and if successful they will be paid accordingly."

Garrett County Commissioner Ernie Gregg said, "Over the past several years, most of our new business prospects have come from connections within the county. We would like our residents to become aware of the valuable role they can play in bringing new jobs to our county."

Commissioner Elwood Groves said, "We believe this is a great way to encourage our second home property owners to get actively involved in Garrett County's economy. Many of these property owners own businesses which could easily be transplanted or expanded to Garrett County. Others are in managerial positions and may wish to start up a new business."

Commissioner John Braskey noted, "The various tax and financing incentives we offer to new and expanding manufacturers in Garrett County make us very competitive with any place in the United States."

The program will be funded from receipts of the County Accommodations Tax, a three percent tax levied on all rented motel rooms, cottages, and

Wintery Road Conditions Cause Several Mishaps

The Maryland State Police investigated several accidents which occurred over the past week as the result of icy road conditions.

Jerry Allen Weaver, 26, Fort Wayne, Ind., was charged with a speeding violation and a federal violation for driving more than 10 hours without a rest break after the tractor trailer he was driving left the road on Monday, December 18.

Weaver was traveling east on U.S. Rt. 50 when he rounded a curve and slid on ice and snow, striking the guardrail, then sliding 150 feet down an embankment. Cpl. R.V. Reid investigated the incident.

Connie Jean Trail, 24, Cumberland, was traveling east on U.S. Rt. 48 on Friday, December 15, around 7 p.m., when the U.P.S. truck she was driving lost traction on the icy Junior Lee Guthrie, 31, was sentenced by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer. Guthrie pled guilty to the charge at an October 5 hearing and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Charges of possession of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia, and creating a common nuisance were not prosecuted.

The company currently employs 33 persons, with openings for one engineer and one machinist. The number of employees has increased from 22 in April. Pictured above is a motor test set, just one of the products manufactured at Phenix

Yough Board Meets For Updates On Membership, Land Acquisition

Members of the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board met for the bi-monthly meeting last Thursday for an update on membership requirements and the Land Acquisition Program.

Land Acquisition
John Wilson, Department of Natural Resources liaison to the Board, reported that approximately 90 acres in the Sang Run area were purchased by the Department of Natural Resources in November. The property was formerly owned by the Natural Lands Trust.

Wilson stated that the Department of General Services have pursued acquisition of other properties in the Youghiogheny Corridor and are formulating plans for future acquisition of land within the corridor.

Board Membership
Members of the Board expressed concern over the lack of attendance to the Youghiogheny Advisory Board meetings. The by-laws were reviewed and a motion was passed concerning attendance.

If a member misses two consecutive meetings, he/she will be notified that the Advisory Board will review his membership. The Board can then notify the Commissioners if they feel that the member does not show proper enthusiasm for attending meetings. The Commissioners will then take whatever action they deem appropriate.

Current members on the Youghiogheny Local Advisory Board are: Ernest Gregg, County Commissioner and chairman of the Advisory Board; Melvin Dunithan, Ralph Burnett, Shaun Sanders, Rusty Thomas, Robert Thomas, Dave Thomas, James Spear and Donald Sebold.

The Advisory Board agreed to continue keeping minutes in verbatim.

Gypsy Moths
The Advisory Board voted to send a letter to the Department of Natural Resources and the Scenic and Wild River Review Board to express concern over the gypsy moth problem within the Youghiogheny Corridor.

Wilson explained that spraying for the moth will occur within areas of the forest where the gypsy moth is most prevalent and where the forest is timbered on a regular basis. Persons wishing more information on having their property sprayed by the state should contact the County Commissioners or Department of Natural Resources.

Boundary Surveys
Wilson stated that 10 boundary surveys of property within the Youghiogheny Corridor were requested. Four of the surveys have been completed. Two are currently underway, two of the owners that requested surveys were unable to be reached, and two property owners withdrew their request.

Recreation Study
Pennsylvania State University submitted a draft document on the Recreation Capacity Study to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The DNR reviewed the document and Pennsylvania State is currently revising the document. Wilson stated that it is hoped that the DNR will be able to supply Advisory Board members with a copy.

Wilson explained that he hopes to have a meeting in January for Pennsylvania State University to present the findings of the study to the Advisory Board. A tentative date was set for Thursday, January 18.

Grantsville Family Sustains $4,505 Loss From Theft

A Grantsville woman sustained a loss of over $4,500 last week, following a breaking, entering and theft at her residence, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Bonnie Catherine Spicher reported a loss totaling $4,505 following last Thursday's burglary of her family's Route 40 home.

A variety of hunting arms, jewelry and cash was confiscated from the premises. Missing guns include a

Winchester model 12x12 gauge pump shotgun, a Winchester model 94 classic 30/30 lever action rifle, a Remington 22 bolt action rifle, and an M16 pellet gun. Also missing are a Bear Polar II bow with sights, quiver and arrows, a Buck Lock blade knife, and an eight-inch hunting knife. The perpetrator(s) also removed cash, a pink bedspread, and a variety of jewelry, including a gold nugget watch with four diamonds.

According to the Sheriff's Department, the burglar(s) apparently parked a vehicle along Route 48, just east of New Germany near the road's 21-mile marker, and loaded the stolen merchandise into the vehicle at this point.

Persons who think they may have seen this vehicle are requested to contact Deputy J.D. Murphy or Detective P.J. Kelly, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, 334-1911; or Garrett County Crime Solvers hotline, 334-1975.

In an unrelated case, Lawrence Welch, Oakland reported a theft that occurred between September and November at his residence. According to Corporal L.E. Gnegy, two saws were taken from the basement of his residence. Welch incurred a loss of $310 from the incident. The investigation is continuing.

Sherry Lynn Skipper, Oakland, reported a breaking, entering and theft that occurred during December 10-13 at her Route 39 residence. A Smith Corona typewriter and a silver ring were found to be missing. Rosalie Baker, another resident of the house, reported a missing watch. Total loss from the theft was estimated at roughly $400.

Navada June Burnem, Friendsville, reported the December 5 theft of foodstamps from her mailbox on Record Rd. Det./Sgt. D.W. Tucker is investigating.

Correction Noted

In a photo caption in last week's issue of The Republican concerning the annual toy and clothing project by Broad Ford Elementary School, it stated that among the businesses that contributed to the effort was Oakland Electric. It should have identified that business as Garrett Electric. The organizers of the project note their apology to the management of Garrett Electric for the error.

State Police Investigating Theft Of Truck

The Maryland State Police are investigating the theft of a 1987 Dodge truck, which was apparently stolen on the night of Saturday, December 16, from a garage located on Rt. 219 north of Accident.

Clarence Glass reported that the culprit(s) broke into the garage and attempted to remove a 1980 Ford van, valued at $1,500. The van was disabled in the snow and the culprits then successfully removed a 1987 Dodge truck, valued at $10,000.

The truck, which is still missing, is white with a Maryland registration number 441776. Tfc. R.J. Resh is investigating.

Carl Whorton reported the theft of lawn mowers, an iron bed, tools, a washer, chairs and several miscellaneous items from his residence, between December 11 and 13.

The items were valued at $1,070. The culprit(s) apparently broke in by the front door of the residence. Tfc. R.M. Hersberger is investigating.

Mtn. Lake Park Man Files Suit For $10 Million

Claiming everything from physical abuse to misconduct to a violation of civil rights to contempt of court, a Mtn. Lake Park resident has filed a federal lawsuit against the state of Maryland and eight local individuals seeking $10 million in punitive damages and $10,000 in compensatory damages.

Jerry A. Cline, who filed a similar suit in 1986 that was ultimately settled out of court, filed the suit December 11 at U.S. District Court, District of Maryland, Baltimore, following what he claims is continued harassment and violations of his civil rights. Defendants named in the suit include Maryland State Police Trooper J.L. Meyers, Garrett County Sheriff Martin Van Evans, Garrett County State's Attorney James L. Sherbin, William Ferry, an investigator for the State's Attorney's office, Charles Pariseau, Garrett County District Court commissioner, Garrett County Commissioner Ernest Gregg, Paul Shockey, former personnel director for the county commissioners, and Hobart J. Shillburg, former Oakland City Police chief.

Cline's suit alleges that some of the defendants violated the terms of the 1986 lawsuit which included a signed agreement that the defendants would never again violate Cline's civil rights, in return for a cash settlement. The suit alleges that since that agreement was signed by both parties in June of 1986, there have been repeated violations of Cline's civil rights, including abusive treatment by Garrett County sheriff's deputies at the county jail in December of 1986; that Cline was unjustly arrested for trespassing in a public place and when he requested a jury trial his request was denied; that he was on several occasions threatened by some of the defendants; that charges of assault and battery against two Garrett County deputies filed by Cline were ignored; and that in November of this year Cline was falsely arrested without evidence or probable cause on a theft charge.

The 14-page suit, served to the defendants by U.S. marshals last week, contains details of each allegation and the role played by each defendant. In the most recent incident — the theft charge last month — Cline was arrested by Trooper Meyers for theft of an automobile transmission, despite the fact that Cline has in his possession a receipt, signed by Trooper Meyers, indicating that Cline purchased the transmission.

Cline alleges that Pariseau, court commissioner, admitted to him (Cline) that he was "getting the shaft" on the theft charge that was lodged against him, but the charges were not dismissed.

The defendants have 20 days to respond to the charges in U.S. District Court.

Same Enemy, Same Goal

It is unfortunate, especially during this holiday season, that our nation is once again engaged in military conflict. The joy of Christmas for at least 18 American families, so far, has been shattered by the death of their sons and, in one case, a daughter. More U.S. lives will undoubtedly be lost before the operation in Panama is over.

However, we want to go on record with the many others who have voiced strong support for the actions of President Bush in this matter of international freedom. We agree with the president that the time had come, and probably passed, that military intervention was necessary in Panama, where Manuel Noriega was beginning to commit atrocities against our people. The shooting and beating of American citizens by Noriega thugs is something that we simply cannot allow by the peoples of any nation, let alone one run by a criminal.

While it seems inappropriate to attempt to draw parallels between warfare and Christmas — the coming of Christ — we will nonetheless attempt to do so.

The basic reason for our invasion into Panama was to rid that nation of a dictator who persecuted not only his own people, but also people of other nations, particularly the United States. Noriega is an agent of the devil himself, who thinks nothing of abusing and killing other people in order to have things his way.

For Christians, this was also the reason for the Christmas event — not only were God's people being persecuted by sinful rulers, but all of mankind was hopelessly trapped by the devil himself. There was no escape for man from his own sinfulness by nature. The one true liberator was sent by God, however, not only to free the people of that day, but each one of us today, in all the world.

Christ, the greatest liberator, did not use guns in his "invasion" into the world, but there was bloodshed, and then victory, on Easter Sunday.

We are in now attempting to compare President Bush to God, or our soldiers to Christ, for there is no comparison. But we believe that the enemy and the goal of both "invasions" are the same. We pray this Christmas season that victory is won soon in Panama, without further suffering and loss of life.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is the holiday season, a time to join with family, friends, and associates in celebration. The staff of the Shock Trauma Center, Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems, and the Area Wide Trauma Center at Memorial Hospital and Medical Center of Cumberland wish you a happy holiday season — and urge you not to drink and drive.

Alcohol consumption plays a significant role in more than half of vehicular deaths. Not all of the fatalities or critical injuries are suffered by the people who have too much to drink; many are innocent victims — pedestrians or passengers in other vehicles.

Take it from those who see the pain and suffering and lost lives — if you intend to drink, designate a driver who won't drink. And please wear your seat belts — after all, it is the law.

A few moments of recklessness may deprive you of your promising future. It is too high a price to pay. Don't take chances this holiday season — don't drink and drive.

The Shock Trauma Center Staff and Area Wide Trauma Center of Memorial Hospital & Medical Center of Cumberland

To the Editor:

The article on the front page of last week's Republican about our company was inaccurate and misleading. We are PHENIX (no "o") TECHNOLOGIES, INC.

The article suggests that we recently received a loan from the State which would enable us to continue the operation of American HV Test Systems in Accident. In fact, we have been in business since April. We acquired the assets of American HV at that time, but we are a separate corporation under different ownership.

We did receive several loans to get started and the State of Maryland was involved, although not as a lender. Our start-up financing included loans from First United National Bank and Garrett County Economic Development Company, with a partial guarantee by Maryland Industrial Development Financing Authority, a state agency.

As I said, all of this took place in April when we got started. More recently, and this is what the article was about, the State of Maryland arranged for a reduction in the interest rate on part of our First United loan through its new Regional Enterprise Assistance Deposit Incentive program. The rest of our loan from First United is a normal commercial loan and carries a regular interest rate. We appreciate the involvement of the State through MIDEA and READI; without their assistance we might not have been able to arrange the financing for this new company. We also want to publicly thank Tom Jones, executive director of the Garrett County Development Company, and Steve Lantz, senior commercial loan officer at First United, for their help in arranging the financial package we needed.

When we began operating in April, we had 20 employees. Our two newest employees started work on Monday of this week, bringing our total to 33.

Thank you for this opportunity to clarify the information presented in last week's article.

Yours truly,
Phenix Technologies, Inc.
James DeCarlo
President

Dear Mr. DeCarlo,

We apologize for the misinformation contained in the story which was received and published, word for word, from the office of Governor Schaefer. Unfortunately, we received the article just moments before press time last Thursday morning and did not have time to contact you to verify its contents. Of course, we assumed that the information was accurate, considering its source.

Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing concerning the shifting of the high school and middle school students during the upcoming renovation of Southern High School. I and the majority of the student body at Southern believe that the high school should have the morning shift, while the middle school students should have classes in the afternoon. There are numerous reasons which support this viewpoint.

First of all, older students are more physically capable of withstanding colder weather and would be more responsible about handling their own safety on dark, winter mornings. Middle school children would not have to deal with as many weather-related problems in the afternoon as they would have to in the morning.

Another reason for the high school to go in the morning is the presence of extracurricular activities. The high school has many extracurricular activities which result in a lot of school spirit, pride, and community service. Many of these activities can only take place in the afternoons or early evening hours. In comparison, the middle school has fewer extracurricular activities to suffer from the disruption caused by the rescheduling process. Suspending the high school programs is not a workable answer because, not only would school spirit and unity suffer, but this would interfere with the scheduling of athletic events for the next several years after renovation is complete.

The most important reason that the high school should go to school in the morning is jobs. Many students need jobs to help out with family needs or to help pay for their college educations. Because most businesses that hire students need them in the afternoons or evenings, some students will not be able to work at all. If this occurs, many students may have to drop out of school or delay, possibly even lose out on, a college education.

The student job situation would also have a great effect on our business community. Many employers of students would find themselves understaffed during their peak periods of operation because students would not be available for employment.

Although each school is going to be inconvenienced, it would be a greater inconvenience to more people if the high school had to operate during the afternoon shift. If the citizens and school board of Garrett County would look at this situation objectively and with an open mind, it would become clear that Southern High School should have the morning shift during the future renovation.

Sincerely,
Jason Simms
Southern High School Student

Dear Editor:

My name is Bob. I am in prison. The reason I am writing is to apologize to the public — first to the people whose home I broke into, and to my wife for putting her through all of this. At that point and time in my life I was unable to control my drinking, which at this time I can say that I am an alcoholic. I can see where all my problems came from now. I just wish I could have seen it before I came to prison. It's a shame it took a place like this to make me see where all my problems came from.

I can't change the past or turn back time. But what I did wrong I am paying for in so many ways now. I am just about to lose my family now too. I was one out of four of us who got all the time. The other three guys got no time at all. I was the only one who had the most to lose and I am sure losing it quick. That is the only thing that makes me so mad. We all had an equal part in the crime and now I am losing my family just because we all wanted to break into this home for more beer to drink. I feel that the court was wrong by giving one man all the time for this crime.

I'm not writing this for pity or anything like that. The reason I am doing this is for my own peace of mind and to let all the young people out there know that drinking and drugging isn't worth it. The only place it will get you is where I am sitting right now. It's a very lonely world.

So the next time one of you out there takes a drink or does some drug, think about what your going to lose. It sure as hell isn't worth it. Take it from someone who knows only too well.

And Kim, I am sorry for all the Hell I put you through, and everyone else out there.

So, all you people out there, have respect for your freedom. You don't know what it means until it's gone. Then it's too late. You will lose everything.

Sincerely,
Bob

To the Editor:

I was very impressed with many things in your paper last week. The honesty special Gift Editorial was grand. Wouldn't it be great if we had more Michael Hollobaugh families being reared?

I was equally impressed by the Scott and Cheryl Kinsinger letter in relation to the mentally impaired doing the dumpster jobs and I agree with them. I saw the group at the Friendsville site once and I wondered as I went about my garbage business. What exactly besides canvas gloves do they wear to protect them? The one supervisor was way back doing something at the van while the workers picked up the trash some yards away. I too, question the wisdom in using the mentally handicapped in this fashion and for what pay?

I find Garrett County very negligent and non-caring generally in relation to many aspects of the mentally impaired and the elderly! Who is supposed to be the advocates for the mentally disabled and the elderly here? Many people are getting paid to do for them, but how many actually produce? There are so many restrictions by the state agencies in what can and cannot be done that it's sickening.

The social service "service division" does not seem to care a hoot about service to the elderly in their jurisdiction. Certainly not in cleaning and chore work! I waited almost two years for service I am entitled to every six months, and ended up by securing my own heavy chore persons after every effort for two hectic months failed to produce one worker through social services. What goes on here? The elderly, handicapped, all people who need hot meals in their home for more than two days a week, have to travel 30 plus miles to get them from Swanton to Oakland?

The coiffured Bingo ladies don't need the hot meals; the ill, handicapped elderly do! What is wrong with our state system? Why aren't the "able welfare people" being made to produce labor, not babies? I know too many able bodied people here in Garrett County who have been on welfare for most of 10 to 15 years, and they don't work! They never really have worked! They even spend their "free rent money" on liquor, drugs or whatever and get evicted and have more babies or do more robberies and end up in jail for a short period or are involved in our court system for some reason (more tax payers money spent) and on and on! Where does it end and when? When will the powers that be wake up?

This is my opinion.

Thank you, Mrs. Louise V. Harvey P.S. Our neighboring poor state of W.Va. who seems in "dire straights" in Preston County has had hot meals delivered to ill, handicapped, elderly for a 36 mile round trip for many years. I know because my elderly mother received them for five years enabling her to remain in her own home, when made blind by a bumbling physician. The members game isn't played there as it is in the state of Maryland! Who cares? Where is the Christianity in all of this?

Sincerely,
Bob

by Sherry Frantz

The Christmas season has the miraculous power to bring out the best or the worst in each of us, inspiring everything from unprecedented generosity to new heights of anxiety or to untold lows of despair.

It is, for all its tradition and conventionality, a uniquely individual experience capable of promoting practically every emotion known to us. Personal and familial memories, successes, failures, losses, gains, dreams and hopes. And let's not forget peace and joy.

When it is joy we feel, we want to share it, and that urge to share is, I believe, the reason we give gifts — in the form of toys, clothing, gadgets, food and money — not only to our family and friends but to those "less fortunate."

While this form of sharing can certainly constitute a fine and noble act, and while it may bring a measure of brightness to the recipient as well as to the giver, the time has come to dig deeper and pull out a heartfelt measure of respect and understanding for the beholder's real life experience.

As we approach a new decade (the "me generation" having taken hold in the '70s and holding even more tenaciously throughout the '80s), the challenge to correct societal ills must be taken. And it wouldn't hurt to get a head start on that challenge this Christmas season by giving the gifts of respect and compassion.

We sometimes underestimate the power of the spirit — a spirit that sometimes becomes more powerful in the face of adversity. We feel sympathy for those who can't afford the "things" of Christmas, but it may be quite an assumption to judge others by our standards of happiness.

Do we imagine that those who receive our second-hand gifts are so very different from us as to feel nothing but gratitude? Is it possible that a parent might feel more deeply the broken spirit that plunked him into a world of poverty, a world where he is not able to provide fully for his children?

It is time to take the challenge of enlightened gift-giving, and to understand that anonymously-sent Christmas toys and gifts might be sending only one message to its receivers: that they are, indeed, stricken with poverty.

It is time to search more diligently for more significant ways of narrowing the gap between those who can provide and those who can't.

It is time to start leaving more appropriate messages under the Christmas tree for future generations to find.

In a separate case, Dewane R. and Brenda S. Smith, Mountain Lake Park, were both found guilty of drug charges during a December 14 trial. Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer ordered presentence investigations for each, and revoked Dewane Smith's bail.

The couple were indicted September 13 on five drug charges each. The charges stemmed from an August 6 incident. Dewane Smith was found guilty of the manufacture of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS). Brenda Smith was found guilty of possession of CDS. Charges of possession of CDS with intent to distribute, use or possession with intent to use, and maintaining a common nuisance were not prosecuted.

The Smiths were represented by Richard William Winelander.

In an unrelated case, David L. Kitzmiller, Deer Park, was found guilty of possession of CDS. Judge Thayer ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Kitzmiller entered a plea of guilty during the trial. A charge of distribution of CDS was not prosecuted.

Kitzmiller was indicted by the Garrett County Grand Jury September 13 on drug charges. Charges stemmed from a February 19 incident in Deer Park. Kitzmiller was arrested by Assistant Chief Deputy P.J. Pratt at that time.

Kitzmiller was represented by Winelander.

A Mountain Lake Park man was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and failure to stop at a stop sign during a December 14 trial.

Kenneth W. Tasker, 26, Mountain Lake Park, was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail, with all but 30 days suspended. Chief Judge Fred Thayer also sentenced him to two years supervised probation and a $50 fine.

Charges stemmed from a March 2 incident in Crellin in which Kitzmiller was arrested by Deputy J.D. Murphy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department. John R. Toston represented Tasker.

READI PROGRAM PROJECT — Governor William Donald Schaefer last week announced Board of Public Works Approval to finance the first project under the Regional Enterprise Assistance Deposit Incentive Loan (READI) pilot program. The $250,000 loan was awarded to the Maryland Economic Development Corporation and Garrett County, and will be used by Phenix Technologies Inc., Accident, toward their cost of purchasing and taking over the operation of American H.V. Test Systems. The takeover took place in April, with Phenix obtaining the assets from American H.V. Test, but operating as a separate corporation. FY89 Single Audit Report Presented To GCC Board

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees was presented the Single Audit Report for Fiscal Year 1989, as compiled by its independent auditor, Rodeheaver & Associates, by College Comptroller John Culp.

Culp reported to the Board of Trustees that he was pleased with the results of the audit. The College financial system accommodated the grants and associated control and reporting standards in compliance with OMB Circular A-12, "Audits of State and Local Governments."

The Single Audit is conducted on Federal Financial Assistance Programs including Pell Grants; Supplemental Economic Opportunity Grants; Perkins Loans; College Work-study programs; and programs funded through the Maryland Department of Vocational and Technical Education. All grants have been renewed for Fiscal Year 1990.

In FY89, Pell grants were up by 40 percent to $253,139 serving 219 students. This compared to FY88 when $183,924 in Pell grants were issued to 163 students. Supplemental Economic Opportunity Grants in FY89 were $7,316, nearly the same as FY88 at $7,320. GCC's Work-study payroll was $55,194 in FY88 and $53,064 in FY89.

In addition to New Horizons (a $40,000 grant aimed at Displaced Homemakers which GCC has operated for many years) FY89 saw the inception of the Caring Connection, a $20,000 grant designed to help adolescent, single parents.

New Horizons provides tuition, mileage reimbursement and child care monies to single women and displaced homemakers over the age of 21. The Caring Connection helps young women between the ages of 16 and 21.

A Job Placement Grant for $8,000 was also started at GCC in FY89. The grant provides job placement and follow-up services for vocational program students. During its first six months of operation, the Job Placement Center had 55 student applicants, had contacted 52 local employers and had placed 43 applicants in jobs. Sandy Major, program coordinator for GCC, is responsible for the Job Placement Center.

Training teachers to use computers in the classroom was a cooperative effort between GCC and the Garrett County Board of Education. Approximately 100 teachers were trained with the state of Maryland providing funds in the amount of $14,500 for FY88 and FY89.

GCC provided training for Child Development Associates (Head Start) during FY89. The college was subcontracted by Garrett County Community Action Head Start and West Virginia North Central Region Head Start.

"The new grant programs are an exciting enhancement to the services presently offered by GCC. The grant funding goes a long way toward GCC meeting its mission in our community," said Dr. Stephen J. Herman, president of GCC. Culp added that the favorable audit helps insure continuance of funding for these important programs.

Rec. Industries Buys Out Thoman Motel Corporation

Helmuth M. Heise, president of Recreational Industries Inc., McHenry, has announced the recent acquisition of the Thoman Motel Corporations holdings at the Wisp Ski Resort.

As of this month, Recreational Industries Inc. will own and operate the Gathering Restaurant, Shenanigans Lounge, and the Wisp Golf Course.

"The consolidation of all food and beverage outlets along with our recreational operations is another major step in the growth and development of Wisp," Heise stated. "Operating the golf course spring, summer, and fall will complement our winter ski operations and help stabilize our employee base. This strengthens Recreational Industries and is a boost for the local economy as well."

In addition to assuming management of the Gathering and Shenanigans, the Bavarian Room Restaurant and 23 — Below Lounge are set to re-open this month and two new outlets will appear — Pizzazz Pizza and The Sweet Street Pastry Shop. Announcements on opening dates, hours of operation, and menus will be made over the next several weeks.

Hey Carl,
What's Going On?
Merry Christmas

From you know who!

All they need is LOVE

To Friends of Animals:
This is the time of year for counting our blessings, for reaching out with love and generosity to family and friends. And that is how it should be.
But will you also reach out with care and compassion to our other friends — the animals? Will you help touch their lives through a "special holiday gift"? Such a gift will help with our spay/neuter program, help feed the lost and place abandoned ones in foster homes, and provide veterinarian care for injured animals.
Help the Humane Society help the animals. Send your donation to the Garrett County Humane Society, Inc., P.O. Box 75, Accident, MD 21520.
We extend to all of you our thanks and wishes for a very Happy Holiday!

A MONTH OF WORK has resulted in a house which brightly wishes a Merry Christmas to passers by in the Cove. The residence of Harold and Nancy Schmidt glows with 3,000 lights, and viewers can find trees, crosses, snowmen and a Santa Claus. The Schmidts turn the lights on at Thanksgiving following about a month of putting them up.

REAL ESTATE

DEEP CREEK REALTY

TRY TEAMWORK!

Have you ever gone out of your way to do a special favor for a friend, only to find out later that they seemed to be working against you? Perhaps you invested a lot of your time only to find out later that they had already accomplished the same task themselves.

The same situation sometimes occurs in real estate. You see, a real estate agent first devotes time to an interview with prospective buyers in order to determine their needs and desires regarding a new home. The agent then devotes many behind-the-scenes hours researching the homes market, locating and previewing homes and even eliminating those which don't meet the buyers' needs. Only after that research is completed do the buyers begin their search in earnest. As the buyers begin looking at homes with their agent, it's important that they work together with their agent to find just the right home. For instance, they may notice an attractive home with another real estate company's sign in the yard, or a "For Sale By Owner", or even an ad in the newspaper. That's no problem! Their agent can probably make arrangements to show any of those other properties without the buyers having to switch agents in mid-stream. Think of the time and effort saved by the buyers.

If you'll be buying a home soon, pick the best agent you can find, and then say "Let's work together!"

If you'd like to purchase a home, but feel out of touch with what's happening in real estate, give us a call today at 387-5303, or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

Handgun Board Bans Sale Of Several Weapons

The Maryland Handgun Roster Board has formally banned the sale of several handguns in Maryland, including three handguns considered to be among the top crime guns in America. The weapons are among an estimated 100 handguns banned for sale on January 1, 1990, because of the failure of the gun manufacturers or dealers to submit the weapons for legal considerations. The board, in completing a nine month review, is preparing to publish its final roster of nearly 700 weapons approved for sale in Maryland.

"The work of the Maryland Handgun Roster Board was thoroughly successful," said Governor William Donald Schaefer. "I am proud of the Handgun Roster Board's accomplishments," he continued.

"The citizens of Maryland have been well served by this board," said Colonel Tippet, chairman of the gun board. Under a law passed in 1988 designed to ban the so called "Saturday Night Specials," the board considered nine criteria, including concealability, quality of manufacture, and whether the gun is useful for sport or law enforcement.

"This law was designed to remove these junk guns from the streets of Maryland," said Tippet. Since the enactment of Maryland's Handgun Law, the Maryland Handgun Roster Board has met monthly to consider qualifications of various weapons submitted for approval. The board disapproved the following weapons:

1. American Arms PX-22 auto pistol — .22LR caliber, 7-shot magazine, 2.85" barrel, 15 oz.
2. Bryco Model 38 auto pistols — .22LR, 32ACP and 380 caliber, 6-shot magazine, 2.8" barrel, 15 oz.
3. Feather Guardian Angel pistols — 9mm Para and 38 Spec. caliber, 2-shot, 3" barrel, 17 oz.

4. F.I.E. "Titan 25" pistol — .25ACP caliber, 6-shot magazine, 2.44" barrel, 12 oz.
5. Grendel P-10 auto pistol — .380ACP caliber, 10-shot magazine, 3" barrel, 15 oz.
6. IAI "Backup" auto pistols — .380ACP caliber, 5-shot magazine, 2.5" barrel, 18 oz.
7. New Adventure Arms derringers — .22LR and .22 WMR caliber, 4-shot, 2.5" barrel, 15 oz.
8. Wilkinson "Sherry" auto pistol — .22LR caliber, 8-shot magazine, 2.12" barrel, 9.25 oz.

The formal list of handguns approved for sale in Maryland will be published in the Maryland Register and distributed to licensed firearms dealers and public libraries.

Financial Support For Local Guard Over $750,000

Federal support of the Maryland Army National Guard (MDARNG) in Garrett County amounted to $758,553 in the fiscal year that ended September 30, 1989, according to figures compiled by the Guard's finance office.

Nearly 63 percent of the federal dollars covered the salaries paid the part- and full-time members in Oakland's Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion (Combat Corps).

At the end of FY '89, more than 130 individuals belonged to this MDARNG unit, which is located at 14 N. Eighth Street. Capt. Richard D. Wakefield, of Garrett County, is the company commander.

In the four Western Maryland counties of Garrett, Washington, Allegany, and Frederick, the federal government spent $5,151,104 in support of the Maryland Army National Guard. This figure represents nearly six percent of the $76,590,425 spent by the federal government in fiscal year 1989 to support the MDARNG.

Federal and state expenditures in FY '89 for the Maryland National Guard totaled $123,367,035. The state provided $13,877,110 to the Maryland National Guard, mainly for the upkeep of armories and the salaries of 253 full-time state employees, and construction funds for renovation of Baltimore's 5th Regiment Armory.

The Maryland Army National Guard's 82 units relocated in all but four counties (Caroline, Dorchester, St. Mary's and Worcester). The Maryland Air National Guard is located at Warfield Air National Guard Base, Martin State Airport, in Middle River in Baltimore County.

In fiscal year 1989, state and federal expenditures amounted to nearly $122 million for the Maryland National Guard; the federal government provided more than 89 percent of this figure.

Maj. Gen. James F. Fretterd, the adjutant general of the Maryland National Guard, said, "Our Maryland National Guard members train throughout the state, the nation and the world to help protect America and keep our nation strong.

"They return to their communities to be better leaders, better citizens and better employees," said Fretterd. "As consumers and taxpayers, they make a substantial impact on the local economy by spending their dollars where they live."

Rams Lose Another Heartbreaker, At The Buzzer, To Tucker Lions

The Southern High varsity boys' basketball team is still looking for its first win of the season after dropping another heartbreaker Tuesday night to host Tucker County, as Matt Poling sunk a 15-foot jumper at the buzzer to defeat the Rams, 71-69. It was the third straight loss in as many starts for the Rams and the second that has occurred in the final seconds.

The Rams played catch-up most of the evening, as they trailed 18-15 at the end of the first quarter and then, after being down 30-21 midway through the second period, came alive for a 15-6 scoring run to knot the score at 36 apiece at halftime.

The Mountain Lions were on top 55-50 after three periods and maintained the advantage until the final three minutes of the game.

Trailing 69-60 with just under three minutes remaining, the Rams came back to cut the Tucker advantage to just two points, 69-67, as Brett Rice connected for a jumper and two free throws and John Stem added a pair of free tosses.

Huskies' Rally Falls Short In Loss To Indians

Despite an impressive comeback in the fourth quarter, the Northern Huskies were denied their first win of the season Saturday night when they fell to host Mount Savage, 63-57, dropping them to 0-2 on the season.

The Indians, now 2-0, held a 15-8 advantage at the end of the first quarter and then outscored the Huskies in the second stanza, 15-4, to take a commanding 30-12 lead. This expanded their lead to 21 points, 44-23, by the end of the third quarter.

However, Coach Dave Bender's squad did not give up, and came storming back to score 34 points in the final period and nearly record what would have been one of the greatest comeback wins in area high school history.

The Huskies hit six three-point shots in the fourth quarter, with Dave Yoder, Jimmy Stephens, and Dave Lewis each netting two. Yoder paced the Huskies with 15 points, Stephens finished with 14, and Lewis recorded 13.

Scott DeHaven led the Indians with 22 points, grabbed nine rebounds, and had five steals. Danny McTaggart netted 11 points and pulled a game-high 12 rebounds, while Chris Hoppert was credited with eight assists.

In the preliminary contest, Tommy Shaffer and Tom Williams led the Mt. Savage jayvees to a 38-23 win over the Northern junior varsity. Mike Fike paced Northern with 12 points.

The Huskies will go after their first win of the campaign tonight at Bruceton Mills. Then they will play at Hancock Friday night.

SHS GIRLS TO HOST CLASSIC — The Southern High School girls' basketball teams will host their annual Snowflake Classic next Wednesday and Thursday, an event that will also include Fort Hill, Northern, and Westmar teams, both varsity and junior varsity. The Southern varsity is currently 1-1 on the season and will travel to the Baltimore area today to play Fallston and then play at Mercy High School tomorrow. game for the 3-1 Huskies.

Fort Hill is also among the area's best teams, having lost only one player from last season. They have won three of their first four games this season.

The 1-1 Rams, who graduated three players from last year's playoff team, feature a blend of youth, quickness, and enthusiasm this year, and also have considerable experience.

The present combined record of the teams in the tournament is 13-4, so Coach Stemple said he anticipates all the games will be "very competitive and exciting."

The tournament will also include the jayvee teams of the respective schools.

The tourney schedule is as follows:

December 27
Junior varsity, 3:15, Fort Hill vs. Valley; and 4:45, Southern vs. Northern. Varsity, 6:15, Fort Hill vs. Valley; and 8:00, Southern vs. Northern.

Southern Jayvees Edge Tucker Co. For Third Win

The Southern High School boys' junior varsity team, under head coach Jim Bosley, are off to an impressive start, having won three games in as many starts, the latest being an exciting 53-50 victory over host Tucker County Tuesday evening.

SNOWFLAKE CLASSIC

Coach Don Stemple's girls will play at home next week when they host the sixth annual Snowflake Classic next Wednesday and Thursday, an event that will also feature Northern, Fort Hill, and Westmar.

Among the top area players in the Classic will be Westmar's Dawn Sloan, who last year led the Wildcats (then Valley Black Knights) to a 21-0 regular season record and a state Class 1-A runner-up title. The Wildcats lost only two players to graduation from that team and are currently 6-1 this season. Sloan, only a sophomore, has had two 29-point games and is averaging 20 points per contest.

Another outstanding player in the tourney will be Northern's Kristen Edwards, a senior who has been a four-year starter for the Huskies and was last year's area scoring leader. She is currently averaging 15 points per

Snowflake Run

Set Jan. 20 At Big Run Park

The fourth annual Snowflake Chasers foot races will be held Saturday, January 20, at 10:30 a.m. at Big Run State Park.

The Upper Potomac Jaycees have scheduled five- and 10-mile runs, plus a half-marathon (13.1 miles) on a certified out-and-back course along scenic Savage River Road. The races will be run simultaneously, beginning and ending at B.J.'s Store, located one mile north of the Big Run camping area.

Plaques will be awarded to the first male and female overall finishers in each race, plus to age-group winners. A random drawing for prizes and a time of refreshment will be held after the races.

A long-sleeved t-shirt will be given to all entrants who register prior to January 1. Applications have already been mailed to previous participants. Forms are also available at Tennis Gear and Running Center in downtown Cumberland, Shipley's at the Country Club Mall, or by phoning 359-3770.

Race director Tom Morris reports that the event has become "amazingly popular," because of advertising the event in national publications.

"We are two weeks ahead in registration numbers from last year when we had 120 participants on race day," he said. "As a matter of fact, a fellow from Rapid City, South Dakota, is among those already registered."

Lakers Record Best Start Ever

With 91-85 Win Over Baltimore

A 91-85 victory by Garrett Community College Saturday evening in McHenry over the Community College of Baltimore upped the Lakers' record to 9-2, the best start ever by any GCC team.

Bruce Boldley and Chris Greene keyed the Laker offense, as Boldley netted 26 points, including a 10-for-11 effort at the foul line, and Greene sunk seven of his 18 points in the final minutes of the game to secure the GCC win.

The Lakers jumped out to an 8-0 advantage in the early moments of the contest and stayed in front until the 16:35 mark of the second half when the Red Devils tied the score. The lead exchanged hands several times until the final four minutes of the game, when Greene recorded a dunk, a three-point shot, and both ends of a one-and-one at the line. His free throws gave the Lakers an 89-82 lead with one minute remaining.

Boldley was also credited with seven assists and three steals, while Chuckie Moore, the Lakers' leading scorer, added 16 points, 13 rebounds, and two blocks. Bobby Gregg also reached double figures, finishing with 10 points.

Leading all scorers was Baltimore's Darnell Snead, who hit 30 points and also recorded four steals. Marlon Quillen finished with 12 points and 12 assists, while Brian Bowser grabbed 10 rebounds.

It was the second loss in four starts for the Red Devils.

The contest was the first in a week for the Lakers, who had games with Dundalk and Beaver community colleges postponed because of inclement weather. They will not play again until January 6 at Penn State/Fayette.

Neither team was able to amount a lead over seven points in the game that saw over 10 lead changes.

Todd Lewis paced Deep Creek Pharmacy with 19 points and McLaughlin had 15. Lawrence Dawson of The Guard led all scorers with 25 and Gary Paugh added 20 points to the losing cause.

Martin's Auto Glass kept their spotless record intact with a 118-75 drubbing of Bausch & Lomb. Dennis Gibson tallied 30 points for Martin's and Tom Stem added 20 in the winning effort. Todd Slaughter led Bausch & Lomb with 20 points.

Buffalo Coal recorded their fourth victory of the season by defeating Gonder's Insurance, 107-76. Buffalo had three players hit over the 20-point mark as Tom Panther (26), Jim Freeman (24), and Bryan Wilt (24) paced the victory. Matt Twyman of Gonder's led all scorers with 28.

GCC Board

"I don't think it's necessary, but I think it's helpful. We don't need or want an environment where an illegal activity occurs in an institution of higher education and certainly not in the community," stated Dr. Herman.

College And Me

Linda Strider, coordinator of the College and Me Program, presented the Board with information on the program.

Strider explained that GCC received a grant for $34,750 to conduct the College and Me Program. The early intervention program was begun to bring fifth grade students into a college atmosphere and motivate parents and students to encourage children to attend college. The program was originally for 12 of the most at-risk classes of fifth grade students, but when the principals of the area's elementary schools heard about the program, they wanted all of the fifth grade students to attend. GCC is now sponsoring 17 fifth grade classes for a total of 420 students.

Strider expects the college to receive the grant for the next three years and the students that attended GCC this year will attend in the sixth and seventh grades and in the eighth grade they will attend Frostburg State University for a period of time. GCC hopes to be able to continue the program with each new class of fifth graders.

Enrollment

Dr. Lillian Mitchell, Dean of Instruction and Student Services, reported enrollment figures for the college for inter-session and the spring semesters.

For the inter-session semester, 68 students have enrolled for classes, providing an FTE of 5.46. Dr. Mitchell explained that the FTE is so low because many students are enroll in the learning to ski class, which is a one-credit course.

For the spring semester, 331 students have enrolled for an FTE of 126.56. This figure is up by 22 students over the number that were enrolled on January 3, 1989, for an increase of 27 percent, and the FTE is up by 13.26 or 11.7 percent. Seventeen sections of courses have been filled.

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held Tuesday, February 6.

Employees (or their immediate family members) of the Garrett County Development Corporation or the Garrett County Commissioners are exempt from participation in the program.

Expansion of existing manufacturing or point-of-destination tourist attraction businesses are an exempt eligible target business. The Window

There is a store that is displaying this scene of Christ's birth in all its beautiful simplicity.

People walk by the window and stop and look—and when they go on again, the tired lines seem to be erased from their faces. For the moment, they have forgotten the "hustle and bustle" of holiday preparation. Instead, the peace of Christmas drifts over them like the softly falling snow.

Look at those beautifully carved figures and at that tiny babe. Makes you realize, doesn't it, that Christmas, after all, is the birthday of our Lord, and should be celebrated—at home. In this case, that means the Church.

WHEN THE FLESH BECOMES WORD

December 24, 1989

Background Scripture: Luke 2:8-12

John 1:1-5, 9-18

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 8:22-31

Some years ago, when scientist Robert Jastrow was in Dallas, he said that although he is an admitted "agnostic in religious matters," he nevertheless is fascinated by the questions raised by the "Big Bang" theory. We have discovered that the universe is an expanding one. Galaxies are rushing away from us, "as if we are witnessing the aftermath of a gigantic explosion." By tracing that process backwards 15 or 20 billion years ago, we can arrive back to the moment when a dense mass of matter exploded and set the universe into motion.

But what puzzles him and others is the question of what preceded

the "Big Bang?"

Virtually all astronomers today concede that we will never be able to answer that question scientifically. And that is where faith provides an answer. "In the beginning, God..." Or as the writer of John puts it: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God" (1:1-4). If the "Big Bang" does pretty well account for the beginning of the universe, then Christians are convinced that, before the "Big Bang," there was God the Creator.

FEBILE MINDS

When we try to conceive of the ways in which the universe was formed, God the Creator seems too vast for us to grasp. And although we may be fascinated with origins of the universe, that is not where we personally live.

At this moment in time, we live,

not in the heavens, but right here

on earth, where the problems are not in the heavens, but right here

on earth, where the problems are

Networks sprinkle week with specials

ALF's yule spirit not to be outdone

By Justin Marshall

ALF, that obnoxious alien life form that crash landed from the planet Melmac 4 years ago, has been with his Earth family, the Tanners, long enough to know that television does the holidays up right.

This season is no different, as the three networks and PBS have scheduled yuletide programming for Christmas week.

CBS starts out the week Sunday, Christmas Eve, with a rebroadcast of A Christmas Carol, starring George C. Scott as Ebenezer Scrooge. In the Charles Dickens classic, a miserly old man learns the true meaning of Christmas from some ghostly midnight visitors.

NBC features classics perfect for family viewing with Sunday's showing of Muppet Family Christmas, and with The Sound of Music on Monday. In the classic The Sound of Music, Julie Andrews stars as a nun who becomes the governess to the seven Von Trapp children in Austria prior to World War II. Later on Christmas Eve, NBC has slated Noel: Best Wishes for a Merry Christmas and Christmas Eve on Tuesday.

Of course, not to be outdone on Sunday night, ALF learns the true meaning of Christmas when he leaves the Tanner's vacation cabin and ends up at a hospital.

As the new year approaches, ABC brings the glitter and excitement of the Ice Capades to viewers when The Ice Capades with Jason Bateman and Alyssa Milano is featured Thursday night. Special guests Leslie Uggams, Christopher Hewitt and Doc Severinsen perform entertaining numbers, while Olympic medal-winning skaters Robin Cousins, Jill Watson, Peter Oppegard and Natalie and Wayne Seybold show their talent in the rink.

PBS is offering traditional readings and music of Christmas in a special on ALF's adventures in a hospital teach him the true meaning of the holiday in a special one-hour episode of ALF, Sunday on NBC. He also wants to remind you there are all sorts of specials this week on television and wishes you a Merry Christmas!

Sunday Christmas at King's is filmed at the 15th century Gothic chapel at Kings College in Cambridge. Then on Friday, comedian Mark Russell caps the year with a review of the most unforgettable political, social and cultural events of the passing year.

While Russell is looking at the past year, the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. will be taking note of performers "who throughout their lifetimes have contributed significantly to American culture through the performing arts." The Kennedy Center Honors: A Celebration of the Performing Arts, airing Friday on CBS, will salute singer, dancer, producer, composer Harry Belafonte, Oscar-winning actress Claudette Colbert (It Happened One Night), Russian ballerina and dance instructor Alexandra Danilova, Tony and Emmy-winning actress Mary Martin (Annie Get Your Gun, Peter Pan and The Sound of Music), and Pulitzer Prize-winning American composer William Schuman (A Free Song).

Danson, Lancaster lived vastly different lifestyles

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Are Ted Danson and Burt Lancaster father and son, or at all related in real life? They certainly look alike. Thanks. —Ben Price, Anchorage, Alaska

A: There is no relationship between Burt Lancaster and Ted Danson. Danson was born Dec. 29, 1947 in San Diego, Calif. As the son of an archaeologist, he spent much of his youth in the wide-open country of Arizona. Lancaster was born in New York City Nov. 2, 1913. At 21 he was married to June Ernst. The marriage lasted three years and there were no children. In 1946 he married Norma Anderson in New York, raised five children and divorced in 1969.

Q: What cartoon character has Jackie Mason portrayed? Also whatever happened to Susan Ball who was an actress in the '50s? —Patricia Searle, Montrose, Colo.

A: Sorry, but there is nothing in any of the material I have on Jackie Mason that suggests he did the voice for a cartoon character. Susan Ball had married actor Richard Long after leg amputation to halt cancer. She died in 1955 at age 22.

Q: Will you please answer a question that has me and several of my friends baffled? Who played the part of the sheriff and who played the newspaper editor on the TV series Tombstone Territory? —G.W. Harris, Waskom, Texas

A: Sheriff Clay Hollister was played by Pat Conway. Richard Eastham starred as Harris Claiborne, editor of The Epitaph. Eastham also served as host/narrator of the series.

Q: I'm trying to locate someone who's willing to help a newcomer break into the recording industry. I hear Willie Nelson often did this. Do you have an address to which I could send him a tape? —Lynda Downs, Elk River, Minn.

A: You are right, Willie has helped many newcomers. Send your tape to him at: Rt. 1 Briarcliff 2, Spicewood, Texas 78669. Good luck!

Q: What role did Robert Blake play in the series Our Gang? I remember seeing him in one movie, don't remember the name. Is he still in acting or has he retired? —M.M. Anchorage, Alaska

A: Robert Blake joined Our Gang as Mickey Gubitosi and soon changed his name to Bobby Blake. At that time his character's name was Mickey Blake. In a five-year span, Blake appeared in 40 episodes of the show. His last movie was the two-hour pilot of his series, Hell Town. If the right script were offered him, I am sure you would see him on the screen again.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered. Personal replies cannot be granted.

Jason Bateman, Alyssa Milano host 'Ice Capades'

By Anne Wheeler

Two of television's hottest young performers lace up their skates and take to the ice to host their first prime-time network special, The Ice Capades with Jason Bateman and Alyssa Milano, Thursday, Dec. 28, on ABC.

Bateman (The Hogan Family) and Milano (Who's the Boss?) will be joined by Leslie Uggams, Christopher Hewitt and Doc Severinsen for the extravaganza on ice.

Highlights include Hewitt leading a swashbuckling adventure on ice joined by a unique parrot that struts its stuff sporting a most unusual wardrobe, the Super Mario Bros. bringing the enchanted world of Nintendo to the ice, Leslie Uggams giving a vocal interpretation of the city of Paris in 1905 as it is recreated for the show, and Severinsen and Uggams teaming up for a medley of Big Band tunes.

In addition to the lavish production numbers, Ice Capades skating champions will be showcased. Among the champions will be Natalie and Wayne Seybold, two-time U.S. National Pairs silver medalists and Olympians; Jill Watson and Peter Oppegard, three-time U.S. Pairs Champions and Olympic medalists; and Olympic gold medalist Robin Cousins.

With all of the action planned, the two-hour special promises to be a treat for the entire family.

RAIN MAN

Dustin Hoffman received the Oscar for Best Actor for his portrayal of an autistic savant who inherits his family fortune. His greedy car salesman brother (Tom Cruise) finds out and tries to lay claim to the money. Ultimately the two very different brothers learn to care for each other after many years of separation.

HER ALIBI

Tom Selleck plays a shy, mild-mannered mystery writer who offers to provide an alibi for a beautiful, mysterious woman indicted for murder. Paulina Porizkova stars as the woman who makes Selleck regret his decision in this suspenseful comedy. William Daniels and James Farentino are also featured.

David Warner stars as Bob Cratchit with Anthony Walters as Tiny Tim in Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol, Sunday on CBS. George C. Scott plays Scrooge.

'A Christmas Carol' a yuletide favorite

George C. Scott plays Scrooge

By Anne Wheeler

George C. Scott stars as Ebenezer Scrooge, when A Christmas Carol is rebroadcast Sunday, Dec. 24, on CBS.

One of the best-loved Christmas stories in the world, the Charles Dickens tale has been translated into more than 20 languages and filmed at least nine times.

"It's a morality play written by a genius," Scott says, describing Charles Dickens' great tale about the miserly old man who learns the true meaning of Christmas when he is visited by ghosts from Christmas past, present and future.

In approaching Scrooge, Scott first read the script, reread the book and then went to work on bringing the character to life through his own method. "I try to get a mental image of the character, one that I can project," the actor says. For Scrooge, that meant letting his own hair grow long and wispy, thinning it, and adopting mannerisms fitting to the character.

"I'm selective about the parts I accept insofar as they must be good, meaty roles. Scrooge is that, a challenging role in a classic story, demanding but rewarding. We've stuck to Dickens' dialogue very closely, and as you probably know, Dickens was a frustrated actor, very knowledgeable about the theater. So Scrooge has a lot of theatricality, and the dialogue is easy to do."

Starring with Scott in A Christmas Carol are Susanah York, David Warner, Lucy Gutteridge and Nigel Davenport.

Revenue Estimates Board Predicts Slower Economic Growth In 1990

The Maryland Board of Revenue Estimates, consisting of State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein (chairman), State Treasurer Lucille Maurer and State Budget Secretary Charles L. Benton, met in Annapolis December 14 and informed Governor William Donald Schaefer that it expects the state's economy to grow slowly over the next 13 months. The board increased its earlier estimates of fiscal year 1990 general fund revenues by $24.8 million.

"That net increase in revenue estimates takes into account a substantial increase in individual income tax revenue as well as smaller increases in revenues from interest on investments, death taxes, business franchise taxes and property transfer taxes, based on the latest personal income data and changes in tax law," Goldstein said. "However, those increases are largely offset by reductions in the board's estimates of sales and use tax, corporation income tax and state lottery revenue."

The $5.7 billion in general fund revenue expected this fiscal year represents a 5.4% increase over actual revenues received last fiscal year. The board informed Governor Schaefer its estimate of general fund revenue for fiscal 1991, which begins July 1, 1990, totals $6,239,816,000. The Board of Revenue Estimates provides its projections as the governor finalizes the fiscal year 1991 budget he will present to the General Assembly in January, 1990.

The board noted that the U.S. economy is expected to grow slowly and unevenly during 1990 and 1991, and will have an impact on Maryland's economy and revenue prospects from income taxes, sales and use taxes and property transfer taxes.

In its analysis, the board provided projections for specific state revenues, based on economic trends and changes in state law.

Income Tax

The board increased its earlier estimate of net individual income tax revenue to the state for fiscal year 1990 by $94.4 million to $2,871,691,000. The increases in personal income responsible for the increased projection are balanced against changes in the state's minimum standard deduction, personal exemption and a new poverty level tax break. "These and other technical changes in the law made by the 1989 session of the General Assembly prevented the board from increasing its estimate of individual income tax any higher," Goldstein said. "Another major factor was the refusal of the United States Congress to enact a federal capital gains tax break. Because there is no federal tax break for capital gains income for tax year 1989, we believe taxpayers will not sell stocks, bonds and real estate as readily and the state will lose approximately $25 million in income tax it might otherwise collect," Goldstein said. The report projects fiscal year 1991 net individual income tax revenue to the state of $3,135,882,000. These estimates are for the state income tax, exclusive of the local "piggyback" income tax revenue.

Corporation income taxes are expected to produce $140,793,000 in net revenue for the general fund in fiscal year 1990, about $3.1 million less than earlier projected. Corporation income taxes are expected to produce $178,109,000 in net revenue for the general fund in fiscal year 1991.

Sales Tax

The board stated that Maryland sales and use revenue has grown slowly since March, 1989. Mild weather, which has affected utility receipts; higher interest rates, which have retarded construction activity; and the general slowdown in consumer spending are all reasons given for cutting the fiscal year 1990 estimate of sales and use tax revenue by $39.7 million to $1,593,679,000. During fiscal year 1991, the board predicts the growth in sales and use tax revenue is expected to produce $1,700,797,000.

State Lottery

The Board of Revenue Estimates lowered its earlier projection of state lottery revenue for fiscal year 1990 by $38.5 million, to $299,900,000, reflecting reduced daily "Numbers Game" revenue, competition from other lotteries and failure of the new lotto game to meet sales expectations. Maryland lottery revenues are expected to generate $323,100,000 for fiscal year 1991.

Franchises, Excises and Fees

The other major category of revenue estimates revised by the board included franchises, excises and fees. The Board of Revenue Estimates increased its earlier projections for these revenues by $11.7 million for fiscal year 1990 to $831,984,000. Revenue estimates for Interest on Investments, Business Franchise Taxes, Death Taxes, and Property Transfer Taxes were increased while Alcohol and Tobacco Tax revenue projections were decreased. For fiscal year 1991, franchises, excises and fees are expected to produce $901,928,000.

Transportation

Aside from general fund revenues, the Board of Revenue Estimates also projects transportation revenues each year. Adequate motor fuel supplies and modest dollar growth in motor vehicles sales should help to produce $1,001,500,000 in transportation revenue for fiscal year 1990 — the first year those revenues have exceeded $1 billion. Transportation revenues are projected to total $1,025,200,000 for fiscal year 1991.

"We will continue to monitor these revenues and will have ample time to give the governor any changes that may occur from now until the middle of March, when the legislature will be in session and will be considering the governor's budget," Goldstein said.

Garrett Veal Producers Host Public Relations/Educational Tour

by Bernice Kepple

Veal calf growers Delmar and Eva Yoder, Byard and Katie Beitzel, and dairy farmers Carl and Martha Bender, all of the Bittinger-Accident area of Garrett County, were hosts of an American Veal Association (AVA) field trip and tour on Thursday, December 14. Traveling by bus to Garrett County from Washington, D.C., to take part in the tour was a delegation of representatives from the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the offices of Congressmen James Bennett and Jim Jontz, and a number of food industry organizations.

According to Lowell Bender, Maryland Veal Association president, the purpose of the tour was to use the U.S. Congressional recess to continue an educational effort begun last spring when the Maryland Senate Environmental Matters Committee toured veal operations in Garrett County. The Senate committee was invited to the area after a large group of veal growers from Western Maryland traveled to Annapolis to testify against a bill introduced which would restrict methods of veal production. (As a result of that testimony, the veal bill was killed.)

An invitation for the recent tour was presented to national leaders and food industry people after a similar bill was introduced last session by Congressman Bennett. The Livestock Subcommittee held hearings on the bill last June and felt that all sides had sufficiently reported. However, no action was taken before Congress adjourned, and the bill will most likely be introduced again in 1990.

"Our willingness to open our doors is evidence of our belief that we're doing the best possible job with our calves," Bender said. "We find that a lot of people have very little farm orientation, and are far removed from the realities of farm life. There is just no substitute for people seeing it (a veal operation) in person," Bender added.

The 23-member group arrived at the Delmar Yoder facility and was introduced to the local persons attending, including MVA President Bender, MVA Vice President Byard Beitzel and local veterinarian Dr. David Rawe. The Yoders HOSTS VEAL TOUR — Delmar and Eva Yoder, above, were one of the Garrett County farm couples who hosted a delegation of representatives from various governmental agencies, congressmen, and food industry organizations December 14. The group also visited the veal farm of Byard and Katie Beitzel and the dairy farm of Carl and Martha Bender. Above, Yoder (president-elect of the American Veal Association) greets tour members and describes his veal operation to them. Below, Eva Yoder is pictured preparing a powdered milk-replacer mixture for the calves. The mixture contains iron plus 40 nutrients needed by the calves, and is temperature controlled.

used by the veal industry contain carefully controlled amounts of iron to prevent the calf from suffering symptoms of iron-deficiency anemia, such as loss of appetite, pale mucus membranes, and poor feed conversion.

According to the American Veterinary Medical Association, the feeds are prepared with sufficient iron to meet the calf's normal requirement. In addition to iron, modern milk replacers provide calves with all of the 40 nutrients they need, including amino acids, carbohydrates, fats, minerals, and vitamins.

Veal producers house their calves in properly lit barns. Today's veal barns employ artificial lighting or receive natural light through skylights and windows. One obvious reason for adequate lighting is to facilitate feeding of the animals, but producers need adequate lighting to observe the condition and behavior of the calves on a regular basis throughout the day.

Veal barns are heated in the winter months, and adequate ventilation is provided at all times. The animal waste is washed down into a holding pit each day. However, even calves raised in the most sanitary conditions are susceptible to the threat of disease. The tour members were assured, how-greeted the group and gave an orientation on veal calf raising, followed by a tour of their facility which included feeding some of the calves.

The group was encouraged to question any phase of the calves' care and development, and many one-on-one conversations took place between the tour members and the local growers, veterinarian and AVA representatives.

Following the tour of the Yoder facility, the group was bussed to the Beitzel facility where a similar tour was presented, with opportunity for more questions and answers. The group then traveled to the Carl Bender dairy farm for an explanation of the origin of veal calves.

The following is a summary of much of the information presented to tour members, the questions asked by them, and the answers they received. A dairy cow must have a calf before she produces milk, and a new calf is born to that cow each year. Without the veal industry, approximately one million male calves produced by the United States dairy industry each year would be of little or no value. In modern dairy production, the calf is separated from its mother one to three days following birth. This early weaning is not detrimental to the health and well-being of the veal calf. In fact, early separation provides health benefits to both the cow and the calf, and allows dairy farmers to sell all marketable milk.

The common method of raising veal calves is individual stall housing, with wood slats making up two sides and the front of the stall, and raised, slatted wood flooring below. The stall's slatted flooring provides a safe surface for the calf to stand and lie on, with an area below the slats to allow efficient removal of waste. The individual stalls are of adequate size to allow the animals to stand, stretch and lie in a natural position.

By minimizing calf-to-calf contact cross contamination is limited. When the calves are brought together from various dairy farms into the veal barn, it is inevitable that some will carry disease-causing viruses or bacteria. This semi-isolation restricts the spread of infectious diseases.

Veal calves kept in stalls are fed individually, which allows each calf to receive proper food rations, and allows for daily observation of each individual animal by the veal farmer. This also permits early detection of sick calves and allows for individual care by veterinarians.

The calves are bucket fed a warmed powdered-milk replacer mixture, and tour members were invited to remove a label from one of the feed sacks if they wanted a complete list of ingredients. It was asked if the calves are anemic. The answer was that the milk replacer feed mixtures ever, that the calves were not routinely given animal health products, but were treated individually, as determined by the veterinarian.

The veal producers stressed that their calves are well cared for. In fact, it is the well-being of the calf that produces a quality veal product, and a quality veal product is essential for economic return to the producer.

The tour was concluded by a dinner at the Silver Tree Inn sponsored by the Veal Committee, Beef Industry Council of the National Livestock and Meat Board. Speaking at the dinner was Dr. Clyde Smith, project leader of the Veal Quality Assurance Program.

Dr. Smith told the group that the Quality Assurance Program grew from the need to ensure that all calves shipped from veal farms are healthy, wholesome and meet FDA, USDA, and EPA specifications. The program is a cooperative effort between farmers and govern-

Maryland Picks Up Share Of 1990 Federal Ag Funds

A total of $190-million in funding for Maryland agricultural research and conservation projects has been designated for Fiscal Year 1990. The funding has been signed into law by President George Bush and announced by Maryland Senators Barbara A. Mikulski and Paul Sarbanes.

"Maryland's farmers are a key part of our state's economy. This funding will provide for vital research and conservation projects to keep our agricultural economy strong for years to come. It will also give our farmers access to Farmers Home loan credit at reasonable rates," said Sen. Mikulski, who as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee worked with Sen. Sarbanes to ensure the funding was included in the FY 1990 Agriculture Appropriations bill.

Maryland agricultural projects and funding included in the bill are:

- $4.4-million for the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) which carries out a continuing program of soil and water conservation on private lands. Included in the funds are $2.2-million to support 47 additional positions working on the Chesapeake Bay program, as well as funding for SCS operation, river basin surveys, flood prevention in the Bay area, water resources management and protection, resource conservation and development.
- $34-million for the Farmer's Home Administration to provide credit for rural Marylanders who are unable to get credit from other sources at reasonable rates and terms. Loan programs include those for housing, farm ownership, farm operations, water and waste disposal, and rural rental assistance.
- $302,000 to administer Maryland's share of the Federal Crop Insurance program.
- $2.4-million for the Agriculture Extension Service, including funding for operating expenses at Maryland Extension Service offices, pesticide impact assessment, food and human nutrition education, and UMES.

- $77.7-million for the operation of the Agricultural Research Service which is responsible for conducting research on soil and water conservation, plant and animal productivity, commodity conversion and delivery, human nutrition, and integration of agricultural systems. Included are funds for the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC), the Frederick Agricultural Research Center and the Hyattsville Agricultural Research Center.

- $7.25-million to continue the "Renaissance 93" project, a comprehensive plan to upgrade BARC. Most of BARC's facilities were built prior to World War II and have not been renovated since their initial construction.

- $300,000 to upgrade Powder Mill Road, which provides access to BARC.

- $2.5-million for the Cooperative State Research Service (CSRS) which conducts extensive agricultural research throughout the state. Included in this are funds for agriculture education programs at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore's School of Agricultural Sciences, State Agriculture Experiment Stations, forestry research at the University of Maryland and animal health and diseases research.

- $14.8-million for the National Agriculture Library in Beltsville.

- $4.45-million in national funding for the Agricultural Productivity Act, administered through the CSRS, to do research on low input agriculture which helps farmers farm organically, using crop rotation and soil conservation and without heavy reliance on pesticides and chemical fertilizer.

- $34-million for the Animal Plant Health and Inspection Service which conducts programs to protect animal and

U.S. Farm Exports Reach $40 Billion

The nation's exports of farm products in the fiscal year that ended on September 30 came close to the $40 billion forecast by Agriculture Department experts three months ago, according to an Associated Press report.

According to a detailed report by the department's Economic Research Service, the value of shipments in the 1989 fiscal year was almost $39.7 billion, up 12 percent from $35.3 billion in 1988.

That was the biggest export value since the record $43.8 billion in 1981. It also marked the third consecutive year-to-year increase since exports plunged to $26.3 billion in 1986.

Officials said the 1989 export surge came despite a sharp cut-back in the department's Export Enhancement Program, or EEP, which subsidizes selected exports to designated overseas markets.

Agricultural imports meanwhile, were valued at a record $21.5 billion, up from about $21 billion in 1988, the previous high. Vegetables, grain and grain products, sugar and rubber showed the largest increases, the report said.

As expected, the actual volume of 1989 exports of key commodities was down from the previous year. But higher "unit" prices for many items offset the decline in shipment tonnages.

For example, total U.S. wheat exports dropped to 37.7 million metric tons from 40.5 million tons in 1988, despite huge shipments to the Soviet Union and China. The value, boosted by higher market prices, rose to more than $6 billion from $4.5 billion in 1988.

Corn exports in 1989 jumped 15 percent from 1988 to 50.7 million tons, the most in a year ment agencies and is monitored by periodic sampling of carcasses at packing plants by the Food Safety Inspection Service (FSIS).

The program sets standards for veal calf husbandry, feed sources, medications, individual treatments, pesticides, maintenance of records, and action to be taken in case of potential or actual violation. This, he said, is an education and awareness program for producers to improve the industry.

Good results have been reported so far, Smith said, and noted that a year ago (1988), 3.2 percent antibiotic residues were reported in the veal calves tested. "That was not beyond being safe," he said, "but was enough to be concerned about, and promoted the development and implementation of the AVA Quality Assurance Program."

In one year's time, the Quality Assurance Program has produced an unconfirmed drop to 0.967 percent antibiotic residues in the calves tested, with three major midwest packers reporting no incidents of residue at all in 1989.

Of the group touring the Garrett County veal facilities, only one person had been in a veal barn before. All those involved in the planning and implementation of the day's events felt "generally very positive" about the group's response. The veal growers, themselves, said they received some very positive statements from members of the group.

All said they were glad they could come. One member of the group said she was surprised. She thought she would be horrified, instead, she was pleasantly surprised. "The calves looked very healthy and OK to me," she said, "and I enjoyed meeting the farmers."

AVA representatives attending, President Barb Huffman and Executive Director Ken Cheatham, expressed their positive feelings about the day's tour, also, and added that the Maryland Veal Association and, especially, Delmar Yoder (president-elect of the AVA) have been a real strength in the veal industry.

"The hosts were fantastic," Cheatham said. "I feel very good about the tour and the response of the people, and I'm going to encourage much more of this in the future."

In addition to Huffman, Cheatham and Dr. Smith, those attending were: Legislative Director James Pearthree, Marc Wilson, Lorraine Tappen and Barbara Fetherolf, all from the office of Congressman James Bennett; Vanessa Campbell, legislative assistant to Congressman Jim Jontz; Gary E. Stefan, chief, FDA Industry Programs, Center for Veterinary Medicine; David Waggoner, confidential assistant to Hon. Jo Ann Smith, assistant secretary for Marketing & Inspection Services, USDA; Dr. Joan Arnoldi,

Graduating Senior Helps Create Western Maryland Farmer's Market

University of Maryland

When Criss Kepple finishes her exams this semester and receives her degree in agriculture and resource economics from the University of Maryland at College Park, she still will have one paper left to write. But this one, an economic impact report and proposal on the farmers' market in Oakland, will go to the Maryland Department of Agriculture, not a professor, and she'll be looking for more than just a good grade. Kepple wants money for the farmers' market.

But then, she's gotten it before. During the winter break of her junior year in 1987, Kepple worked for the Economic Development Department of Garrett County to determine if a demand existed for a fresh fruit and vegetable market in Garrett County.

Kepple, who was raised on a dairy and horse farm in Garrett County, was not surprised to see that a demand for the market existed. But a person to organize it did not exist.

The following summer, she worked with Jim Simms, UMCP's Cooperative Extension Service agent in Garrett

County, to organize the market. While most farmer's markets are privately owned or run by the state, Kepple and Simms encouraged local producers from Garrett County and Preston and Tucker counties in West Virginia to develop by-laws and a constitution for an association. Kepple even wrote a successful proposal to the Maryland Department of Agriculture for $5,000 to start the project, and soon the Mountain Fresh Producers Association was formed.

In addition to a traditional tailgate market, the Mountain Fresh Producers Association also developed a large retail and wholesale market for restaurants and supermarkets in western Maryland.

Due to drought and a killing frost, the 1988 season didn't go very well. But during the last season, for which Kepple is still compiling information, the association attracted 24 members and grew dramatically. Kepple's report, due by the end of January, will be part of a proposal for an enclosed structure for the farmer's market.

In addition to working with the association during summer and winter breaks, Kepple encouraged the association to participate in the Women's, Infants' and Children's Supplemental Food Program (WIC). As part of her work on the three-year federal pilot program, Kepple went to members of the association asking them to accept WIC coupons at the Oakland Tailgate Market from Maryland residents for fresh fruit and vegetables.

"There is a significant population in western Maryland that qualifies for the WIC program," says Kepple. "The Mountain Fresh Producers Association was happy to accept the coupons at their Oakland Tailgate location."

Kepple, who worked for two semesters as a legislative intern to State Senator John N. Bambacus, would love to continue working with the farmer's market and pursue her growing interests in state and local politics. But none of the principal participants in the association can afford to hire someone full-time. "I enjoyed working for the association, but like a lot of graduates I'm looking for full-time work now."

Miss Kepple is the daughter of Howard and Bernice Kepple, Spring Glade Road.

Farm Exports

since 1981. That included a record 15.6 million tons shipped to the Soviets. Total shipments were worth $6.1 billion, up from $4.32 billion in 1988.

Soybean exports in 1989 were reported at 14.1 million tons, down from 21.1 million tons in 1988, the lowest since 1975. The export value, at $4.08 billion, was down from $5.07 billion.

Exports of cotton totaled 1.4 million tons, or 6.6 million bales, the highest level in five years, the report said. Value, reflecting lower prices, dropped to $2.04 billion from $2.14 billion in 1988.

The analysis also showed that spending for export subsidies under EEP dropped 15 percent in 1989 to less than $2.8 billion from nearly $3.3 billion in 1988.

In terms of commodities, the EEP subsidies covered less than 15.9 million tons of wheat, down almost 40 percent from 26.3 million tons.

MILK COW BUYOUT REMAINS CONTROVERSIAL

If a dairy herd buyout of any proportion takes place again, the nation's cattlemen are going to war. "Cattlemen can't listen to any talk of another buyout — no way, no kind," says Burton Eller, a National Cattlemen's Association official. The last time Congress approved a buyout was a whole-hearted deal in which dairymen agreed to stay out of business for at least five years. That says NCA, sparked a sharp decline in beef prices.

NCA and National Milk Producers Federation officials met in Washington this week to talk. Eller and NMPP CEO James Barr say they agreed on everything but another buyout. NMPP says dairy policy should include a buyout as a standby method of decrease milk production, if necessary. Eller claims surpluses don't develop overnight and if the signs are there, other steps can be taken. Currently, only Northeastern Dairymen want a buyout, although NMPP members would like the standby authority.

THE FARM ECONOMY — VIEW OF THE AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK CONFERENCE

Farmers are entering a new decade in the strongest financial position they have enjoyed since the early '80s. Supported by a favorable income, the farm economy is expected to remain stable through the early '90s. The currently improved financial situation is due in large measure to cautious investment behavior, effective control, increased cash financing and the write-off of outstanding debts during the last several years.

Through reduced debt and increased asset values (due largely to improved land values), farmers will by the end of 1990 have recovered two-thirds of the equity lost in the mid-80s. Since 1982, adjusting for inflation, total outstanding debt has declined 42%; capital purchases 33%; and expenses 20%. In contrast, net farm income is about 50% higher than in 1982.

Net cash farm income in 1990 will exceed $50 billion dollars.

Christmas

Let's begin this year to really celebrate Christmas as it should be and as we should want to celebrate it. The realization that a Savior was born 2000 years ago to enable you and me to go to heaven is almost beyond comprehension. I.e. why should He care so much for us? Because He loves us as we are, in spite of our sins! The most important feat in history is a reason to get excited and we should be anxious to praise Him, to thank Him daily, and if we consider just a bit more, shouldn't we spend more time during the season directing our thoughts toward Him, thanking Him, and less time on what we are buying as a gift for some person. Maybe we should reconsider the whole idea of buying presents at this time of the year and concentrate on spending more time thanking Him for a chance to spend eternity with Him. Thanking Him for salvation.

Do you really believe in Christmas? If so, show it to Him, convince Him you do and really get into the CHRISTMAS SPIRIT by living for Him. The greatest gift in the world was His gift of salvation to us and that is why we are so richly blessed and have so much to thank Him for, not only this year, but each year.

Have a REAL CHRISTMAS this year. Thank God for His Son!

Season's Greetings!

The employees and mayor and town council of Oakland would like to wish everyone a happy holiday season.

Cases Of Arson Through September Show 14% Drop

Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele has announced the arson statistics for the State of Maryland for the first nine months of 1989. The statistics were compiled by the Maryland Uniform Crime Reporting Program and are based on information from law enforcement agencies throughout Maryland.

Arson offenses decreased by approximately 14 percent statewide for the first nine months of 1989 as compared with the same period in 1988. During the first nine months of 1989, there were 1,901 arsons reported, compared to 2,214 during the first nine months of 1988.

According to Gabriele, the Western Maryland region, which includes the counties of Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, Garrett and Washington, had the greatest decrease in arson during the first nine months of 1989. Arson decreased by 19 percent in this area during the first nine months of 1989. There were 125 arsons reported from January through September 1989 in Western Maryland, compared with 155 such cases during the same period in 1988.

MOOSE LODGE AIDS FAMILY — Oakland Moose Lodge 292 recently held a drive for the Steve Snyder family, who lost their home and all of their possessions to a fire on November 21. Numerous articles of furniture, clothing, and food, as well as cash, were collected for the family. Above left, Jim McCartney, governor of Lodge 292, presents a $200 check to Brenda and Steve Snyder. On behalf of the lodge, McCartney noted appreciation to WXIE Radio, Oakland, for broadcasting the drive, to the Mountaintop Pregnancy Crisis Center for assistance in collecting baby needs, and to all of the individuals who made donations. He added that food and cash donations are still being collected and interested persons may contact McCartney at 334-4445 or the Moose Lodge at 334-9003.

The Washington-Metropolitan region, which includes the counties of Montgomery and Prince George's, had the

percent in this region during the first nine months of 1989 as compared with 1988 figures. Montgomery County recorded 275 arson offenses for the first nine months of 1989, down from 369 reported arsons during the same period in 1988. Prince George's County showed a reduction in arson from 213 in 1988 to 203 for the first nine months of 1989.

The Southern Maryland region, consisting of Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's counties, showed a 15 percent reduction in the arson rate for the first nine months of 1989 as compared with 1988. There were 64 arson related offenses in this region during the first nine months of 1989 as compared to 75 in 1988.

The Baltimore-Metropolitan region, consisting of Baltimore City, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Harford and Howard counties, recorded a three percent reduction in arson offenses during the first nine months of 1989. There were 1,039 reported arsons from January through September 1989 as compared with 1,075 arson related incidents reporting during the first nine months of 1988.

The Eastern Shore region, which includes Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's, Talbot, Dorchester, Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester counties, had an increase of four percent in arson offenses during the first nine months of 1989 as compared to 1988. There were 121 reported arson incidents during the first nine months of 1989 in the region as compared with 116 such incidents for the same period in 1988.

Commenting on the reduction of arson offenses, Gabriele stated, "We are extremely pleased with the reduction in arson throughout the State of Maryland. Many factors have contributed to this, including a significant impact on arson by law enforcement through the arrest of persons committing arson. I am hopeful that this trend will continue and further reductions in the arson rate in our state will occur." Each year arsonists destroy nearly $40 million in property throughout Maryland.

Parents Discuss Concerns With Board Of Education Thursday

Several area parents attended the regular monthly meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education last Thursday for the annual parent participation session. Board members met with parents for a luncheon at Southern High School, and parents were encouraged to attend the meeting to express and discuss concerns with board members.

Cindy Kolbe, president of the County Council of PTA's, noted that membership has increased 17 percent over the previous year, and a total of 12 schools in the county have an active Parent Teacher Association. The group is working to get more parents involved in the schools.

One parent with children who transferred to Garrett County schools from southern Maryland expressed her appreciation for the school system in Garrett County, noting that she is "very pleased" with the education her children are getting.

Another parent mentioned the drug abuse programs which are underway in many Garrett County Schools. He said, "All drugs are being addressed except the drug of choice in Garrett County — alcohol." He expressed concern that alcohol abuse should also be addressed because problems with this drug are much more evident in Garrett County than with any other drug.

A parent with three children in the Gifted and Talented Program at Swan Meadow expressed his appreciation for the work being done in this area. He also noted that he has a child with Down's Syndrome in the special education class at Dennett Road Elementary School, and that this class has been very helpful.

Deep Creek VFD Elects Officers

The Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department elected its officers Monday evening to serve during 1990.

Members re-elected to their positions included: Larry Schlossnagle, president; Gene Smith, secretary; Larry Lewis, treasurer; Bill Sines, chaplain; and Dave Glass, first assistant chief.

New officers include: Tim Friend, vice president; Ed Wilburn, chief; Danny Friend, second assistant chief; Mike Kahl, captain; Jim Giotfelty and Phil Workman, board of directors; and Dave Higdon, in charge of fire reports.

Another parent from Crellin Elementary School noted that the school has an active PTA for the first time in ten years, stating that it is a "school on the move." She noted that the school is running out of room, but is physically in good shape.

School Activities Review Luther Parrack, director of middle and secondary education, reported on the recommendations of the school activities review/evaluation committee.

One recommendation was for three cheerleading squads at the high schools with different advisors because of an increase in activities which require cheerleaders. This would prevent the same students from missing classes for each different event. Two squads would be used during the winter sports and one squad in the fall.

Other recommendations were for an assistant band director and a different system for assigning assistant coaches for various sports.

Needs Assessment Report Superintendent of Garrett County Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage discussed the recommendations in the recent Needs Assessment report, noting which needs have already been met and those which still need to be dealt with. Many of the recommendations have been completed or are in the process of being completed.

Bus Route Revision Board members also discussed a bus route revision in the Accident and Grantsville Elementary school district. The revision is in follow-up to a redistricting study which was completed approximately five years ago, and affects only those students in the Bittling area.

The routes were changed so that some children who attend Accident Elementary would go to Grantsville Elementary instead. Students who were already attending Accident were grandfathered until they left the school.

Bus routes which are affected include 1, 6, 17, 18, 37, 57, and 64. Further information will be published by the Board of Education at a later date.

Calendar Revision Board members revised the current school calendar because a primary election day which had been set for March 13 will not be held in Maryland. Students will attend school on that day, and one day was deleted from the end of the school year. In the event of a snow day, the election day will be used as a make up day.

Auxiliary Gymnasium Dr. Ryscavage noted that the Garrett County Commissioners have agreed to fund the architectural design work for the auxiliary gymnasium at Northern High School. The design

Adopt-A-Stream
Program Started
By DNR, SOS

Adopt-A-Stream is a joint program of DNR's Tidewater Administration and SOS (a non-profit citizens' group) in conjunction with One Million Marylanders for the Bay. The goal is to encourage local organizations to adopt 5,000 miles of stream for "Earth Day." April

I Asked God

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve,
I was made weak to humbly obey.

I asked for health,
that I might do greater things,
I was given infirmity that I might do better things.

I asked for riches,
that I might be happy,
I was given poverty,
that I might be wise.

I asked for power, that I might have the praise of men,
I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God.

I asked for all things,
that I might enjoy life,
I was given life,
that I might enjoy all things.

I got nothing that I asked for -- but everything
I had hoped for.

Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers
were answered.

I am among all men most richly blessed.

Cheryl Bittinger
CAC Employee Of The Week

The Garrett Transportation Program of Community Action has named Cheryl Bittinger as Employee of the Week.

Mrs. Bittinger is employed as a full-time transportation driver. She holds certification in Passenger Assistance and in CPR, and is also trained in basic first aid. She operates one of the program's two specially equipped wheelchair vans on a daily basis.

Linda Green, program director, offered the following remarks regarding Mrs. Bittinger's performance and the operation of the specially featured vehicles: "Our drivers are obligated to provide safe and efficient transportation service to the handicapped. Towards that mark, we implement extensive training in the functional mechanics of the handicapped equipped vans. Our drivers are instructed and subsequently tested on the proper methods of securing the wheelchairs, and they undergo a series of practical applications that will ensure the proper skills required to safely load and unload those that are restricted either by mental or physical impairment. Before the driver is assigned to the wheelchair van, he or she will have a comprehensive knowledge of the mechanics required, including what to do in the event of an emergency. Cheryl realizes the magnitude of the responsibility and she strives to provide the high caliber service our clients rightly deserve. In addition, she possesses the sensitivity needed to work with the handicapped. She is proficient and conscientious."

One of Ms. Bittinger's co-workers added, "I have noticed that Cheryl often makes an extra effort for the handicapped clients. She remembers birthdays and she acknowledges accomplishments. It's nice to know that someone cares."

Mrs. Bittinger stated, "I gain personal satisfaction from my work, and I have been privileged to make some fine new friends." her husband and her two children.

Registration No. Required On Ads For Day Care

All persons who advertise a family day care home or service are required by law to indicate the home is registered with the Maryland Department of Human Resources (DHR), and display the DHR registration number in the advertisement.

The law is intended to encourage all family day care providers to become registered, and to prohibit those not registered from advertising their services. The registration process helps ensure certain standards of care to safeguard the health and safety of the children.

"I think the law is greatly needed," said DHR Secretary Carolyn W. Colvin. "The process will help parents make sound decisions regarding the care of their children."

Families seeking child care should inquire if the home and the provider are registered. They should also ask to see the certificate of registration.

Delegates Carol Petzold (D-Montgomery Co.), Leonard Teitelbaum (D-Montgomery Co.), and Virginia Thomas (D-Howard Co.), introduced the legislation mandating the display of the registration number in advertisements. A $500 fine can be imposed on individuals for advertising without a valid Department registration number.

Regional field offices throughout the State are responsible for registering family day care providers. Interested persons can verify the validity of the advertised registration number by calling the local regional office. The Western Maryland office is located at 6 W. Washington Street, Hagerstown, Maryland, 21740; 1-800-468-6771.

A SPECIAL VISIT BY A SPECIAL LADY — Edith Weeks, Mtn. Lake Park, went on a special outing last week to visit her late husband's former place of employment — the Mtn. Lake Park Railroad Station. Mrs. Weeks, who will celebrate her 100th birthday next month, said she was pleasantly surprised when she toured the newly restored station, as the new owners have captured the much of the charm and original features of the structure that had served as a warehouse in recent years. The building, pictured above right when it was a true railroad station and below right as it appears today, houses four new shops that opened this past fall. Mr. Weeks was in charge of the station from 1912 to 1952.

Edith Weeks Kicks Off Her Second Century Of Life With Special Outing

by Mary I. Love

"The Wonderful One-Hoss Shay" was a popular poem written in 1856. It started: "Little of all we value here, Wakes on the morn of its hundredth year. Without both looking and feeling queer."

Oliver Wendell Holmes, the New England poet and physician, clearly did not have in mind anyone like Mrs. H.M. Weeks of Mtn. Lake Park when he wrote those lines.

On January 31, 1990, Mrs. Weeks will start her 100th year, with no signs of marked peculiarity. Would that the rest of us could do as well. She has her own home, but as a sensible woman with sensible neighbors, she has signals to alert someone if she needs assistance. However, she is managing nicely on her own, thank you. She regrets being unable to drive, but she is not about to just sit at home.

When we saw her recently she had just had her hair done and she was anticipating an outing to the Mtn. Lake Park Railroad Station. Her husband had been in charge there from 1912 to 1952. Then it had been a busy place, with many freight trains daily, several passenger trains which stopped regularly, and, not infrequently, additional trains for special events held at the Amphitheatre in the Park.

Now passenger trains are rare, but there are still freight trains, long ones which look curiously incomplete since they do not now have cabooses. Neither do they have the whistle signals in this electronic age, except at crossings.

But the Mtn. Lake Park station itself, like many others designed by Josiah Pennington, is an attractive building, just a bit older than Mrs. Weeks.

The Republican of October 29, 1881, refers to the plan that the station would be built in 1882.

Mrs. Weeks remembers the Mtn. Lake Park station as red, similar to the Oakland station. In contrast, most of the B&O Railroad buildings at Deer Park, including the station, hotel and the cottages, were a characteristic yellow.

Recently the Mtn. Lake Park station lost its German-helmet roof tower, similar to the one in Oakland. The tan paint which once covered all the windows, however, has been removed, and the small panes of stained glass ornamentation replaced. The big brick fireplace is recovering its original detail, along with charming touches in the woodwork, which had been obscured.

Mrs. Weeks had heard that there were changes. She not only approves of them, but she appreciates them. The station, now no longer a station, has four shops, with separate entrances, but adjoining inside.

At the east end is Joanna's Floral Boutique, with plants and floral arrangements, operated by Joanna and Rick Beckman.

Adjoining it are Kathy's Intimate Apparel and The Kid's Closet, both owned by Kathy Wolfe.

Finally, Theresa Arnold, of Oakland, has Fashion Tracks women's clothing.

In short, the Mtn. Lake Park station has begun to combine its 19th century brickwork, paneling, fireplace, and charm with 20th century convenience and a timeless graciousness, as demonstrated when the new owners served punch and cookies and gave Mrs. Weeks a poinsettia on her visit.

Student Literacy Writing Contest To Begin Jan. 8

Governor William Donald Schaefer will announce the Second Annual "Maryland You are Beautiful" Student Literacy Writing Competition on January 8. Open to all public school and participating private school students in Maryland, the dates for entries are February 1 through March 1. Students are asked to write on the theme: "Caring, Community Involvement and Volunteerism in Maryland."

"The purpose of this competition is to promote statewide literacy among Maryland's school age students. Through the theme of caring, our students will gain an awareness of the positive contributions made by volunteering time and talents to help others," said Governor Schaefer.

According to Dr. Joseph Shilling, State Superintendent of Schools, participating students must submit an entry by March 1 that follows the theme of caring predetermined by the Maryland State Department of Education. The contest, open to more than 700,000 students throughout the state, is divided into four age groups: early POSTER ESSAY WINNERS — Winners of the poster contest sponsored by the Student Government Association of Garrett Community College for Drug & Alcohol Awareness Week receive their prizes from Dr. Stephen Herman. Winners were Elizabeth Sweitzer, kindergarten at Broad Ford Elementary School; Franklin Sweitzer, 2nd grade at Broad Ford; Adam Kilts, 3rd grade at Route 40; Angie Otto, 4th grade at Accident School; and Shane Spiker, 5th grade at Route 40 School. Winners of the essay contest sponsored by the Student Government Association of Garrett Community College for Drug & Alcohol Awareness Week were Jennifer Stanton and Elaine McDowell, both from Zion Christian Academy, pictured below, left to right. Jennifer's and Elaine's essays also appear below.

Drugs Don't Affect Me, Alcohol Doesn't Either by Jennifer Stanton
Grade 7

Drugs don't affect me because I don't take them. Drugs are bad and they can kill you if you take them. It is better not to even start. Alcohol can do the same thing to you.

People who take drugs and drink alcohol think that it is impossible to stop, but it isn't. It's hard, but it can be done.

I am a Christian and know that drugs are wrong. They are sinful. I don't take drugs because I know what the outcome will be. I know about the damage they can do.

So please, be smart, and please, don't start.

The Truth
by Elaine McDowell
Grade 8

Try it; you'll like it! This message about drugs and alcohol is broadcast to kids across the country. It promises enjoyment, fun, and pleasure.

Many people take up this idea and accept the offer. Unfortunately, they do not know that this is only half the truth. How much enjoyment is there in constantly looking over your shoulder? How much fun is there in abusing yourself and others with your addiction? How much pleasure can you have when you can't control or remember your actions?

The rest of the truth is that the danger isn't worth the risk.

elementary, late elementary, junior, and senior high school. Professional educators will judge the entries. Four grand prize winners will receive a weekend for four in Historic Annapolis and an overnight stay at Kings Dominion including complimentary passes. The 12 top finalists will attend a luncheon with Governor Schaefer who will present awards. Each local school system winner will receive a custom designed notebook. All entrants will receive discount coupons to Kings Dominion Theme Park.

"I'd like to praise the private sector for coming forward and sponsoring a contest that will give our school children a renewed interest in the welfare of the State of Maryland," the governor said. "A competition like this will instill in all participants a sense of pride in and caring for our state."

The "Maryland You are Beautiful" Student Literacy Writing Competition is sponsored by Carefirst HMO, Kings Dominion Theme Park, the Governor's Office — "Maryland You are Beautiful" Program and the Maryland State Department of Education.

"Maryland You are Beautiful," directed by Floraine Applefeld, is Governor Schaefer's "People-pride" program.

Class Of '53 Balloon Found

Well over a year ago, the 1953 graduating class of Southern High School, at their 35-year class reunion held in August 1988, released a number of balloons with cards attached commemorating the occasion.

Last week the reunion committee received a reply that one of the balloons was discovered November 23, 1989, on Gap Mountain near Dorcas, W.Va., by a deer hunter. He returned the card with a note explaining where and when he found the balloon and noted that he has relatives living in the Oakland area.

Although the card had been exposed to the weather for over a year, it was still legible.

THE ELECTRIC BLANKET EVOLUTION

Some of the very first electric blankets were developed in 1921 for tubercular patients who had to sleep outdoors. Sleeping in the fresh air was considered therapeutic to their condition, and the electrically heated blankets kept the patients warm in cold weather.

An automatic electric blanket was introduced in 1936. A control automatically cycled the blanket on and off in response to changes in room temperature. Safety thermostats were also used to shut off the blanket whenever an area became too hot if tucked in, folded over or bunched up. The blanket would stay off until the heat in the overheated area had dissipated. The blanket wires contained thermostats frequently referred to as "lumps" in the blanket with the number varying by blanket size.

Few changes occurred until about 1984. High technology was introduced to automatic blankets. A unique wire system eliminating the need for thermostats was developed. The system responds to body temperature as well as changes in room and bed temperatures. For example, if your shoulders are cold, the wire senses it and sends more warmth to that area while responding simultaneously with less heat in another part of the blanket, perhaps at the feet. Because the system is so sensitive, the blanket does not turn on and off if it is folded over, bunched up or tucked in. The result is a greater comfort level.

Solid state controls have become another state of the art development. Dual controls that operate independently of each other enable two people sleeping in the same bed to select the level of warmth that each prefers. Queen and king size blankets are available with dual controls that are optional for a full size bed.

The blankets are available in a variety of fibers with the most popular of acrylic or a blend of polyester and acrylic. Sizes range from twin, full, queen to king.

Although the technology for electric blankets has changed over the years, machine washability continues to be an inherent quality. An electric blanket, like others, calls for the easy care of automatic washing. The blankets cannot be drycleaned because the dry cleaning solvents can affect the wiring.

If the manufacturer's instructions are not available, please follow this laundering procedure:

Disconnect the controls from the blanket. Add a sufficient amount of laundry detergent to the washer first. Fill washer with warm water and agitate to dissolve a granular detergent. Stop washer and completely submerge the unfolded blanket in the water. Soak 10 to 15 minutes. Gently agitate for 1 minute. Stop washer and manually advance the timer to drain and spin at normal speed for about 1 minute. Stop washer and advance the timer to the deep rinse cycle. Add fabric softener and allow washer to finish the wash cycle automatically.

To dry the blanket, first place 3 or 4 dry towels in the dryer. Set dryer to medium setting and turn on, letting the towels pre-heat for about 3-5 minutes. This helps to absorb moisture and dry the blanket quickly to avoid pilling. Place the blanket in the dryer with the warm towels. Tumble for about 10 minutes. Remove while still damp. Then smooth the blanket and spread over two lines or place on a flat surface to finish drying.

Fold the blanket to store, but do not use mothballs. They, too, can affect the wires.

Karen Giffin Assumes Post At Heart Office

The Director of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division, H. Frankie Greise, recently announced the appointment of Karen M. Giffin as development specialist.

As development specialist, Giffin will develop all categories of fundraising within the Division; implement Affiliate-wide fund raising programs; assist, recruit and organize volunteers in the Division and assure effective and timely publicity for the Division's programs and volunteers.

"We are very happy to have Karen join our local Division of the American Heart Association," Greise said. "We believe Karen will be a real asset to our organization. She will be working closely with the Association's numerous dedicated and generous volunteer and Board members in Allegany and Garrett counties."

Giffin succeeds Elizabeth J. Hudson who resigned after nearly five years with the American Heart Association. Hudson left to assume a teaching position at Paw Paw School in Paw Paw, W.Va.

Previously, Giffin served two-and-a-half years as a public relations assistant at Sacred Heart Hospital. In this position, she wrote press releases; developed advertisements for various hospital programs assisted in the development of the hospital's newsletters, brochures and magazines; served as liaison between the media and hospital officials; and was a member of the Sacred Heart Social Committee.

A graduate of West Virginia University, she has a bachelor of science degree in journalism with an emphasis in public relations.

During her college career, Giffin served as the treasurer and internship coordinator for

A native of Greenville, Pa., Giffin did her public relations internship for college at the American Cancer Society in Sharon, Pa.

Currently, Giffin is a member of St. Peter and St. Paul's Catholic Church and is enrolled in the M.B.A. program at Frostburg State University.

She and her husband, John, who manages Giffin's Outlet Store in Keyser, W.Va., reside in Cumberland.

Big Buck Contest Winner Named By Wildlife Club

The Garrett Community College Wildlife Club announced the winner of its second annual Big Buck contest this week. According to Kevin Dodge, advisor to the club, relatively few hunters paid the $5.00 entry fee to participate in the contest, but this provided better odds for those who did enter. Chris Spiker, Star Rt. 2, McHenry, bagged an 11-point, 112-pound (field-dressed) buck to capture the first place prize of $125.00. She was the only entrant to turn in a tag, so no second place prize was awarded.

Although disappointed with the light turnout, the Wildlife Club was still able to make money on the contest, thanks largely to a donation of $100 from Rosedale Auction and Firearms. Proceeds from the contest will be used to support the Wildlife Club, which sponsors field trips and other extracurricular activities that enrich the education of wildlife management students at Garrett Community College. Many of the funds from this contest will be used to help send students to Louisiana over spring break to tour a number of wildlife management areas, Dodge said.

The Wildlife Club thanked all participating hunters, and stated it hopes more will "join the scramble" for the prize money next fall. The student organization also expressed appreciation to those businesses that acted as collection points for the contest: Rosedale Auction and Firearms, Rosedale; Northcraft Sporting Goods, McHenry; Walt's General Store; Curt's Corner, Swanton; Buckel's Store, Bittinger; S&S Market, Friendsville; and Green Acres Garden Center, Oakland.

Students Make Decorations For Nursing Home

A fifth-grade class from Broad Ford Elementary School recently traveled to Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home to decorate for the holidays.

Ms. Debra Hinebaugh's class decorated the facility using only decorations that were handmade by the students of Broad Ford.

The decorations included paper chain elves made by Mrs. Virginia Sell's kindergarten class, scented door hangers made by Mrs. Deborah Wood's kindergarten class, and angels made by Mrs. Deborah Stuck's kindergarten class.

Paper chains were made by Mrs. Carole Giotfely's first-graders and Mrs. Charlotte Ward's second-graders.

Three classes participated in the making of Christmas cards: Ms. Suzanne Mitchell's second grade, Mrs. Azelma McGoldrick's third grade and Keith Harvey's fifth grade.

Mrs. Susan Hinebaugh's third graders made pictures and angels. Ms. Linda Davis' fourth graders made stained glass windows. Snowflakes were made by Ms. Sandra Wilson's fourth grade.

Ms. Hinebaugh's fifth graders made paper chains and wreaths, and some students made their own individual decorations to take to the nursing home.

After decorating, the students were given the opportunity to socialize with the patients in the nursing home. The students also entertained the residents with some Christmas carols.

STUDENTS DECORATE NURSING HOME — Debra Hinebaugh directs her fifth grade Broad Ford Elementary School students in a special project at the Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home in Oakland. All of the students at Broad Ford helped make Christmas decorations and then Ms. Hinebaugh's class went to the nursing home last Friday to hang them appropriately. The students also spent time visiting and socializing with the residents of the home.

Local "Santa" Receives Special Piece Of Mail

Lou Stouffer, better known in this area as "Santa Claus," received a special piece of overnight delivered mail this past Saturday.

The letter he received was from none other than President George Bush, extending special Christmas wishes to "Santa" and noting the "acts of goodness and generosity" performed by persons like Stouffer.

Stouffer has served the Preston/Garrett County area as a "real" Santa Claus for many years, collecting donated new and used toys throughout the year, repairing those that need repaired, and then delivering them to needy families in the area. He travels thousands of miles each year and begins his deliveries in November, working into the wee hours of several mornings as Christmas approaches.

His special work has received national media attention, including a special article in a hardback book by Norman Vincent Peale.

"I was really surprised to hear from the president," Stouffer said. "I know he sends out a lot of Christmas cards and letters, but I don't think he sends too many by overnight delivery."

He said that the letter would occupy a special spot on his wall.

Persons who still have toys, other gifts, or cash to donate to Stouffer's cause may leave such items at the T-Shirt Shack in Oakland.

Honor Student's Name Omitted

In the Honor Roll list for Northern Middle School, released last week in The Republican, the name of Dana Sweitzer was inadvertently omitted from the list by the school administration. Ms. Sweitzer was among those students named to the Distinguished Honor Roll for having earned straight A's. She is a member of Mrs. Warne's 8-E class.

Dana's name was also omitted from the Distinguished Honor Roll list after the first term Honor Roll was released earlier this fall. The administration expressed an apology to Dana for the omission.

SINCERE THANKS The Family Of LOUISE SINES wishes to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends, neighbors, and relatives who have stood so faithfully by our side since the death of our loving wife and mother. A special thanks to those who have sent flowers, donated to memorial funds, brought food, cleaned and sent cards. A heart felt thanks to those who came and stayed with us during those crucial hours.

We did not realize that the plain, simple Christian life that Louise lived had touched the lives of so many people. Although we don't completely understand, we do have that calm assurance that she is with the Lord and she will wait all her friends to meet her over there.

We wish to express our deep appreciation for those who have held us up in their prayers, to the throne of grace, and we solicit your continued prayers that we might live faithfully until the return of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

SANTA CLAUS TOWN

Over a hundred years ago a town in Indiana applied for a post office. They wanted their town to be called Santa Fe, but there already was a town in Indiana by that name. Since it was almost Christmas the people of the town decided to call it Santa Claus. The name was changed to Santa Claus in 1928. Since that time letters have been streaming in from all over the world. The number of post office workers have grown by leaps and bounds. In fact, a Santa Claus headquarters has long been maintained where thousands of visitors come to buy gifts and cards. You can well imagine that Santa Claus is in full uniform throughout the holidays for this is his own town.

Thomas E. Doyle Passes Bar Exam, Opens Law Office

An Oakland man was admitted to the Court of Appeals of Maryland on Monday as an attorney to practice law.

Thomas E. Doyle, who moved to Oakland in 1968 as a claims adjuster and established his own real estate business, will establish a general practice of law at his office located at 131 N. Third Street in Oakland.

Along with real estate, Doyle utilized his background from his family farm in Baltimore County and constructed homes and commercial buildings in the Oakland area over the past several years.

Doyle was educated in the Baltimore County school system and, following his high school graduation, joined the U.S. Army and served in Korea and Japan. He took college courses in Korea and, upon his return to Maryland, began attending night school while working and raising a family. He earned an associate of arts degree and a bachelor of law degree from the University of Baltimore. He began review courses in Baltimore in November of last year and then sat for the Maryland Bar Exam in July of this year, which he passed.

Two vehicles were involved in an accident which occurred Monday, December 11, near Chestnut Ridge Road and U.S. Rt. 48 around 8 p.m.

Walter Ross Hunter, 65, Windber, Pa., was east bound on an exit ramp from U.S. 40 with Wynetta Gohn, 64, Johnstown, Pa., in a 1987 Chrysler LeBaron when Hunter failed to stop at the stop sign. His vehicle entered Chestnut Ridge Road, striking a 1984 Chevy pick-up truck driven by Freddy Allen Dunlap, 29, Danville, W.Va., who was traveling south on Chestnut Ridge Road. Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded and transported Hunter and Gohn to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. Hunter was admitted with multiple fractures, and was released on December 14. Gohn was treated and released.

Cpl. R.V. Reed investigated the incident and Hunter was charged with failure to stop at a stop sign.

A Mysterious Doll

Christmas is ushered in early Christmas morning by the ringing of bells in the Philippines. After attending the church services, children form a floral procession, singing carols as they are led by a band.

After the landing of Magellan in 1521 at Cebu, it was found that the natives were worshipping a doll which they told had been mysteriously given them. The doll was of European workmanship and is believed to have been left by Magellan. The Augustinian friars built a church in which this image was carefully preserved.

Rotary Awards $11 Million To Fight Polio

More than $11.2 million in new and supplementary grants from Rotary's PolioPlus Program will help protect some 31.6 million children from polio, according to a release from Rotary International.

The trustees of The Rotary Foundation of Rotary International approved new PolioPlus grants for eight countries and extended Rotary's immunization support in five nations. With the grants approved at the trustees' October meeting, Rotary has now allocated $120.4 million to immunize some 509 million children in 90 countries.

The largest of the new grants was awarded to Ethiopia. The $2 million allocation will provide polio vaccine and support social mobilization and immunization training for the national effort to protect more than 5.6 million children. Other countries receiving first-time PolioPlus grants are: the Central African Republic ($327,000), Gabon ($123,200), Jordan ($380,000), Laos ($289,000), Oman ($147,500), the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen ($210,000), and Tunisia ($464,200).

More than $7.2 million in supplementary grants were awarded for PolioPlus Projects in Argentina, Bangladesh, Belize, Haiti, and Malawi.

Worldwide, Rotarians raised $230 million for the PolioPlus Program, designed to help eradicate polio and support immunization against other vaccine-preventable childhood diseases. The program is conducted in cooperation with the World Health Organization (WHO), UNICEF and national health authorities.

The World Health Assembly has set the goal to eradicate polio by the turn of the century and hopes are high for the disease to be eliminated in Latin America by the end of 1990.

WHO now estimates that more than two thirds of children in developing nations receive three doses of polio vaccine by their first birthday. In 1974, fewer than five percent were protected.

Rotary, founded in Chicago in 1905, is the world's first service club association. Its nearly 1.1 million business and professional leaders in 167 lands provide humanitarian service, promote high ethical standards in all vocations and foster good will and peace in the world.

support the NCADD awards gives us, which say in effect, we are on the right track with our program to control problem drivers."

Lawyers Provide $46 Million In Free Services

A recent survey of Maryland lawyers, conducted by the Maryland State Bar Association, reveals that close to $46 million worth of free legal services was donated by Maryland attorneys in the last twelve months. This conservative estimate, generated from preliminary survey results, encompasses free lawyer service given to individuals through legal service organizations, to individuals directly, to charitable groups and through court-related programs. This lawyer survey was part of the Maryland State Bar Association's "People's Pro Bono Campaign" launched last October to sign up volunteer lawyers for pro bono publico (free) legal service to help the state's poor, and to conduct an assessment to determine the current level of pro bono activity.

Although the Bar's campaign continues, preliminary findings indicate that both goals have been successfully met. Ninety-one percent of the 8,186 attorneys responding to the survey have volunteered for pro bono service, which means the Bar has already more than tripled the number of volunteer attorneys. Volunteers are still signing up and the Association is conducting telethons and forwarding reminders to all non-respondents. Maryland's volunteerism rate of 50 percent greatly exceeds the national average, as most bar associations report a 10 percent pro bono participation rate at best.

Other survey results indicate that over 1,000 attorneys have signed up in each of the following legal areas: uncontested domestic matters, adoption, landlord/tenant disputes, guardianship, and tort defense. Over 5,000 responses indicate a willingness to be trained in new legal areas where the demand of poor people is so great.

The purpose of this lawyer survey and campaign is to enhance the delivery of legal service to Maryland's poor citizens by increasing the number of volunteer lawyers. The Bar anticipates the number of volunteer attorneys to continue to rise, since the campaign for volunteers continues.

The MSBA is creating a new, non-profit corporation which will supply volunteer attorneys to numerous pro bono provider organizations, through a new hired statewide pro bono coordinator position.

The Maryland State Bar Association is a professional, non-profit voluntary membership association comprised of nearly 14,000 attorneys across the state of Maryland, which monitors judicial and legislative issues in the state, offers legal education opportunities and promotes leadership within the legal profession. MSBA says it develops and sponsors public service programs to ensure the delivery of quality legal services to all citizens and is committed to furthering the efficient administration of justice and equality for all under the law.

ARTWORK BY MOTHER NATURE — Although many may complain about the snow and cold, no one can dispute the fact that the fluffy stuff is often molded into incredible patterns of beauty. Others, such as skiers and snowmobilers, have been dancing in the streets recently in Garrett County, where the hills and plains have been blanketed by snow for the past three weeks. An additional foot of snow arrived this past week, with most of it falling on Tuesday. The weathermen predict a break from the sub-zero and single-digit temperatures, as highs for the next several days are expected to be in the 30s. The photo above was taken by Craig Phillips.

Fires Level Swallow Falls House, Gut Physician's Terra Alta House

A two-story wood frame house near Swallow Falls was leveled by fire Saturday night, apparently caused by a wood stove flue, and another blaze early Wednesday morning virtually destroyed the Terra Alta house of a Garrett County Memorial Hospital physician.

Oakland and Deep Creek volunteer fire fighters were summoned to the residence of the Gary Rodeheaver family, located just off Herrington Manor Road near Swallow Falls State Park, at 9:01 p.m. Saturday. Upon their arrival they found the structure fully involved in flames. Mr. and Mrs. Rodeheaver and their six-month-old son were reportedly out Christmas shopping at the time.

Also responding to the scene were the county air cascade vehicle, presently being housed at Friendsville VFD, the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, and Guy Carola, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, who determined that the fire originated in the area of a wood burning stove.

Carola said the house was owned by Milton DeWitt and as of this morning it was still unknown as to whether or not he had insurance on the house. Carola said that Rodeheaver did not have insurance on the contents. He estimated the loss to be $30,000.

An overheated furnace is believed to be the cause of the Wednesday morning fire that gutted the home of Dr. Roger Lewis, a Terra Alta and Oakland physician.

Dr. Lewis was reportedly awakened just after 2 a.m. by a banging sound. He arose to investigate and discovered the basement of the house full of smoke. He awoke the rest of the family and they all escaped unharmed.

Terra Alta firemen were alerted at 2:22 a.m. and called for assistance from the Oakland VFD, who sent units to stand by at Terra Alta's station. The house was fully involved in flames upon the arrival of the Terra Alta units.

Firemen remained on the scene for about two and one-half hours. A Presun County Communications Center spokesman said that the loss was estimated to be at least $150,000.

An Oakland man was arrested on five charges, including assault, reckless endangerment, and destruction of property, according to reports from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Bloodmobile To Visit Grantsville Next Wednesday

The Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross announced that there will be a bloodmobile visit on Wednesday, January 3, at the Grantsville Fire Hall. "The bloodmobile will collect blood from 12:30 until 5:30 p.m.," said Lela Bender, Grantsville Blood Service coordinator.

"The holidays always seem to drain our blood supply. There is an increased amount of transfusions over the holidays because so many people are on the road," she explained. "The amount of people on the road, combined with the inclement weather in our region leads to more auto accidents, making blood more precious than it would be during other times of the year."

Mrs. Bender went on to say that there can never be an overabundance of blood on the shelves. "When someone is in an accident, there is an immediate need for blood. If you think you could help by donating when you learn that someone you know has been in an accident, remember one thing — The blood needs to be on the shelf before the patient gets into the hospital," she cautioned.

Mrs. Bender also added that all blood types are needed this time of year in order to meet patient demands.

Two Men Killed In Separate Mishaps On Garrett County Roadways

Two fatalities occurred over the past week on Garrett County roads after a head-on collision on Rt. 560 and after a Cumberland man collided with the rear of a tractor-trailer on U.S. Rt. 48, according to reports filed by Maryland State Police.

Jack Ray Bittner, 52, Cumberland, was traveling on U.S. Rt. 48 near the Lower New Germany Road exit, when he apparently failed to reduce speed and collided with the rear of a tractor-trailer truck last Friday at 11:15 a.m.

Clinton Eugene Nickell, 52, Columbus, Ohio, was driving the tractor-trailer. He was taken to Cumberland Memorial Hospital by Medevac helicopter, where he was admitted and has since been released.

Bittner was pronounced dead at the hospital. The Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad and eastern Garrett and Grantsville firefighters responded to the scene.

Tfc. Paul Brown investigated. Eric Clayton Stemple, 31, St. George, W.Va., died after the car he was driving was struck head-on by a Mountain Lake Park man on Saturday night around 10:15.

Stemple was traveling south in a 1981 Subaru on Rt. 560, about three miles north of Gorman, when his vehicle was apparently struck head-on by a 1981 Dodge Omni driven by Mark Roy Fazanbaker, 22, Mountain Lake Park, who was traveling north and failed to keep right of the center line as he was rounding a turn. Both Fazanbaker and a passenger in the car, Pamela Ann Legeer, 18, Oakland, were reportedly ejected from the car.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and Gorman firefighters responded to the scene.

Stemple was transported to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead by Garrett County Medical Examiner Dr. Herbert Leighton.

Fazanbaker is listed in fair condition at Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, W.Va. Legeer was transported to Cumberland Memorial Hospital by Medevac helicopter, where she is listed in serious condition.

Tfc. David Broadwater and Cpl. Donald Maier investigated. Charges are pending after further investigation.

Head-On Collision on Rt. 219
William Wall, 76, Annapolis, was traveling west on Route 48 on Tuesday around 7 a.m., when he was apparently unable to see because of blinding snow and collided with the rear of a tractor-trailer. The tractor-trailer was driven by Ralph Mason Romburg, 59, Cumberland.

Northern Garrett County

Rescue Squad responded and Wall was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Cpl. R.V. Reid investigated. Wall was charged with failure to control speed and Romburg was charged with violating a tractor-trailer requirement.

Rt. 219 Collision
Two men were traveling in opposite directions on Rt. 219 on Tuesday afternoon around 1:30 p.m. when blinding snow caused one man to be unable to see and he crossed the center line, colliding with another man.

Thomas Allen Loop, 26, Elizabeth, Pa., was traveling south on Rt. 219, when his view was obstructed by blinding snow on icy roads. Loop crossed the center line, colliding with a Ford truck driven by Eugene Adam Wilt, 40, Rowlesburg, W.Va. Wilt swerved to the right to avoid the collision, but was unable to.

An Oakland business reportedly sustained a $1,500 loss from a theft that occurred earlier this month, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

A spokesperson for Oakland Machine Company recently reported the mid-December theft of 60-80 feet of mine insulated copper cable from a piece of mine equipment. According to Deputy C.C. Feller the investigation is continuing.

According to Corporal L.E. Gnevy, over $200 in items were removed from the residence December 20. Some missing items include flashlight battery chargers, fire extinguishers, a man's sweater, a brown jacket, and a Nintendo computer game.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department has requested that persons with any information regarding this breaking, entering and theft contact their office at 334-1911.

Ervin Allen Grove, Westernport, reported the November 22 theft of his cow. The 1,000 to 1,200 pound animal was valued at $300. The cow was a Hereford, five to six years old. According to Deputy D.C. Welch, the incident is still under investigation.

Judging of the 23 entries was based on originality, participation and creativity. (See story for more details.)

A NEW MAMMOGRAPHY UNIT — A ribbon cutting ceremony was held last Thursday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital to dedicate the newly purchased mammography unit there. The machine is used for the early detection of breast cancer, and the new 115 XRE Dedicated Mammography System purchased by the GCMH Foundation at a cost of approximately $38,000, is designed for high-quality imaging with low-radiation dosage, according to Hospital Administrator Larry M. Beck. The new unit is housed in a renovated room to be used specifically for mammography and allows for easier, more comfortable patient positioning, enhancing image quality and reducing exam time. Space is also allocated for the viewing of videos on breast health and early cancer detection. Pictured above, left to right, are Mary Norwisch, radiologist, Beck, Carol Barkeridge, radiologist, Jacqueline Shirer, Board of Governors and Foundation member, Dr. Charles P. Accidental Discovery May End Obesity

Suppresses calorie absorption
SWEDEN: Medical researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, have discovered (accidentally) a new weight-loss formula. The new discovery appears to enable an overweight individual to lose pounds and fatty tissue without conventional dieting or exercise.

Scientists made the discovery while searching for a form—a so-called cholesterol. In a study of a test group of people, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but the doctors were astounded to find that every patient who used the formula lost weight. The published report of this study stated, "A highly significant decrease in body weight was seen" in patients who received the formula.

The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits." One patient in this study lost more than 50 pounds.

According to one informed source, the active ingredient comes from a 100% natural botanical source and contains no drugs or stimulants. When taken before meals, it binds with the food you eat and "lies up" calories, especially those from fats, suppressing their absorption. A significant portion of the calories ingested therefore pass through the digestive system unabsorbed. The body has to get energy to replace the lost calories, so it starts to burn stored fat, which can result in rapid body weight loss. Clinical testing has verified the safety of this formula for long term use.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida, has exclusive North American distribution rights. A review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Cal-Ban 3000 is reasonably priced at $19.95 for a 3-week supply and $38.95 for a 6-week supply. Postage and handling is $3. VISA, M/C, AMEX and COD orders are accepted. To order call TOLL FREE 1-800-537-3723 or purchase locally at a drugstore or pharmacy, 205 E. Alder, Oakland, MD.

Call today to begin the pleasant transformation from fat and flab to the slender firm body you want! If you fail to achieve a major weight loss you may return the empty bottle within 30 days for a 100% refund.

Goldstein Notes

Two Options For Estimated Payers

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reminds the nearly 200,000 Maryland taxpayers who make quarterly estimated income tax payments that they have two options in filing final estimated tax payments for 1989.

Taxpayers may submit a fourth quarter declaration of estimated tax payment by Tuesday, January 16, 1990 — or they can wait and file a complete 1989 Maryland income tax return on or before Wednesday, January 31, 1990.

"Any balance due must be paid in full when filing the regular return," Goldstein said.

Generally, taxpayers who earn income which is not subject to withholding should be filing quarterly declarations of estimated tax if their state and local tax is expected to be more than $100.

In order to avoid interest charges, taxpayers must pay either 90% of their total 1989 Maryland income tax liability or 100% of their total 1988 Maryland income tax liability through employer withholding or estimated tax payments.

"Many taxpayers also like to pay their state estimated tax payment before December 31 each year so they can claim that payment as an itemized deduction on their federal income tax return."

One Minute Good Reading, One Hour Good Meditation

Some Christians who should be on the frontlines are still in basic training.

Those who bless God in their trials will be blessed by God through their trials.

Reasons that sound good aren't always good sound reasons.

The closer Christians get to Christ, the closer they get to one another.

Train up a child in the way he should go, but be sure you go that way yourself.

Man-Made Sanctuary . . .

The manhunt for Panama's General Manuel Noriega is over; however, he remains just out of the grip of U.S. troops, having received sanctuary inside the Vatican embassy in Panama City. His actions have placed the Vatican leaders in a difficult position as they now basically hold Noriega's fate in their hands.

What should the Vatican do? They hopefully will ask Noriega to leave, but suppose he refuses? If they allow the U.S. troops to come in and seize him, won't that violate the long-standing sanctuary "rule" of the Roman Catholic Church? Even though Noriega is in an embassy and not a church, the same rule applies. If they protect him indefinitely, is that not the same as supporting Satan himself?

We have to question whether or not all criminals, no matter what the crime, no matter what the situation, should be allowed sanctuary in any church, be it Roman Catholic or any other denomination. We see this whole matter of sanctuary as a man-made, and not a God-made, policy. We recall no scriptural justification of such a rule. If society is to function in a civilized manner, then there must be laws, there must be enforcement, and there must be punishment. Forgiveness is something that is granted by God and can be granted by individual human beings, but cannot be granted by society in general.

Noriega is an alleged murderer, drug dealer, and God only knows what else, and there seems to be plenty of evidence to prove his guilt. He is a self-proclaimed enemy of the church and went to the Vatican embassy simply in an attempt to save his own skin. He is certainly not there to confess his sins to the monsignor or to convert to Christianity.

We would rather see Noriega turned over to the new Panamanian authorities than brought to this country to stand trial. There are too many delays and too many appeal avenues in our judicial system. Plus, we believe that acts of terrorism in this country by Noriega supporters would be a real possibility. We suspect that Panama's justice will be far swifter and virtually free of red tape. After all, it is the Panamanian people who have really been victimized by Noriega.

By the way — Happy New Year.

To the Editor:

My purpose for writing is not so much to express disagreement with your editorial position of December 21, 1989, but to express disappointment with its superficial treatment of very complex social, political, and economic relationships which led to military action by the United States in Panama.

Decades, even centuries, of economic exploitation in Central American nations have worked to sustain our high standard living in the United States, but the high standard has come at a high price. It has created a "culture of dependency" in Central America not unlike the dependency created by economic welfare legislation in our own land. Subsequently, it has created the adolescent raging of dictators like Manuel Noriega and Daniel Ortega, who seek independence from political and economic relationships that have destroyed the pride and dignity of the diverse and beautiful people of Central and South America. Lastly, and tragically, it has led to the deaths of young men and women.

In no way do I suggest here that Manuel Noriega is without blame. In fact, he is a criminal and a dictator who should be brought to justice. But, at the same time, the right of all people for self-determination is a primary issue as our country relates to our southern neighbors. To the extent that the Soviet Union and the United States persist in destroying the dignity of people and nations for economic and political gain, these same people and nations will harbor in their hearts a desire, tiny though they be, to knock the bully down.

Finally, liking Christ with the United States and the devil with the leader of Panama, as you have done, fans the patriotic fire and surely sells more newspapers, but it fails to highlight the ubiquitous nature of the demonic force in the world. In short, your theological stance of December 21, 1989 failed to address the sinful participation of the United States and the Soviet Union in the underlying circumstances that have created economic "dependency cultures" in our world, and such pathetic and sick regimes as the one Manuel Noriega once led.

It is my hope that President Bush will stand against the long tradition of American leadership that has viewed the people equal and special to and before God.

Respectfully yours,
Douglas M. Heagy

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

by Governor William Donald Schaefer

The start of a new year is a great time. It's a time of hope. It's a time of new beginnings. Time to get a new start. We all make resolutions at this time of year. We promise ourselves to do better and to reach certain goals. Like everyone else, I always make a few New Year's resolutions. I would like to share them with you.

First of all, I resolve to get caught up on my correspondence. This is a resolution I make every year. I get a lot of mail — about 100,000 letters a year from people all over Maryland. They write to tell me what they like — or don't like — about what I'm doing. I like to get mail and I try to answer every letter as quickly as I can. But sometimes I get behind.

Another resolution I am going to make for 1990 is do whatever I can each day to help clean up the Chesapeake Bay. I am going to try to save water, follow directions when using pesticides and be more careful about getting rid of household products like paint or cleaners.

This is a resolution I would like everyone in Maryland to make for the coming year. We have a campaign to sign up One Million Marylanders to help us restore and protect the Bay. We should all resolve that 1990 is the year we all get personally involved in the cleanup of the Chesapeake Bay.

I also resolve to develop good habits about recycling of waste. We all need to be more conscious of how we dispose of paper, cans and glass.

There's another resolution that everyone in Maryland should make. We should all resolve that 1990 is the year we start to reverse the scourge of drugs in Maryland. We all have a role in the fight against drugs. We will continue our aggressive law enforcement effort. We will start new education and treatment programs. And we will create more Drug Free School Zones.

These are the main points of the report of the Governor's Commission on Drug and Alcohol Abuse and I need the support of every Marylander if we are to succeed in the war against drugs.

You are going to hear more about this resolution when the General Assembly convenes in January. We are going to press very hard for laws aimed at people who use drugs. Last year we went after the drug dealers. This year we are going after the drug users.

I also resolve to attend the Orioles' first division playoff game in 1990 and to be there for the first game of the World Series in Baltimore.

I resolve to resist any and all efforts to have some other song replace the Star-Spangled Banner as our national anthem. The Star-Spangled Banner has been part of our national heritage for 175 years and there is absolutely no reason to change that.

I resolve to listen more closely to the people of Maryland — especially the young people. I want to know what steps we can take now to make their futures in Maryland as bright as possible. When the new year starts, it will also bring us into a new decade. We need to think about what life will be like in Maryland at the end of that decade. Only if we lay the ground work now will we have the kind of future we want in the years to come.

I resolve to visit every corner of this great state. I want to see the exciting progress of our towns and cities and talk to the mayors, commissioners and community leaders who are making it happen.

Finally, I resolve to spend more time in Ocean City, to go fishing on the bay, to see more of the many historic sites and wonderful little museums we have in Maryland and to attend the 1990 Rockey Gap Music Festival. Maryland is such a great place for recreation, I ought to take more advantage of it.

Some people say New Year's resolutions are made to be broken. I don't believe that. I really intend to keep mine. If you have some good resolutions you intend to keep, or some you think I should consider, please write to me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

A DECADE OF CHANGE

The Mind Wanders

Christmas Passed
by Pam Ashby

Joy to the world. Christmas day has passed and I just found my daughter's new boots stashed behind my bedroom door. They were to have been one of her "biggies" under the Christmas tree three days ago.

Isn't it refreshing to learn that I haven't changed much since the last column I wrote nearly 18 months ago?

Oh sure, now I'm a nursing assistant working my way through nursing school at the tender age of 38, but I still have so many stories to tell. In the inner recesses of my soul, I know nursing is to be my vocation, but taking away my pen is like severing my right hand. Hence, a versed nurse?

So when my sister, Sherry, mentioned how difficult it was to come up with a fresh topic for this space every week, I half-jokingly inquired, "Want me to share it with you?" she agreed. The editor agreed. I'm back.

Anyway, I was talking about post-Christmas, wasn't I? I'm rather glad Christmas is over, with all the hustle and bustle. Maybe now I'll have some time to bake Christmas cookies, address Christmas cards, finish decorating and wrap those darn boots.

Besides, Christmas day was somewhat of a blur to me so I'm leaning toward doing it over properly in a few weeks.

Martyr that I am (and because I was scheduled to do so), I worked the night shift in OB on Christmas eve. At 5:30 a.m. I said to the nurse, "Well, it looks as though we're not going to have a Christmas baby on our shift." At that very moment the phone rang. The nurse grinned from ear to ear and said, "Pam, grab the wheelchair and go down to the front desk to pick up Diane Frantz." I practically flew to the first floor. Diane is my sister-in-law.

Even though my shift was to be over by 7 a.m., I stayed in the birthing room until 7:30 a.m. Then I made my brother promise to call when "things" really got moving. I wanted to see this Christmas baby born, but I also wanted to be home with my family for the unwrapping of gifts.

I made it back to the hospital 10 minutes after Jon Samuel Frantz was born, just in time to help my brother bathe his new son, my new nephew, our Christmas baby.

At about 11:30 a.m. I fell into bed exhausted, but vowing to be awake by 2 p.m. to help Mom with Christmas dinner. I awakened at 3:10 p.m. feeling a lot like the grinch. I was sick and had been too busy to admit how rotten I felt, but Mom was counting on our family to be there. Her dinner was so colorful and looked delicious, but the only compliment I could muster (my taste buds were dead) was, "The texture's nice, Mom."

The last thing I remember that day was drowsily looking into my husband's eyes and mumbling, "Is it almost Christmas?"

"Yes, honey, it's almost Christmas," he smiled as he tucked the quilt around my shivering, fevered body.

Members of GOBA:
Season's Greetings from your friends at GOBA.

Nineteen-hundred-eighty-nine has been the best year ever for the Greater Oakland Business Association. The individual pride shows in our local businesses and nobody in Garrett County has prettier parking meters!

Your $50 dues of last year helped to bring the circus to the area and what a great time that was for all. Your money also supported the beautiful street decorations throughout the year and helped to light the largest Christmas tree in the area.

Your donation is more than another obligation. It represents a pledge, a spirit, a voice in how the area is doing. All of the money gets put back into this area and not on administrative salaries or travel expenses.

Nineteen-hundred-ninety will be a unique challenge for all of us. We will see our first good look at Oakland becoming a Commercial District Management Authority. The CDMA will help us obtain grants and provide low cost financing for those Higher education: 'moving in reverse'

BALTIMORE — This has been a bad year for Maryland higher education.

It started out with a tumultuous behind-the-scenes struggle between the University of Maryland's chancellor and board chairman. It is ending with an equally tenacious behind-the-scenes struggle between UM's new interim chancellor and the chairman of the Maryland Higher Education Commission.

Spaced between these two events have been traumatic upheavals that were bloody and lethal. Out of all this comes little for which to rejoice. If anything, higher education in Maryland ends the year in a bigger quagmire than ever.

Here's what was supposed to happen: Governor Schaefer, dissatisfied with the state of public colleges in Maryland, put his muscle behind a reorganization of higher education in 1988.

Two boards were to bring focus to academics. They were supposed to knock heads and make tough decisions that would create a more rational setup.

Peter O'Malley, a former UM chairman and a savvy political strategist, handpicked UM's new regents. He was to provide the impetus for change as its chairman.

That involved a series of difficult objectives: loosening Chancellor John Toll's stranglehold on the board of regents; developing a consensus for reform among members of the new board, and zeroing in on ways to upgrade higher education, especially in the Baltimore and Washington suburbs.

The Toll-O'Malley imbroglio dragged on until summer's end, when the chancellor finally left. By the time the regents started focusing on the fate of individual campuses, they were in a sprint to complete work by Oct. 1.

This rush led to Mr. O'Malley's fatal blunder: he tried to push too quickly for a sweeping three-campus Baltimore merger, well before he had gained a firm foundation of support from key educators and politicians.

The result: the president-designate of one campus quit, politically manipulative academics pointed an accusing finger at Mr. O'Malley for being too politically manipulative and Mr. O'Malley gave the academics what they wanted: his head.

His resignation from the board left the regents rudderless. He had been the driving force behind the board. Now the panel is drifting listlessly, unwilling to offend academics or resume serious consideration of what ails UM.

Meanwhile, the other education board, with the ungainly acronym of MHEC, began flexing its muscles.

The commission's chairman, J. Henry Butta, is a hard-driving corporate CEO who wants to be the one to dictate higher-education changes. He has clashed repeatedly with UM's interim chancellor, Dolph Norton, over who should call the shots on campus budgets, planning and determining strategy.

As Mr. Norton is discovering, Maryland-style higher education is a mine field even for the most skilled educators. Not only is it a political football for each campus' vocal constituency, but the Schaefer-inspired restructuring has made matters worse by imposing two governing boards on the campuses. It is a Rubik's Cube creation seemingly designed to spawn eternal stress.

So where does higher education stand on this New Year's Eve?

MHEC is searching for its proper role.

Acting UM Chancellor Norton is attempting to bring a semblance of order to this jumble before he leaves in mid-1990.

And each campus is scrambling to be first in line for a bigger slice of the financial pie, regardless of what's best for the overall structure.

If that sounds like déjà vu, it is. Higher education in Maryland seems to be moving in reverse. It's "back to the future" for the academic knights of this Quixotic roundtable.

A Look Back at the 1980s

The onset of the 1990s is a good time to take a look back at what suddenly has become part of our heritage: the 1980s.

America of the '80s was the Ronald Reagan era. The former California governor swept into the White House on a wave of patriotism in 1980 and didn't sweep out again until 1988, when his vice president, George Bush, became heir to the Reagan legacy.

During the '80s, America showed its strength as a peacetime nation. Through the Iranian hostage crisis, a failed assassination attempt on our president, the terrorist bombing in Beirut of the U.S. Marine barracks, the Challenger explosion, Hurricane Hugo and the San Francisco earthquake, the country stood together.

Women also stood together, and America took note. First for women in the '80s—Sandra Day O'Connor became the first female Supreme Court justice, and U.S. Rep. Geraldine Ferraro became the first woman vice presidential candidate to run on a major party presidential ticket.

In the music world, Madonna became the first woman to sell more than 5 million copies of an album, inspiring teen-age "wannabes" nationwide who imitated their idol's dress and attitude. Other musicians rising to superstar status included the one-gloved, moonwalking "Thriller," Michael Jackson, and "Born in the U.S.A." Bruce Springsteen.

The motion picture industry had its biggest decade ever with box office smashes like "E.T.," the Indiana Jones trilogy, "Back to the Future," "Ghostbusters" and "Batman." Did we forget a movie? That's OK, because in the '80s, VCRs allowed everyone to catch the ones they missed at theaters in the comfort of their own homes.

And the '80s saw scandals galore. Televangelists fell from grace. U.S. Sen. Gary Hart retired from the presidential primary after too much "Monkey Business." America couldn't decide if Oliver North was a villain or hero in the Iran-Contra affair. And "Black Monday," insider trading on Wall Street and the collapse of savings and loan institutions nationwide left America jittery about our financial future.

The decade also saw many notable anniversaries and birthdays. We celebrated 200 years of the Constitution. The Statue of Liberty turned 100. Mickey Mouse turned 60. Superman turned 50. And the 20th anniversary of Woodstock found many of the original "love-in" participants in the role they most loathed in 1969—the starched-shirt executive.

These "baby boomers" were turning 40 and raising families of their own. As their children played with Cabbage Patch dolls, Nintendo and Transformers, and watched MTV, they played with personal computers, compact disc players and car phones. And "microwavable" was becoming synonymous with "home cooking."

Life was not all that simple in America in the 1980s. We faced record homelessness, the spread of AIDS and a growing problem with drugs. But as the '80s drew to a close, superpowers leaders U.S. President George Bush and Soviet General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev met in Malta. Their historic "summit at sea" reminded Americans that we remain the model of freedom in a fast-changing world that recently witnessed the fall of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of communist governments across Eastern Europe.
